Will Rogers Remarks:

BEVERLY HILLS, Feb. 18 [To the Editor of The Times:] You would have thought it was a Presidential year, the hearty welcome California gave to "Cantankerous Calvin" and "Gracious Grace," and I am certainly going to see that he don't make the mistake of not shaking hands with Hiram Johnson, or even anything that looks like Hiram. I haven't seen him myself yet. I am waiting till he gets rid of this mess of Republican politicians who are trying to kid him (fat chance they got.) I have some news for him from his friend Morrow in London. He is not going to make any speeches while here, so I hereby offer my servicer to him as pinch hitter on any and all oratorical occasions. The service is gratis, which might be an inducement.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

EL CENTRO, Feb. 18. (AP)—Mark Lose, director of the Imperial Valley Irrigation District, said today that at last week's conference with the Metropolitan Water Board of Los Angeles on division of water from Boulder Dam the Imperial body agreed to offer Los Angeles 550,000 acre feet of water to meet its needs.

The information, first definite news of the proceedings of the conference, was disclosed as a result of the demand of President Sam Robinson and Manager Scott Foulds of the Imperial Valley County Farm Bureau that the district abandon its claim to all of the water allo-

FIERY BLAST KILLS FIVE

Sixty Injured in Gas Explosion

Many May Lose Eyesight by Facial Burns Incurred; Hospitals Overflow

ELIZABETH (N. J.) Feb. 18. (AP) Five men were killed and sixty injured, more than a score critically, in a gas explosion late today at the Bayway refining plant of the Standard Oil Company. Most of the injured were burned about the face and hands, and doctors feared some will lose their eyesight.

A brief statement by J. Raymond Carrigen, general manager of the plant, said the blast was caused by the rupture of "a gas line." A number of the injured men reported seeing a "blue vapor" escaping from the alcohol plant before the sheet of flame enveloped them.

"EVERYBODY AFIRE"

Most of those injured were bricklayers, pipe fitters and carpenters, working on a building under construction a scant two feet from the alcohol plant. None could tell what happened. One man said he turned at the sound of the explosion to see "everybody afire," and "running or falling from the scaffolds." In addition to burns, several of the injured suffered broken bones.

Of the dead, four were identified. These were Domineck Bioni, William Casey and John Lubas, all of Elizabeth, and William Duffy of Bayonne. Two of the men were trapped in the alcohol plant, and the body of one was taken out later in the position in which it was found—on hands and knees.

HOSPITALS FILLED

Every available ambulance from the city's three hospitals went to the plant, about a mile beyond the outskirts of Elizabeth, when word of the accident spread.

Every room and corridor in the Elizabeth General and St. Elizabeth's became an emergency ward. Within an hour, the doors of both institutions were stormed by relatives of the dead and injured.

The explosion came about an hour before quitting time for the men working in the new building. One of the men believed the gas would have been carried away by the wind if it had not reached a forge full of glowing coals used for heating rivets.

FLAMES EXTINGUISHED

The plant from which the gas came, a one-story brick affair, containing distilling apparatus and vats of acid and alcohol, seemed little affected by the blasts and fire. Four tool sheds near by were destroyed. The fire department of the Standard Oil Company extinguished the flames within half an hour after the explosion, while the work of carrying out the injured went on.

One man, who told of working forty-six years in oil refineries, said the scene was the worst he had ever seen. "I don't know what happened and probably no one else does," he said, adding his belief that he was the only man in the vicinity to escape unharmed.

And the injured who could speak were agreed that three explosions came in rapid succession. They knew little else, beyond the fact that "sheets of flame seemed to be flying in all directions and at everybody."

Election Loser Routs Mayor of Mexican Town

PUEBLA (Mex.) Feb. 18. (AP)—Driven out of the municipal building by his defeated opponent, Luis Salgado, Mayor of Teziutlan, a small town in this State, established headquarters at a local hotel only to be surrounded and besieged by other friends of his opponent. Four of his supporters were injured gravely.

So far as is known here Senor Salgado and his group still are in the hotel.

Three towns in this State have refused to accept the municipal governments recognized by the State Legislature. In two of the towns, Teziutlan and Zacatlan, the citizenry is said to be in open rebellion against the State authorities. Libres is the third of the towns.

Armed intervention is being considered.

Massachusetts Ex-Governor to Run for Senate

SALEM (Mass.) Feb. 18. (AP)—Former Gov. Alvan T. Fuller "fully expects to be a candidate for the United States Senate," he said tonight in a telegram received by Joseph L. Simon, chairman of the Republican city committee.

The message was in answer to Simon's query yesterday regarding Fuller's intentions of becoming a candidate.

SHIP NEARS BAY OF WHALES

Byrd Expedition Party Expected to be Loaded and on Way Home Some Time Today

BY RUSSELL OWEN

LITTLE AMERICA (Antarctica) Feb. 18. (Exclusive)—The City of New York was expected to reach the Bay of Whales some time tonight. She has had a good passage along the face of the barrier and at 3 o'clock this morning passed Discovery Inlet. Late tonight the ship was reported in sight of the bay, and was expected here by midnight (Los Angeles time.) Loading was to begin at once and the Byrd expedition will set sail for home tomorrow afternoon.

The last packing and sledging was being done today and by 6 o'clock tonight the camp was practically deserted with all but two men on the west side of the bay where the ship will dock. Fortunately, the wind is from the southwest, in the most favorable quarter for the operation of loading, as the ship can lie against the barrier in the lee of the western side of the bay. One of the most difficult operations of the last few days has been packing records and materials so that they would not be injured by water if the ship meets with rough weather on the way home, as is very likely.

The scientific records have been packed carefully and one of the most interesting jobs of packing has been that of the motion-picture films. These have been through more hazards than any film ever before transported. They were brought down here through the tropics, kept a year in varying temperatures ranging far below zero and have now got to go back through dampness and the tropic heat before they are developed. To protect them against this men worked for days soldering them in boxes.

FILM CAREFULLY PACKED

The boxes contain more than 100,000 feet of film and about 40,000 went back last year. They contain a complete record of the expedition and for that reason have been carefully safeguarded. Not only were they wrapped in separate tins which were taped but these tins containing 200 feet were put in a special zinc box, which was soldered and then placed in wooden boxes lined with insulating material.

Most of the other records were packed almost as carefully, although greater care had to be exercised to

RUM SEIZED IN VICINITY OF CAPITOL

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18. (AP)—George L. Cassidy, known as the "man in the green hat" who has been accused of carrying liquor into the House and Senate office buildings, was arrested again today near the Capitol and a charge of possession placed against him. He was released under $2000 bond. Cassidy said he is a "victim of a frame-up."

The "man in the green hat" was taken into custody with Thomas Grately of Baltimore, 65 years of age. Six pints of gin were seized.

Through his attorney, Cassidy stated he had no liquor in his possession and that the bottles were found on Grately, whom, Cassidy said, he does not know. Police, however, insisted the two were together. At the time of his arrest the "man in the green hat" was at liberty under a bond of $2000 on an earlier charge of possession and transporting liquor.

PILOT SETS SPEED MARKS

Lee Schoenhair in Lockheed-Vega Races to Two New Records Over Course in Florida

JACKSONVILLE BEACH (Fla.) Feb. 18. (AP)—Lee Schoenhair, veteran pilot of Akron, O., today shattered the world's airplane speed record for distances of 100 and 500 kilometers with an added weight of 500 kilograms, equal to 1102 pounds.

In establishing a new record for 100 kilometers, equivalent to approximately sixty-two miles, Schoenhair negotiated the course at an average speed of 185.452 miles an hour. This exceeded by 10.79 miles an hour the former record of 174.662 established by Fernand Lasne at Etamps, France, October 7, 1925.

ANOTHER MARK

Schoenhair's average speed over the 500-kilometer course, with the same added weight, was 171.228 miles an hour, which surpassed by 12.572 miles an hour the former record of 158.656 set by Capt. H. S. Broad at Stag Island, Reading, Eng., April 27, 1928.

The purpose of the trials, Schoenhair said, was to prove the feasibility of developing high speed passenger airplanes, capable of transporting considerable weight. His monoplane, of the cabin type, is capable of carrying six persons.

DOOR BLOWS OPEN

Shortly after Schoenhair took off from the Municipal Airport at Jacksonville a door on the plane blew open. High tide at the beach prevented him from landing here and he was forced to fly the entire route with the door open. He estimated that the air resistance reduced his speed approximately ten miles an hour.

Schoenhair's trials are being supervised by the National Aeronau-

OIL SHIPS FIGHT OFF BRIGANDS

American Naval Guards Repel Chinese Bandits With Machine Guns

SHANGHAI, Feb. 18. (AP)—American naval guards, placed aboard two steamers of the Standard Oil Company of New York as a precaution against bandits, foiled attempts of brigands to take the vessels 150 miles above Ichang on the Yangtse River yesterday.

Dispatches reaching here today said the American guards silenced the bandit attack with machine gun fire. No mention was made of any casualties. A wave of banditry which has continued for many months recently was described as serious. Seizure of twelve ships chartered by the Standard Oil Company at Canton was reported last Friday. The vessels, all Chinese junks carrying $50,000 worth of oil, were said to have been held for ransom. The American Consul has protested to Canton authorities.

Skipper Alone Remains Aboard Admiral Benson

FORT CANBY (Wash.) Feb. 18. (AP)—Capt. Charles Graham, skipper of the Admiral Benson, which grounded on Peacock Spit, off the mouth of the Columbia River, Saturday night in a dense fog, remained alone aboard the stranded craft today.

Rescuers Dig to Save Pair

LETHBRIDGE (Alberta) Feb. 18. (AP)—Rescue parties today were digging into the Greenhill mine at Blairmore in an attempt to rescue two miners trapped by a heavy fall of rock.

Faint tapping, barely audible to the rescue crews, indicated the imprisoned men, trapped since yesterday, are still alive.

Invalid Woman Burns to Death

SMITHFIELD (Tex.) Feb. 18. (AP) Mrs. Lora B. Buckworth, 76-year-old invalid, was burned to death today in a fire believed to have started from an explosion of an oil stove in her room.

Five buildings were destroyed by the fire and three men were injured attempting to rescue the woman.

HOOVER CALLS ON SENATE TO SPEED UP LEGISLATION

BY LAURENCE M. BENEDICT
"Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18. (Exclusive)—A large share of responsibility for retarded recovery of the nation's business was laid at the door of the Senate today by President Hoover and administration leaders who met with him at a White House breakfast conference to discuss the long delay in enactment of the tariff bill, the unprecedented legislative jam that promises to result, and the uncertainty which the whole situation has thrown into the business world.

Although no formal statement was issued, it was emphasized at the White House following the conference that the business situation in an abnormal period such as still exists to some extent as the result of last fall's stock market collapse, is keenly sensitive to legislative developments, and that the dilly-dallying of the Senate on a measure of such fundamental economic weight as the tariff has a tendency to slow up complete recovery.

NO APPEAL PLANNED

Although the President talked matters over with his trusted lieutenants of the capital, no definite plan of action was agreed on and it was authoritatively stated that Mr. Hoover does not intend to "appeal to the country" over the heads of Congress as has been suggested, or indulge in any other theatricals or brandishments of the "big stick."

On the contrary the sense of the breakfast parley apparently was that any public statement by the President seeking to force the Senate into acceleration on the tariff would only provoke two or three weeks more of futile debate, and thus lengthen the delay. It was decided, in short, that there is nothing the President, Republican leaders, or any other force can do to speed up action so long as the Democratic and Republican insurgent coalition has the whip hand and is running things.

All that suggested itself at the conference was a little more quiet effort at co-operation and expedition on the part of Republican leaders and this was the net result of the meeting. Nevertheless political observers tonight expect definite reaction throughout the country to the President's views, particularly to the feeling at the White House that the Senate is holding back the recovery of business. However, it is granted that in so far as the Senate itself is concerned the Executive's attitude may only widen the breach between the administration and the coalition forces which have the tariff bill in control.

BORAH WANTS TIME

Senator Borah of Idaho, one of the Republican leaders of the coalition, indicated tonight that he does not propose to be rushed into early action on the tariff simply to save time, which, in his opinion, is of negligible importance.

"I have no doubt," he said, "that there is a feeling of impatience in the country, but with a bill that has 21,000 items in it and about 20,000 that ought not to be in it, time is needed. Time is not nearly so important as to have a good bill when it is passed."

President Hoover called to the White House breakfast conference Senator Watson of Indiana, Republican leader of the Senate; the assistant Senate leader, Senator McNary of Oregon; Speaker Longworth, Representative Tilson of Connecticut, Republican floor leader of the House, and Representative Snell of New York, chairman of the House Rules Committee. It was the Executive's first check-up on the legislative situation since his return from the Florida fishing trip.

The House leaders told him that the completion of the legislative program depends on the Senate, that there is little sense in their branch passing more bills only to have them pile up on the Senate side, that the House is "all dressed up with no place to go," to use Speaker Longworth's own words.

COALITION RULES

Watson and McNary, for the Senate, could offer nothing except the obvious observation that there is no way of checking the coalition's

United States Chamber Chief Says Conditions on Upgrade, Good Times Ahead

Americans' Common Sense and Nerve Complimented in Optimistic Review

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18. (Exclusive)—Business conditions are continuing rapidly to improve, according to Julius H. Barnes, president of the United States Chamber of Commerce and chairman of the President's national business survey.

Mr. Barnes this afternoon issued a statement based on latest reports from all sections of the nation on the business situation and declared these reports encouraging with the danger of a prolonged depression apparently ended. "Business," he said, "is on the upgrade and we are rapidly approaching the time for the ordinary revival of outdoor work which will further accelerate progress.

"The shock of the deflation in security prices has largely been absorbed in three months. The danger of a long depression appears fairly over, with every evidence of early renewal of the normal onward march of living standards and business progress.

COMMON SENSE PRAISED

"We do not need to detail the reassuring factors that became manifest even two months ago, because today business reviews, economists and business leaders are speaking with confidence and on a growing record of business recovery.

"This improvement became possible because of the collective common sense, the courage and enterprise of all kinds of Americans, in business and out. We do, however, need to continue to apply these qualities especially for the next few weeks. Careful planning and co-operation can improve buying power still further and can help to relieve individual hardship. Three months is a short period in the evolution of business, but a long time to the worker out of a job, even if he has accumulated savings.

"Large business units are doing their part daily to help. The railroads, the public utilities, the steel industry and others have increased and speeded up their construction plans. Reports coming in from business establishments disclose also that they generally are following through the suggestion of the business survey conference that until outdoor construction generally can get under way they can assist by advancing within prudent judgment all necessary repairs, improvements, betterments, etc., of both normal and emergency character. Home owners, too, can help by doing needed work now so that men

OUTSIDE LOOP RECORD SET

St. Louis Flyer Performs Stunt With Passenger; Automatic Pilot Tested in Long Flight

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 18. (AP)—An outside loop with a plane carrying a passenger was performed today for the first time in aerobatic history.

Phil Love, well-known St. Louis flyer, accomplished the feat when he successfully completed three outside loops with Eugene Stevens of Tallulah, La.

The pair, classmates once in the army flying school at Kelly Field, Texas, took off unannounced from Lambert Field and performed the unprecedented feat before a small group of visitors here for the international aircraft exposition.

Love explained after the flight that they "merely wanted to test the capabilities of their plane in inverted flight with an overload." Stevens weighs 200 pounds.

TWO LOOPS RAGGED

The feat was executed in a taperwing Waco biplane, powered with a Wright J-6 seven-cylinder engine.

Stevens said he experienced no ill effects during the flight, but felt "an unusual warmness about the temples and extreme air pressure against my head."

"The first two outside loops," Love admitted later, "were a bit ragged, but the third was perfect."

The first outside loop ever performed in an airplane is credited to Lieut. James Doolittle, recently resigned army flyer.

It was reported at the airport that Charles (Speed) Holman, stunt flyer and first man to fly a Ford trimotored monoplane in inverted flight, will attempt a new record for outside loops, unaccompanied, tomorrow.

AUTOMATIC PILOT

A new automatic pilot was successfully tested when C. P. Oleson and Otto Greene, inventor, of Elyria, O., flew here from Chicago without touching the controls once in the flight except for taking off and landing.

The device, known as guardian-air, is an electrical apparatus and differs from the Sperry mechaviator, recently tested by the Army Air Corps.

Pilots of National Air Transport have tested the device and it was flown last week on a flight from Cleveland to Chicago.

Greene, who has been developing the mechanical pilot over a period of ten years, explained that it is only necessary to set the course and altitude on taking off and an airplane will rise to the selected height, level off, and continue on a straight course.

Business Uncertainty Laid to Delays on Tariff

Legislative Jam Discussed at Breakfast Parley

control and matters at their end of the Capitol will have to take their own course.

After returning to the Capitol certain of the leaders including Longworth expressed the prediction that the tariff finally will pass the Senate by March Senate by March 16 or 13, next. They may have told that to the President. But it is only a guess. No one can hope to accurately forecast when the coalition will permit the measure to go to a vote.

Mr. Longworth said—and there may be real news in this—that he believes that when the tariff gets to conference between House and Senate a compromise will be reached on the flexible provision repeal whereby the Tariff Commission and President will retain authority to change specific rates to meet altered conditions unless Congress after notice takes action prohibiting the proposed change. This is the plan suggested by Representative Davenport of New York, and does not seem to be a middle course logical of final adoption. The Speaker had nothing to say about the debenture clause, although few now believe that this radical farm-relief provision will stay in the bill.

FLURRY OF ORATORY

The breakfast-conference provoked a flurry of oratory and statements from the opposition seeking to make political capital.

Senator Harrison, Democrat, Mississippi, wanted to know what kind of bill Mr. Hoover wanted — the high-tariff measure passed by the House or the revised bill eliminating all but agricultural increase being written in the Senate.

Replying, Senator Watson said the President "wants a tariff bill passed." He declared no rates had been discussed, and maintained emphatically that the high-tariff measure passed by the House "no longer exists."

Senator Watson said, "the President called us down to the White House this morning to get us to make any suggestions to him, if we could, that would enable him to be helpful in finally passing this bill.

"He thinks," continued Watson, "the country is in such a condition that this legislation should be disposed of, first, in the interest of the business of the country, and second, in order that other matters in which the administration and the people are interested may as speedily as possible be brought before this body for solution.

"We all came away imbued with the spirit of helping to pass this bill as speedily as we may."

RAPS TAKEN

Senator Harrison noted the condemnation given the Senate leadership by Tilson and inquired if the White House conference had resulted in "spanking or blessing the Republican reactionary leaders of the Senate."

He asserted the Republican tariff bill passed by the House had been "condemned from one end of the country to the other," and added that Tilson "should be the last one to criticise the Republican leadership here for failure to defend this measure."

A statement by Representative Garner, Democrat, Texas, was one of the most outspoken in recent years against a President. He said: "There has been no leadership of the Republican party since President Hoover entered the White House. There is not a leading public question on which the President is willing to make a suggestion or much less offer a solution. All of his statements are ambiguous. They can be taken two ways. You hear the people talk of the President as either lacking in capacity or courage. Either he lacks one or the other, or both, or he would not let such chaos develop in party leadership. The country has lost confidence in the President and that is what is causing the chaotic economic conditions."

ADMINISTRATION HIT AND DEFENDED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18. (AP)—Forecasting Democratic Congressional victories, Representative Byrns of Tennessee, chairman of the Democratic Congressional Committee, today charged in the House that the Hoover administration has been indifferent to unemployment and existing economic conditions.

An immediate answer came from the Republican side of the House. Representative Murphy of Ohio blamed economic conditions upon delay in the tariff bill by the Democratic-Republican independent coalition in the Senate.

He asserted Byrns was assailing President Hoover for calling a conference of industrial leaders to relieve unemployment "and to get some assurance that labor will continue to receive a living wage."

Byrns said men and women have found themselves out of jobs after Hoover has emphasized the "unparalleled progress" of the country.

$26; Owners in the remaining two classifications paying respectively $24 and $29, the rates are increased to $28 and $34.

The increase in public liability rates is offset, to a certain extent, by reductions in premiums on property damage protection. Instead of paying $9, $11 and $13 in the three classes, the insured will now pay $8, $10 and $12.

Because traffic conditions in communities outside the Los Angeles city limits are considered less hazardous, the general orders call for a reduction in both public liability and property damage coverage in the outside areas.

Policy holders registered outside of the city will pay the following premiums on public liability:

Twenty-dollar classification reduced to $14; $24 classification to $20, and the $29 classification to $26. For property damage the new rates in the various classes are $5, $6 and $8, instead of the old price of $9, $11 and $13.

Rose replied that the district had agreed to offer the Metropolitan Water Board one-half of the amount of water the Los Angeles group declared is needed to meet domestic needs. Under the Swing-Johnson bill by which construction of Boulder Dam was authorized, California would receive 4,400,000 acre feet annually and Imperial Valley contended it needs all of this water. The Metropolitan Water Board asserted it needed 1,100,000 acre feet of the water allocated to California.

In his reply, Rose said that concession by the Imperial district was made after consultation with the district's engineers, who asserted that 550,000 acre feet would be all that Los Angeles and the Metropolitan area will need before 1963, the time, when under the Santa Fe Colorado River compact, surplus water will be allocated.

DELAY STORY DENIED

Rose said that settlement of water rights within California or between California and Arizona has not delayed construction of Boulder Dam "whatsoever and will not delay it." He explained that all of the plans of the Reclamation Service must be approved by the Sibert commission before construction starts and that intimations which have come to him to the effect that Imperial Valley is delaying construction "in any way are from persons either misinformed or their motives should be impugned."

The conference held at Los Angeles last week was aimed at settling differences between Imperial Valley and Los Angeles over a division of California's share of water. Besides this difference in opinion, California and Arizona have not yet agreed on the amounts of water to be apportioned to the two States from the dam, recent conferences at Reno and Phoenix having failed to decide the question. Another conference between the California districts will be held at Los Angeles tomorrow.

MEMBERS ON WAY HERE

Earl Pound, a director of the Imperial district and also a member of the California Colorado River Commission, supported Rose, asserting that "California's commission always has acted as a unit and that any statement that Imperial Valley's demands are delaying an agreement is unwarranted by the facts. Only a designing politician would make such a statement with a full knowledge of the facts."

Both men agreed that "Imperial Valley must not give away its vested water rights and that the 550,000 acre-feet of water offered Los Angeles brings the amount down to the danger line, unless the all-American canal is to be abandoned."

CONFERENCE HERE WILL NOT BE FORMAL

Informal conferences between individuals representing the Metropolitan Dater District and the agricultural interests of the Imperial Valley and adjoining territory will take the place of the formal committee meetings of the two groups scheduled for today, it was announced last night.

Committee's representing the two groups conferred for two days last week in an effort to settle the differences between them on their plans for water from the Colorado River under the Boulder Dam project. Unable to reach a final settlement, an adjournment was taken until today. It was thought that in the meantime the two groups could talk the matter over further among themselves.

Indications last night were that the discussions at home within the two groups had not yet reached the point where much more could be gained by further committee meetings as scheduled. Earl Pound, director of the Imperial Irrigation District, is expected to be in Los Angeles today to discuss the matter with representatives of the Metropolitan district. John L. Bacon of San Diego will be here also. The discussions will be informal, and will be more in the nature of feeling out the situation and arranging for possible later meetings.

UTAH WITHDRAWAL DEMANDED IN BILL

SALT LAKE CITY, Feb. 18. (AP)—A bill calling for Utah's withdrawal from the Colorado River compact was introduced in the State Senate today by Knox Patterson of Grand county, an opponent in the last session on Utah's ratification of the compact.

A point of order was raised against Senator Patterson's measure on the ground that it was not within the scope of the purpose for which the present session of the Legislature was called by Gov. Dern.

President Hamilton Gardner declined to rule the bill out.

In his call of the special session Gov. Dern restricted it to revision of the State's taxation system. Yesterday he submitted a supplemental message outlining other matters for the consideration of the Legislature but action on the Boulder Dam compact was not among them.

It is the same craft that Schoenhair piloted to second place last summer in the Los Angeles-Cleveland nonstop race.

RHEBA CRAWFORD DIVORCED

Decree Granted Husband in Florida

Rheba Crawford

ST. PETERSBURG (Fla.) Feb. 18. (AP)—A divorce granted to J. Harold Sommers has ended his romance with the former Rheba Crawford, one-time New York Salvation Army captain, whom he met and married here during the real estate activity of 1924.

Mrs. Sommers now is engaged in religious work at San Mateo, Cal., and has been living apart from her husband for more than two years.

As Rheba Crawford Mrs. Sommers conducted meetings on Broadway in 1922 and attracted widespread publicity. The size of her crowds drew the attention of authorities and she was arrested in October, 1922, for obstructing traffic. She exhibited a permit for the meetings, but later retired from the Salvation Army.

DAM BILL PUZZLES MEAD

Reclamation Commission Says Philadelphia Lawyer Needed to Understand What it Means

NEW YORK, Feb. 18. (Exclusive)—The Swing-Johnson bill for the construction of Boulder Dam "requires a Philadelphia lawyer to understand what it means," according to Dr. Elwood Mead, United States Commissioner of Reclamation, who intimates, in an article in the current Engineering News-Record, that Boulder Dam may "have to wait until Congress can deal with it again." The preference to municipalities and States, which the bill purports to provide, is its puzzling feature, Dr. Mead says, adding that the Secretary of the Interior's discretion is by no means plain, but that he must have contracts for power which will repay the cost of the dam within fifty years or he cannot go ahead.

The commissioner defends the price of 1.63 mills per kilowatt hour fixed by Secretary Wilbur, declaring that "this price will make the cost of Colorado River power delivered in Southern California somewhat greater than the present cost of generating power in the vicinity of Los Angeles by oil or natural gas."

At this price, Dr. Mead believes there will be from $350,000 to $700,000 a year to be given each to Nevada and Arizona, above the cost of amortizing the Federal expenditures. The proposed charge to the Metropolitan Water District of 25 cents an acre foot for storing water "will involve a payment of $250,000 a year for a service that is merely nominal and it is questionable if any storage charge should be imposed."

"STRETCHES" WATER AREA

"The willingness to pay a storage charge," he says, "grows out of the imperative need of the cities for the building of these works, but this should not be taken advantage of to a greater extent, because the immense cost of the aqueduct and the heavy yearly pumping charge will make payment for this water a serious burden to the households and industries of the coast." In another place, Dr. Mead somewhat stretches the boundaries of the Metropolitan Water District by speaking of it as including Santa Barbara.

The preparation of plans for the dam itself is described in another article in the same magazine, by Chief Engineer Walter of the Reclamation Bureau. Among the interesting features of this article to the general reader is his estimate that there will be an annual flow equivalent to 15,000,000 acre feet, at Boulder Canyon, at the time of completion of the dam, which will be in 1938 if work starts soon, and that when all the work on the upper river that is expected to be done within fifty years is completed, the flow will be reduced to 11,895,000 acre feet annually.

PLENTY OF WATER

Since the Colorado River compact allots 7,500,000 acre feet to the lower basin, these figures indicate that even in 1988 there will be a surplus of 4,395,000 acre feet to take care of the demands of Nevada, Arizona, California and Mexico above the allotment and nearly double this in 1938. It was pointed out yesterday that this offers proof of the contention that there is plenty of water in the Colorado for everybody and that the dispute over water division is a dispute over nothing.

The author also declares there is no site below Black Canyon suitable for a concrete gravity dam, and that diversion dams for water supply and irrigation will necessarily be of the "floating" type.

Present studies for the all-American Canal, he says, contemplate a maximum capacity of 15,000 second feet, which is ten times the capacity of the proposed Metropolitan Water District aqueduct.

ISLAND PARK DREAM MAY COME TRUE

Honoring of Mather by Establishing New Reserve in Lake Superior Proposed

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18. (Exclusive)—Establishment of Isle Royale in Lake Superior as a national park in memory of Stephen T. Mather, the man who built the system of national parks of this country into a model for the world, will be a reality if the plans of Representative Cramton, Republican of Michigan and chairman of the subcommittee on Interior Department Appropriations, which embraces the park service, are materialized.

Mather, first head of the national park service, had one dream that never was realized, Mr. Cramton said today. It was to make Isle Royale, one of the greatest game refuges for moose and caribou in this country, into a national park.

Mr. Cramton, a member of the Mather Appreciation Committee headed by John Hays Hammond, and composed of prominent citizens of the country who wish to show their appreciation of Mather's great work, said that the establishment of such a park named for the man who "made" the parks and the park service would be a fitting memorial.

temporarily idle can be carried over until larger programs can be started.

CARRYING OUT PLEDGE

"American business is carrying out its pledge to make every effort to create and maintain employment until business momentum is fully regained and the emergency is over. Wage scales, too, are being maintained to sustain buying power. One of the most encouraging factors at the present time is found in the fact that at least 44,000,000 persons are gainfully employed, which is 10,000,000 more than were at work in 1921. This in itself helps to explain the checking of this business recession in so short a time because these 10,000,000 additional workers, earning higher income than was possible in earlier years, themselves furnish a buying power which keeps fellow-workers employed and factories running to serve their needs.

"Any wide unemployment immediately reacts on business and the modern business man, knowing this, is as anxious as the worker himself to keep unemployment at a minimum."

PUBLIC CONTRACTS INCREASE 116 PER CENT

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18. (AP)—An increase of 116 per cent in contracts awarded in thirty-seven States during January for construction of public works and public utilities as compared with December was reported today by Secretary Lamont.

The January total of $112,065,200 also established a January record for the last six years, the Commerce Secretary said, adding that complete figures reaching the department from State Governors confirmed the estimate made several weeks ago that expenditures for building and maintenance of public works and public utilities this year would total or exceed $7,000,000,000.

Each Governor who has submitted figures since the department's estimate was said to have reported figures in excess of those issued at that time.

Using records of the F. W. Dodge Corporation as a basis, Secretary Lamont said the contracts for the thirty-seven States in January compared with a total of $66,552,000 in January of last year and $51,820,000 in December, 1929. Contracts awarded in November of last year amounted to $72,361,000 and in October $65,116,000.

Contracts awarded for all classes of construction during January totaled $323,975,200 as contrasted with $316,368,100 in the preceding month and $409,967,900 in the corresponding month of last year.

In private construction, commercial building increased about 62 per cent over December to a total of $54,052,300. Increases also were noted in contracts awarded for hospitals and institutions, and in construction for social and recreational purposes.

INDIAN CENTENARIAN, "OLD LIMPY," PASSES

STOCKTON, Feb. 18. (AP)—The oldest resident of Calaveras county, "Old Limpy," one of the few remaining "Digger" Indians, is dead at an advanced age. She said she was 100 years of age and said she remembered well when the first white goldseekers came to Calaveras. She lived near Sheep Ranch nearly all her life. The funeral will be conducted by the few remaining Indians according to tribal custom.

CANCER FUROR FROWNED UPON

American Medical Journal Deplores Publicity

Merely Experiment, not Cure, Article Points Out

Other Similar Treatments Previously Reported

CHICAGO, Feb. 18. (AP)—The journal of the American Medical Association in its next issue will express regret at the widespread publicity given the Coffey-Humber cancer treatment now being experimented with in California, because, it will say, false hopes have been aroused in cancer sufferers.

"Regardless of the fact that Drs. Coffey and Humber have stated in their communication to the journal and in letters sent to patients that their work is purely experimental; that they do not claim to have developed a cancer cure in the popular sense of that word; that they have no evidence that their preparation is anything more than a substance which produces lytic changes in cancer cells following injection, the great trek of cancer sufferers across the continent has begun and physicians everywhere are besought by their patients to procure this remedy," the Journal will say.

"As the Journal has pointed out, various substances have been developed in the past that will produce lytic changes in cancer cells. At present, Hanson of Minnesota has developed a similar extract from the thymus of the calf, and Charlton reports that extracts of reticulo-endothelial tissue will produce the same response.

"Under these circumstances it is nothing less than criminal for newspapers to arouse the hopes of cancer sufferers and to cause the families of such sufferers to expend the limit of their funds to make the journey to California."

WOMAN CONTINUES TO SHOW GAIN

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 18. (AP)—Mrs. Gertrude Edwins, who came here by airplane Friday from Wenatchee, Wash., to receive the newly discovered Coffey-Humber treatment for cancer in a last desperate effort to save her life, was reported at St. Mary's Hospital today as continuing to show slight gains.

ILEANA'S ENGAGEMENT OFF?

Announced Postponement of Wedding Gives Color to Rumors of Break in Princess' Romance

BUCHAREST, Feb. 18. (AP)—Postponement of the wedding of Princess Ileana of Rumania and Count Alexander Von Hochberg is the only official answer in Rumania to reports that their engagement, which the Princess herself announced some weeks ago, has been broken off definitely.

Premier Maniu today conferred at length with Queen Marie, mother of the Princess, and afterward summoned newspaper correspondents to his office. He told them that the government desired that the incident should not be discussed.

PRECAUTION TARDY

He said the government is investigating the antecedents of Count Von Hochberg in Germany and is seeking further information about him. He added that if the Rumanian government finds anything reflecting dishonor upon the Count it will intervene and advise against the maintenance of the engagement.

The Premier said that the government generally does not feel entitled to interfere in the affairs of the royal family except when the Crown Prince or the heir-apparent is affected.

ANNULMENT WAITED

Royal circles have maintained strict secrecy about the engagement, but an air of constraint was noted at the palace. It generally is expected that an announcement annulling the engagement will be made when Queen Marie and the Princess have returned from a trip to Egypt and the eastern Mediterranean.

Princess Ileana was the only member of the royal family to accompany Count Von Hochberg to the station when he departed for London. The newspapers today commented on the coldness between the young couple.

FOUR SAY MRS. DUGAN NOT SANE

Arizona Prison Warden Among Those Testifying for Woman Slayer

FLORENCE (Ariz.) Feb. 18. (AP)—Four witnesses, including Warden Lorenzo Wright of the Arizona State prison, today testified at a sanity hearing that Mrs. Eva Dugan, sentenced to be hanged Friday, is insane.

Mrs. Dugan, the first woman in the history of Arizona to be sentenced to death, was convicted in Superior Court of slaying A. J. Mathis, her employer, in Tucson, in 1927. A verdict finding her insane by a jury of twelve men selected today is her only remaining hope of escaping the gallows. The Arizona State Board of Pardons and Paroles previously has declined to entertain her plea for commutation of sentence to life imprisonment, and under Arizona law Gov. Phillips is not empowered to grant either a reprieve or a commutation.

In addition to Warden Wright, the witnesses who testified to their belief that Mrs. Dugan is insane were Dr. Win Wylie, Phoenix psychiatrist; Dr. L. A. Love, Arizona State prison physician, and Dr. C. W. Brown, former prison physician.

When court adjourned tonight, Stanley Samuelson, Mrs. Dugan's counsel, said he expected to call only one more witness before being ready to "submit the fate of my client to the jury."

Selection of the jury required most of the day.

Militant Atheists Denounce Pope for Diatribe

MOSCOW, Feb. 18. (AP)—The official government organ Izvestia today denounced Arthur Henderson, British Foreign Secretary, for his recent statement in the House of Commons that the British government will help combat the antireligious campaign in the soviet union.

The paper described this as a "bold violation of the recently concluded Anglo-soviet agreement which obligates both sides to refrain from interfering in the affairs of the other."

Izvestia insisted that normal diplomatic and commercial relations between the soviet union and capitalistic states are possible only if each side is allowed freely to follow its own policy on its own territory.

MILITANT ATHEISTS DEFY PAPAL CRITICISM

LENINGRAD, Feb. 18. (AP)—"Curse us as much as you please; we will never turn from the path shown us by Lenin," says a fiery manifesto issued by the Union of Militant Atheists today dealing with the recent Papal denunciation of the soviets for their attitude regarding religion.

"There will come a time when the atheistic workers of the entire world will convert the Vatican into a museum," says the manifesto. "The mummy Roman Pope will be interred with the mummy Siberian medicin man as a monument to the thousand-year-old religious delusion and deceit."

The manifesto also urged all workers to join the ranks of the atheists and march forward "toward new triumphs and Socialism."

ORTHODOX CHURCH HEAD DENIES REPORTS

MOSCOW, Feb. 18. (AP)—Metropolitan Serguis, head of the Russian Orthodox Church, today repeated to American and other foreign correspondents his attack on Pope Pius's recent encyclical against "persecution of Christians in Russia."

Last Saturday, he and the members of the synod issued written answers to a questionnaire put to them by Russian newspaper men, in which they denied that such "persecution" exists in Russia.

Today's interview covered the same ground for foreign newspaper men.

Asked about the present number of adherents to the Russian church, he said "There are still some millions of believers. We think the atheists exaggerate their successes.

"We still have about 30,000 congregations, about 60,000 priests, and 163 archbishops, not counting those who are in retirement, but are in prayerful relations with the patriarchate."

COLDS MAY DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

SENATE BOOSTS CATTLE DUTIES

Democrats Clash on Rise of Farm Schedules

Higher Rate on Zinc Ores Placed in Bill

Move for Import Tax on Silver Defeated

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18. (AP)—After increasing the tariff on zinc and refusing to levy an import tax on silver, now on the free list, the Senate returned today to the heart of the tariff bill—the agricultural schedule—and voted increases in duties on live cattle above those carried in the Hawley-Smoot measure.

Eastern and southern Democrats clashed heatedly over the proposed higher cattle levies, but the final roll call revealed the overwhelming sentiment of both parties for higher protection on farm products. The vote was 72 to 4 for the increases, those in opposition being Senators Copeland and Wagner, New York; Harris, Georgia, and Walsh, Massachusetts, all Democrats.

TEXAN SPONSOR

Senator Connally, Democrat, Texas, sponsored the new cattle rates, which as approved were 2½ cents a pound on cattle weighing under 700 pounds and 3 cents a pound for those weighing 700 pounds and over. Present duties are 1½ cents on cattle weighing under 1050 pounds, and 2 cents on those weighing 1050 pounds and over. The House and Senate Finance Committee bills had made the dividing line 800 pounds and raised existing levies ½ a cent.

Connally proposed the lowering of the weight dividing line to 700 pounds to prevent what he termed "baby beef" from Canada coming into the United States and competing with beef cattle now afforded higher protection.

ZINC RATE INCREASE

Senator Patterson, Republican, Missouri, was successful in having approved an amendment to levy a flat rate of 1½ cents a pound on the zinc content of all ores except pyrites containing not more than 3 per cent zinc. At present zinc ores containing less than 10 per cent zinc are admitted free and ores with a zinc content of 10 per cent and over carry duties ranging from ½ to 1½ cents a pound.

A proposal by Senator Pittman, Democrat, Nevada, to levy a duty of 30 cents an ounce on silver, now free of duty, was lost, 36 to 32. Pittman served notice he would ask a separate vote on his amendment when the bill reaches the Senate from committee of the whole.

EASTERNERS PROTEST

When Senators Walsh and Copeland protested that the cattle rate increases would raise the cost of meat, Senator Connally replied in stinging terms that easterners always raised the cry when a higher farm tariff was proposed that it would make those in the cities pay a little more for their food but were not solicitous about the "poor farmer" when an industrial tariff was up.

Coincident with the taking up of the farm schedule, Senators today received an open letter from the National Grange appealing for retention of the export debenture provision in the bill.

WILD ROSE HAS LEAD IN POLL

Columbine Ranks Second in Vote for National Favorite

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18. (AP) Nearly 500,000 persons have indicated their preference for the wild rose as the national flower.

The American Nature Association announced today that 1,067,676 votes have been cast for a national flower, and that the wild rose has received 429,811 votes and the columbine 261,451.

COLONISTS AND STATE ON FOOTING

Co-operation Pledged for Delhi Committee Seeking to Adjust Obligations

DELHI, Feb. 18. (AP)—Individual and collective co-operation, by Delhi Colony settlers and State officials last night was promised an advisory board headed by Assemblyman Adams of Livingston in working out a substitute for "Plan W" as a means of adjustment of settlers' obligations to the State.

The meeting in the Delhi Community Hall was attended by more than 300 contract holders, representing both opponents and proponents of Plan W, which would reduce settlers' payments to the State to approximately $375,000.

The advisory board, besides Adams, includes members of the original Delhi settlers' committee, W. S. Batterman, Dallas Bache and Ferdinand Kretz, and three members of the recently organized objectors' committee, W. R. Miller, Robert Reinbold and C. E. Kimball.

Charles W. Cleary, chief of the State Land Settlement Division, expressed his determination to work with the advisory board in an effort to achieve a settlement acceptable to both colonists and the State.

Arraignment in Liner Assault Case Delayed

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 18. (AP)—Arraignment of Arthur Sullivan, a Sacramento marine engineer, accused of assault on the high seas, a Federal offense, was continued until Friday when he appeared today in Federal court.

He is asserted to have threatened to throw Miss Grace Herold, Los Angeles radio pianiste, overboard from the steamer Harvard, when that vessel was en route here from Los Angeles Sunday. It is charged he then knocked down Berchard Arnold, who intervened. Sullivan is held on $5000 bond.

Queen Victoria Close to Death

ROME, Feb. 18. (AP)—Condition of Queen Victoria of Sweden was said by her physician, Dr. Axel Munthe, today to be grave. A formal bulletin was given out to newspapers and agencies.

The Swedish colony here is considerably alarmed. Dr. Munthe, as well as King Gustav, has spent the last few days at Her Majesty's villa.

OIL OFFICIAL CHANGES JOBS

SHANGHAI, Feb. 18. (AP)—P. S. Hopkins of Boston, manager of the North China department of the Standard Oil Company of New York, today announced he had resigned to become the Shanghai representative of the American and Foreign Power Company of New York and also president of the Shanghai Power Company, a subsidiary of the American concern.

CALIFORNIAN IN LOBBY QUIZ

Marion De Vries Questioned on Tariff Activities

Ex-Congressman Says He Has Received $50,000

Employment on Contingent Basis Stirs Row

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18. (AP)—Turning aside temporarily from its investigation of efforts to influence Muscle Shoals legislation, the Senate Lobby Committee today received testimony from Marion De Vries, a former Representative from California, that he had received about $50,000 for his activities in connection with the pending tariff bill.

As a customs attorney in Washington, De Vries said he had represented a number of companies and organizations interested in tariff rates, and that his compensation might total as much as $75,000, since the remuneration from some of his clients will be determined by the success of his efforts. Besides having served in Congress, he also is a former judge of the Court of Customs Appeals.

BANNED BY SOME STATES

Testimony that he had been retained on a "contingent" basis by some of the companies drew from Senator Blaine, Republican, Wisconsin, the observation that this is ground for disbarment in some States.

De Vries maintained that, while it was held illegal by certain States, the Supreme Court of the United States had upheld its legality and that he will not object if the practice is abolished. He read the decision of the Supreme Court which he said supported his contention.

De Vries said his clients included the California Deciduous Fruit Association, the United States Smelting and Refining Company, the Illinois Glass Manufacturing Company of San Francisco, the California Vineyardists' Association, the Du Pont Rayon Corporation and a large number of leather producers. His principal activity, he said, consisted of preparing briefs for presentation to Congressional committees handling tariff legislation and acting in an advisory capacity. He appeared a few times before the Senate Finance Committee and the House Ways and Means committee, which had charge of the tariff bill.

SECRET TIPS DENIED

The committee also attempted to show that De Vries had obtained "secret" information in regard to the tariff bill from the Treasury Department but he denied this.

A telegram dated August 12 from the witness to C. C. Cole, of the Illinois Pacific Glass Corporation, was read. It said:

"Confidentially committee left glass sand on the free list. Amusing story."

Previously, De Vries had said he thought the Senate Finance Committee had made public the results of the tariff hearing on August 19. He said he could not recall where the information was obtained unless it was from the newspapers or from a Senator.

AIR RIGHTS INVOLVED IN LARGE SUIT

Town, New York State and Government Named as Result of Crash

MINEOLA (N. Y.) Feb. 18. (AP)—Suits for damage totaling $115,200 and involving a property owner's air rights have been filed with the Nassau county Board of Supervisors as the outgrowth of an airplane accident the 6th inst. in which a plane crashed into a house.

Defendants are the estate of the dead flyer, Elliott De Lisser, the De Lisser Service Corporation, the Aircraft Corporation, the Town of Hempstead, Nassau county, the State of New York and the United States government.

Mrs. Emily Sysak, who is suing the county for $75,000 for injuries she received, charges the county with negligence, "knowing the county of Nassau owns no air above the said person and has not acquired title to the air for use as an aerial public highway for aircraft."

Her husband, Daniel Sysak, has entered suits against the other defendants: $3000 for damage to the roof of his house in East Hempstead, $200 for damage to trees and hedges and $37,000 for the loss of his wife's service.

DAM PERMIT SOUGHT FOR WATER PROJECT

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 18. (AP)—Permission to erect a concrete dam 600 feet long and 160 feet high in Indian Valley, Lake county, for storage of approximately 175,000 acre feet of water for industrial use in Contra Costa and Solano counties is sought in an application filed today with the State Division of Water Resources by Martin Judge, Jr., and Company of San Francisco. The storage and distribution system is estimated to cost $3,000,000. The application stated the company plans to appropriate water from the north fork of Cache Creek, Lake county, and distribute it to industrial concerns between Richmond and Antioch south of San Pablo and Suisun Bays in Contra Costa county and to Benicia in Solano county.

MEXICAN BISHOP ASKS EPISCOPATE SUPPORT

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 18. (AP)—Today's newspapers published a statement by Archbishop Leopold Ruiz y Flores calling upon Roman Catholics not to participate in seditious movements but to lend their support to the Episcopate, which seeks tolerance and reapprochment with Mexico. Magr. Ruiz protested against books published abroad, which criticised the settlement of the religious controversy last June. He said that the settlement had been approved by the Pope and that Roman Catholics should not heed the criticism.

ACTRESS HEARD IN PLAY ACTION

Valeska Suratt Says Film "King of Kings" Pirated

She Asserts Will Hays Gave Producers "Warning"

Scenes Compared to Those in Her "Magdalene"

NEW YORK, Feb. 18. (AP)—Valeska Suratt, screen and stage actress, today testified before Federal Judge Coleman in her suit charging plagiarism in the Cecil De Mille production, "King of Kings."

The only defendants in the suit brought by the actress, who asserts that the play was stolen from her manuscript, "Mary Magdalene," are Will H. Hays and the Producers' Distributing Corporation, of which Hays is said to be president. Neither De Mille nor Jeannie Macpherson, accredited author of "King of Kings," has been served.

Miss Suratt testified that in 1924 she submitted her manuscript to Hays and that in 1925 De Mille received it and returned it with word that he could not use it.

Later, she testified, when she heard of the projected distribution of "King of Kings," she called on Hays, whom she quoted as saying, "Why, I warned them they should not treat you like that. This is the greatest outrage ever done to a woman." Afterward, she said, he accompanied her to the "office downstairs," and "warned" a man whose name she had forgotten, that she must have compensation.

Miss Suratt also testified that "King of Kings" is identical in many instances with "Mary Magdalene," even "as to details of costume rings on fingers and the use of scenes relating to the crucifixion."

Miss Suratt demands an accounting for all profits received through the production of the picture and an injunction restraining the defendants from its further production.

Peasants Oust Mexican Reds From Meeting

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 18. (AP)—The National Peasants' League last night expelled from its meeting an asserted Communist element. The Communists accepted the expulsion peacefully, confining their protest to a demonstration at the various newspaper offices.

Louis Leon, Secretary of Industry, addressing the remaining delegates, declared the government did not favor the Communistic method of distribution of lands, although it intended to continue parceling out land to the peasants until the revolutionary program is completed.

He said the soviet method is impracticable in Mexico and that the government preferred to continue the plan followed by the Calles and Portes Gil administrations. Payments on the agrarian debt loan, he said, probably will extend over a period from forty to sixty years.

Gained 16 Lbs., Feels Better Than In Years

MRS. LENA BRADY,

"An actual gain of sixteen pounds and the best health I've had in years, is what the Sargon treatment did for me. Nothing ever surprised me more in my life than my quick and remarkable improvement.

"I had suffered twelve years with stomach trouble and indigestion. I was very sallow and badly constipated. I lost weight and was very nervous. My sleep was restless and broken, and during the day I was weak, tired and worn out. I also suffered at times with terrible headaches.

"Before I had finished my first bottle of Sargon I was eating anything I wanted. I am no longer nervous, I get up mornings feeling rested and refreshed, and am so much stronger I feel like a different person.

"Before I had finished my first bottle of Sargon I was eating anything I wanted. I am no longer nervous, I get up mornings feeling rested and refreshed, and am so much stronger I feel like a different person.

"The Sargon Pills ended my constipation, and my skin has cleared. I am certainly thankful for this wonderful treatment."—Mrs. Lena Brady, 457 Edgewood Ave., Macon, Ga.

Times without number men and women have rejoiced in new-found health through Sargon at a time when they thought nothing would help them.

Sargon may be obtained at all Owl Drug Stores and Liggett's Drug Stores in Los Angeles and other cities.—[Advertisement.

POLICE RAID BERLIN REDS' RENDEZVOUS

Clashes Follow Seizure of Two Truckloads of Revolt Pamphlets

BERLIN, Feb. 18. (AP)—Police and Communists had numerous small skirmishes today following a raid on Liebknecht house of Buelowplatz, headquarters of the Communist organ, Rote Fahne.

The authorities were seeking material on which to base prosecution for attempted high treason by dissemination of inflammatory pamphlets. They searched the place for three hours and obtained enough revolutionary material to fill two motor trucks.

As the 250 police left the house Communists filled the street, jerring at them. One officer's helmet was knocked off, whereupon he drew his revolver and fired shots into the air.

The search was ordered by the Supreme Court of Leipsig, which had information that the Communists were attempting to start so-called revolutionary cells within the police body. The raid apparently surprised the Communists, for they had taken no precautions to hide the revolutionary material.

LEGGE FOR BILL TO CURB MIDDLEMAN

Farm Board Chairman's Approval, Given Measure by Summers, Washington

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18. (AP)—A statement from Chairman Legge of the Farm Board approving the Summers bill to place commission merchants, brokers and dealers in perishable agricultural products under Federal control today was placed before the House Agricultural Committee, which is considering the measure.

Expressing the opinion that the proposed law will suppress unfair practices among such dealers in the terminal markets, Legge wrote, this will "enable co-operative associations handling perishable products to obtain greater returns for their members."

"The proposed legislation, therefore, should supplement the work of the Farm Board," he added.

The bill authorizes the Secretary of Agriculture to license dealers, commission merchants and brokers, and provides penalties for unfair conduct.

Representative Summers, Republican, Washington, author of the measure, said agriculture commissioners of twenty-five States have indorsed the bill.

Negro Ax-Slayer Sought in Death of Dixie Woman

NASHVILLE (Tenn.) Feb. 18. (AP) A young negro was sought today as the man who entered a grocery store here last night, killed Miss Ida Krebs, 50 years of age, with an ax, and seriously injured her cousin, Miss Louise Lohrum, 35, with the same instrument.

Neighbors, attracted by the screams of Miss Lohrum, found the mutilated body of Miss Krebs lying in a bedroom at the rear of the store which the women operated.

Miss Lohrum was unable to identify her assailant beyond saying that he was a young negro who asked for a "nickel's worth of coal oil." She said she had never seen him before.

Police advanced robbery as the motive for the attacks, but Miss Krebs's pocketbook containing $35.61 was found in the bedroom.

Hughes Visits Nation's Chief

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18. (AP)—A dignified and distinguished man called on President Hoover today to pay his respects. He was Charles Evans Hughes, new Chief Justice of the United States.

It was the first time Mr. Hughes has seen the Chief Executive since the Senate confirmed his nomination after a heated contest.

After his call, Mr. Hughes said the visit was to pay his formal respects.

BRAZILIANS LOSE LIVES AMID RIOTS

Eleven Killed and Number Wounded During Fights as Balloting Date Nears

RIO JANEIRO, Feb. 18. (AP)—Eleven persons have been killed and thirty-four wounded in shootings at political meetings in Brazil during the last few days. The Presidential campaign is nearing its climax and further disorders are expected between now and March 1, election date.

Most of the disorders have occurred at meetings of candidates in opposition to the government program. The casualty list published by the press shows one killed in Rio Grande do Sul, one killed in the Federal district of Rio Janeiro, five killed and fourteen wounded in Montes Carlos, State of Minas Geraes, and four killed and twenty wounded at Natal.

FIVE KILLED AS FLAMES RAZE HOTEL

Widow Owner and Two Small Children Among Victims of Quebec Blaze

MANIWAKI (Que.) Feb. 18. (AP)—Five persons, including the owner and her two small children, were burned to death, and four were injured as fire destroyed the Galarneau Hotel today.

The family of Mrs. Narcisse Galarneau, 37 years of age, widow, who has been operating the hotel since her husband's death two months ago, was all but wiped out.

Mrs. Galarneau and two children, Raoul, 4, and Donat, 2, were killed and her brother, John Marenger, 32, died in a futile attempt to rescue them.

She Lost 19 Pounds of Fat In 27 Days

During October a woman in Montana wrote—"My first bottle of Kruschen Salts lasted almost 4 weeks and during that time I lost 19 pounds of fat—Kruschen is all you claim for it—I feel better than I have for years."

Here's the recipe that banishes fat and brings into blossom all the natural attractiveness that every woman possesses.

Every morning take one-half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water before breakfast.

Be sure and do this every morning for "it's the little daily dose that takes off the fat."—Don't miss a morning. The Kruschen habit means that every particle of poisonous waste matter and harmful acids and gases are expelled from the system.

At the same time the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels are toned up and the pure, fresh blood containing Nature's six life-giving salts are carried to every organ, gland, nerve and fibre of the body and this is followed by "that Kruschen feeling" of energetic health and activity that is reflected in bright eyes, clear skin, cheerful vivacity and charming figure.

If you want to lose fat with speed get an 85c bottle of Kruschen Salts from any Owl Drug Store or any live druggist anywhere in America with the distinct understanding that you must be satisfied with results or money back—[Advertisement.

ATHLETE'S FOOT

Millions Have It

Starts Between Toes—
The Skin Cracks—
Itches and Blisters

Nowaday you hear a lot about Athlete's Foot—a contagious disease contracted in dressing and bath rooms of gymnasiums, clubs and hotels and sometimes in your own home.

It's a bad disease to have—causes no end of itching misery and worry. Bath mats and shower floors in which the germ called Tinea Trichophyton lurks, breeds and multiples are largely responsible.

Catch it at the start—before it spreads from the toes to soles and the sides of the feet and brings greater distress and itching.

Half of our adult population have become infected at some time according to a bulletin of the U. S. Public Health Service.

Look between your toes and under them tonight—are they cracked or blistered? Do they itch?

If you find any signs of dread Athlete's Foot get a bottle of Moone's Emerald Oil at any drugstore at once—after bathing the feet apply this powerfully soothing and penetrating oil liberally—not only between and under toes but to the entire foot—the itching ceases.

It is of the greatest importance to you that you stop the spread of the disease at once. Every live pharmacist dispenses Moone's Emerald Oil. The Owl Drug Company can supply you.—[Advertisement.

WRITER TELLS MOVING STORY

Lawyer Painted Villain by Mrs. Frances Brandon

Gillespie Cast Her Off and Stole Clients, She Says

Wrongs Disclosed on Stand Sound Like Scenario

NEW YORK, Feb. 18. (AP)—On the witness stand in Supreme Court today Frances Marion Brandon, lawyer, advertising expert and playwright, unfolded a narrative that might have furnished material for one of the motion-picture scenarios she said she used to write.

With colorful details she described events which, she said, led up to her break with George P. Gillespie, elderly attorney, whom she is suing for $574,165 for breach of promise and fraud.

PAINTED AS VILLAIN

She charges that Gillespie, who is president of the New York City Board of Water Supply and personal counsel to Cardinal Hayes, not only cast her off after proposing marriage to her while his invalid wife was still living, but stole her exceedingly lucrative legal practice, which included among its clients Elihu Root.

After declaring earlier in the day that she and Mrs. Gillespie met and became friends although Mrs. Gillespie knew of her intimate friendship with Mr. Gillespie, Mrs. Brandon told what she said was the story of her last encounter with Gillespie, following his wife's death.

STORY OF BREAK

He had just returned from Europe, she said, and she met him at his office the evening of July 15, 1924.

"When I addressed him by his pet name, 'Robin'," she said, "Mr. Gillespie drew himself up and said:

"'Will you be good enough to call me Mr. Gillespie?'"

She asked him when they were going to be married, she said, to which he replied:

CALLED HER SHEBA

"What? Me marry you? You must be crazy?"

The interview ended, she said, when he called her a "Sheba" and ordered her put out of the office.

Gillespie's attorney in outlining his case to the jury as the trial opened yesterday, denied all of Mrs. Brandon's charges and said his client on one occasion had to call up the newspapers and deny an announcement of their engagement, inserted by her aunt.

RADIO SALESMAN SLAIN BEFORE EYES OF WIFE

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 18. (Exclusive)—While hundreds of homeward bound workers passed within a few feet along Market street, J. Douglas Thomas, radio salesman, was shot and fatally injured in a radio store early this evening by a man police identified as Fred Mott. Thomas's wife was in the radio store with him when the bullet was fired. Mott, police said, had accused Thomas of having been an informed who "framed" him on a narcotics charge.

Books Ordered in Chicago Bribe Charge Inquiry

CHICAGO, Feb. 18. (Exclusive)—The last obstacle to the State grand jury investigation into the charges of First Assistant State's Attorney John E. Northup that a $1,000,000 bribery fund was maintained by the U.S.A. Company, electrical contractors, was removed this evening by Judge John P. McGoorty of the Criminal Court when he issued a subpoena duces tecum, calling for the production before the grand jury of books, records and checks of the company.

The U.S.A. Company did most of its work for the Chicago sanitary district. Mr. Northup charged that the sanitary district paid the U.S.A. Company from $1200 to $1400 each for electric-light poles, whereas a reasonable price would have been $60 to $90 each.

Dry Law Heads to Confer Here

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 18. (Exclusive)—William G. Walker, prohibition administrator for this district, left for Los Angeles tonight to confer with Administrator Woods on the advisability and practicality of establishing a joint prohibition office to serve the northern and southern districts of California, now in separate enforcement territories. If the joint office should be established, it is said, it probably will be located in the San Joaquin Valley, in the vicinity of the Merced-Stanislaus county line.

Speed Flyers Reach Santiago

SANTIAGO (Chile) Feb. 18. (AP)—The American aviators, Clement McCullen and Will White, who are attempting to set a new speed record between Newark, N. Way to Happiness Simple says California Physician

After 28 Years' Practice Describes Natural Treatment which Keeps People Well

"AFTER over 28 years of the study and practice of medicine, during which time I have treated and supervised the treatment of almost every variety of human illness," writes Dr. Martin J. Dobson of Los Angeles, "I believe I have discovered the greatest blessing that has been bestowed upon the human family. Statistics show that of all classes of persons, physicians and nurses live to a riper old age than any other class of people. I believe this is no doubt due to the fact that they know more about the importance of daily elimination.

Dr. Dobson's Discovery

"The remedy I am speaking of is colorless, tasteless, harmless to the most delicate alimentary tract, from infancy to old age. It is non-habit-forming, and it is essential to the smooth running efficiency of the human body, which needs lubrication just like any other machine.

"This remedy is Nujol.

"Most human ailments can be traced to the alimentary tract for either the main or the contributing cause, and most of these disorders can be prevented or cured through proper cleansing and regulating by the administration of Nujol as per instructions on the bottle and wrapper, or as ordered by the physician or nurse."

Nujol Laboratories considers it a privilege to publish Dr. Dobson's endorsement of Nujol.

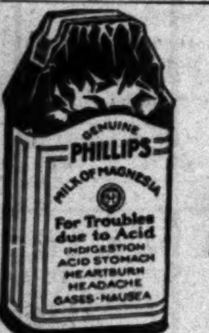
Physicians and nurses themselves use and advise you to use Nujol regularly to clean the poisons out of your body (we all have them), because these poisons are what make us feel headachy, depressed, low in our minds.

It is always safe to use Nujol, because it is not a medicine; it contains absolutely no drugs; it cannot hurt even the littlest baby; it forms no habit; it is non-fattening. Nujol is harmless internal lubrication.

What This Should Mean to You

In the last few weeks we have had over 5,000 letters from people all over the world, telling us how Nujol has helped them to happiness and success by keeping their bodies internally clean. You can buy Nujol in sealed packages at any drug store. It costs but a few cents, and it will make you feel like a million dollars.

Start Nujol tonight. Use it regularly for two weeks, and learn the joy and the happiness that comes from buoyant, zestful health!



Sour Stomach

Sweetened instantly

Just a tasteless dose of Phillips' Milk of Magnesia in water. That is an alkali, effective, yet harmless. It has been the standard antacid for 50 years among physicians everywhere. One spoonful will neutralize at once many times its volume in acid. It is the right way, the quick, pleasant and efficient way to kill the excess acid. The stomach becomes sweet, the pain departs. You are happy again in five minutes.

Don't depend on crude methods. Employ the best way yet evolved in all the years of searching. That is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle—any drugstore.

"Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875.

THE BEST WAY TO WHITEN TEETH

A single application of Phillips' Dental Magnesia Toothpaste will bring glistening, white teeth and a sweet breath.

FEDERAL POWER BODY ATTACKED

Couzens Proposes Measure for Reorganization

Internal Row Reaches Peak at Senate Hearing

One Officer Tells of Being Ejected from Meeting

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18. (AP)—Reorganization of the Federal Power Commission was proposed in a bill by Senator Couzens, Republican, Michigan, as internal strife in the commission reached a peak today with testimony before a Senate committee that one official was ejected from a hearing after he he objected to what he called lax methods of auditing utilities companies accounts.

Beginning with an extensive investigation of the commission's activities, the Interstate Commerce Committee heard the charge by Charles A. Russell, solicitor. He complained against F. E. Bonner, executive secretary of the Power Commission.

Committee members attacked "secret" and "confidential" memoranda which testimony revealed as having been kept while negotiations over which the difficulties arose were in progress.

Senator Couzens read into the record a letter explaining that some of these memoranda were being withheld from publication, though the commission offered them for private examination by the Senators, because they dealt with pending negotiations and were "confidential."

ASK FOR LIGHT ON SUBJECT

Demanding to know why "any application" or "any negotiation" should not be public information, members of the committee asked Russell what he knew of the memoranda. Senator Wagner, Democrat, New York, challenged the suggestion that confidential negotiations might not be "salutary" for the public interest.

The solicitor replied that he personally disapproved the policy. Then he went into detailed accounts of the controversy in the commission, and of the wrongs he contended had been allowed by methods of accounting upon which he said Bonner has insisted.

Russell testified he was "thrown out" of a hearing "because I was asking too many questions." He said he referred to a hearing last October on applications for permits to develop power at Flathead Lake, Mont. During early examinations, he said, he questioned witnesses to show that the Rocky Mountain Power Company, one applicant, would be supervised in its operations by "management companies."

"Mr. Bonner telephoned me on a Thursday morning," Russell testified, "and told me he did not like the questions I had been asking and wanted me to stay away from the hearing."

The solicitor said he then remained away until the following Monday. Meanwhile, he testified, the matter was "brought to the attention of Secretary Wilbur," and he was sent back.

Russell said after the hearing that Secretary Wilbur's secretary telephoned him and told him to go back to the hearing. Then, he said, he participated in it until it was completed.

Declaring he was called into conference and instructed to "lay off" the power companies, Russell said that Bonner, in another conversation, informed him that it was his "duty to find a way around" when provisions of the Federal Water Act were "unworkable."

TELLS OF LOBBY FEES

The witness charged that because of inefficient accounting methods power companies' reports to the commission contained large sums presented as "construction costs," which in reality were "fees for lobbying." He named an item of $140,000, submitted, he said, by the Byllesby Engineering and Management Corporation for expenditures on Wisconsin and Minnesota projects. He said this was really a "bill for lobbying." He added that a Pennsylvania corporation included $700,000 spent for "fees and I don't know what," in a report of its expenditures.

Asked for "the cause of all your troubles," Russell responded it was "lack of personnel and having an executive secretary who insists upon handling legal and engineering questions of which he knows nothing."

The Couzens bill would establish a civilian commission of three members appointed by the President with Senatorial consent. It would give them free scope to "make such expenditures as are necessary to execute its functions," and would tuthorize them to employ and fix salaries of an executive secretary, a chief engineer and one or more assistants, a general counsel and one or more assistants, a solicitor and "such experts, special counsel and examiners as it may find necessary."

Six Days Enough to Earn Alimony

Because George Philp is 70 years of age and works ten hours a day, Mrs. Bertha Philp, suing for divorce, can not get her alimony increased, Superior Judge Guerin decided yesterday.

"If I worked twelve hours a day, seven days a week, I could pay her $70 a month," said Philp.

Judge Guerin said he had no intention of making the defendant work on the Sabbath to pay alimony, and added that $50 would be enough.

Primary board officials said the names must go on the ballots with no titles or identification other than the identical names.

Voters foresee all sorts of complications.

BANKRUPTCY FRAUD LAID TO EX-JUDGE

Charges Made in Federal Court of Appeals Against Former Arizona Jurist

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 18. (AP) Charges that George W. Shute, former Gila county (Arizona) Superior Court judge, used dishonest means to obtain a discharge in bankruptcy in the Arizona Federal District Court, were placed before the United States Circuit Court of Appeals here today during final arguments on the appeal of Thomas W. Nealon and J. J. McKay from the District Court order.

"Much as it is to be regretted," Nealon said today, "we believe the conclusion is inescapable that the record in the lower court is permeated with evasions, misrepresentations and lack of honest purpose on the part of Shute."

Nealon was trustee for Shute's bankrupt estate and McKay was a creditor. Nealon, arguing his own appeal, and Miss Alice M. Birdsall of Santa Fe, N. M., representing McKay, assigned forty-five errors in the trial court. All revolved about a principal contention that Shute concealed approximately $30,000 in assets when he filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy in 1927.

Heflin Files for Senatorial Race

MONTGOMERY (Ala.) Feb. 18. (AP)—Although barred from becoming a candidate in the Alabama Democratic primary, which is to be held August 12, United States Senator Heflin, candidate for re-election, complied wit hthe Corrupt Practices Act today by filing formal declaration of his candidacy with Secretary of State Brandon.

Patrol Defeats Rum Smugglers

EL PASO (Tex.) Feb. 18. (AP)—Immigration border patrolmen balked liquor smugglers in four attempts in less than twelve hours last night to run their contraband into the United States from Mexico. The smugglers were driven off in one instance only after an exchange of pistol shots.

STOCK CONCERN SOLD TO SWIFT

Miller & Lux, Inc., Brings More Than Million

Breeding Herd and 80,000 Acres in Deal

Company One of Oldest in California

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 18. (Exclusive)—J. Leroy Nickel, Jr., vice-president of Miller & Lux, Inc., one of the oldest and largest of California live-stock producers, today announced transfer of the entire properties of the company for more than $1,000,000 to the Miller Live-stock Company, which is owned and controlled by Louis F. Swift, president of Swift & Co., Chicago packers, and A. B. Miller of Fontana, Cal., president of the Fontana Farms Company.

The entire breeding herd of Miller & Lux will be taken over, it was said, together with leases on 80,000 acres of land on the west side of the San Joaquin Valley and acquisition by purchase of Harrison Field of 3000 acres of pasture land. The leased area is subject to sale but the lessors, it was announced, will operate it as live-stock property.

The deal involves property which was started toward its present great size by Henry Miller, founder of Miller & Lux seventy-five years ago. The company finally was built up into one whose activities ranged nearly 1000 miles from the southern end of the San Joaquin Valley into Oregon.

The Miller Live-stock Company operating as the B. B. Company, operates feed yards at Collinsville on the Sacramento River and at Fontana. The latter is the location of the world's largest hog ranch, with a population of 50,000 head.

HOUSE SPEEDS ACTION ON SEED RELIEF BILL

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18. (AP)—The House Rules Committee today unanimously decided to give privileged status to the Senate resolution to appropriate $7,000,000 for seed and fertilizer loans to farmers in storm-stricken areas in the Southeastern and Western States.

TY INITIAL ING APPEAL

Was Be Eliminated, Engineers Hear

Plant of Plane Held Reliability Key

Exposition Told of Future Fuels characteristics of airplanes, now at about railroad train speed, are drastically changed, engine failures on transport machines are incompatible with public confidence."

The safety factor was pointed out by Robert Insley, vice-president of the Continental Aircraft Engine Company, as being "probably even more important to saleability than is the cost."

POWER PLANT KEY

"Safety in an airplane," he said, "depends directly on the power plant."

Both predicted partial solutions of safety in developing the use of low grade fuel.

Insley stated that one of the greatest hazards of aircraft was fire, a problem that might be solved in the development of Diesel or explosion engines.

Chilton predicted that an easier method of burning crude oil would be found which would eliminate not only the fire hazard but the difficulties of carburetion, which present themselves in current types of engines.

STUDIED IN SCHOOLS

Aeronautics was painted before the National Conference on Aeronautical Education as "fast becoming a part of the fiber of the nation's public school curricula," by Charles S. "Casey" Jones, famous flyer.

He indicated the problem to solve is whether courses in aviation cater to the play instinct of students or carry forward the broadening and cultural influences of education.

Three committees were appointed to study separate phases of aeronautical education, those applying to university and college training, education in public schools, and ground school education.

The committee heads are Bradley Jones, University of Cincinnati; B. G. Shackelford, St. Louis public schools, and Prof. W. Harold Taylor, University of Buffalo.

They will submit recommendations for action of the educators tomorrow at the final session.

DOG IN DISTRESS BRINGS ENTIRE TOWN TO RESCUE

CLARENDON (Ark.) Feb. 18. (AP) A nameless dog of doubtful ancestry was the pampered pet of Clarendon today after most of the town's population had joined in rescuing him from slow death.

Caught for three days in a narrow aperture between brick walls, the dog's bark of distress was answered by the citizenry en masse. Relief expeditions were organized. Ropes were commandeered. Choice bones were snatched from butcher shops. One group even made preparations to tunnel through one of the walls.

But at last a grappling committee from a vantage point on a roof succeeded in dropping a rope over the weakened form below. With tail wagging, the dog was lifted to safety as deafening cheers resounded.

White-Hot Clay Rolled Like Steel His Discovery

House Walls of Future May Be Single Tile

TORONTO (Ont.) Feb. 18. (AP)—The secret of making twenty-foot bricks and molded sides of small houses was laid before the American Ceramic Society here today.

It is a new process in which bricks are made, much like steel, of molten raw material. While the clay is white-hot, at about 2000 deg. F., it is shaped and pressed. It is declared that bricks thus can be made enormously larger than anything hitherto practicable. Always heretofore bricks have been shaped before baking and the old process limits size.

Prof. Joseph B. Shaw, head of the department of ceramics of Pennsylvania State College, inventor of the method, said that the new bricks can be rolled like steel. They can be made reinforced with steel laid in the molten clay. The process dips into another of the practical building arts by making brick veneer. One brick can be impressed upon another to form a single structure. They are annealed like metal.

An announcement from Penn State said that the process will "roll sides of houses and sections of roads." The research was undertaken to produce new paving material.

Accident Fatal to Navy Officer

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18. (AP)—Lieut. Walter G. Maser was killed Sunday when he stepped near the exhaust stack of the catapult as an airplane was launched from the U.S.S. Nevada at Guantanamo, Cuba, official report of the accident said today.

SUSPECT HELD FOR OLD CRIME

Slayers of Recluse Hunted for Thirty-Eight Years

Nephew Vowed as Youth to Catch Brutal Killers

Aged Man's Babbling Gives First Definite Clew

HIGH POINT (N. C.) Feb. 18. (AP) A vow a local attorney took as a youth to bring to justice, if humanly possible, the slayers of his uncle has resulted in the arrest in Starke, Fla., of John Morgan, charged with the murder of Francis Tally in Stanly county, North Carolina, thirty-eight years ago.

Tally, an aged and wealthy bachelor who lived alone, was hacked to death with an axe in November, 1892, by two men who ransacked his home in a vain attempt to obtain gold he was reputed to have kept hidden.

INVESTIGATION CEASELESS

Details of the crime were impressed upon the mind of young J. Allen Austin, a nephew, now a practicing attorney in this city. While a law student at the University of North Carolina he vowed that some day he would find out who killed his uncle.

After he had completed his law course he located here and carried on a tireless investigation into the mystery that veiled the murder. He almost had given up hope of solving the crime until a recent visit to his old home in Stanly county. While there he learned from a friend that an old man living in the county had declared he "took the two men who killed Mr. Tally out of the State."

AGED MAN GIVES CLEW

The old man told the story in a crowd that had gathered to "swap yarns."

"I was just a boy," the old man was quoted as saying, "but I had sense enough to keep that thing quiet. This is the first time I have ever told the story."

He mentioned the names of two men who lived in Stanly county years ago.

Armed with this information, Austin resumed his investigation and after a vigorous inquiry brought about the arrest of Morgan. Now he hopes to gather sufficient evidence to bring about other arrests.

Morgan, who has lived in Florida twenty-five years, has become known there as an industrious citizen. He asserts he is innocent of the slaying and is resisting efforts of authorities to bring him back to North Carolina to face trial.

BROWN HITS POSTOFFICE SALARY RISE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18. (AP)—An adverse opinion by Postmaster-General Brown was read today to the House Postoffice Committee's opening hearing on the Dyer bill to raise the salaries of messengers, watchmen and laborers in the postal and railway mail service.

Representative Dallinger, Republican, Massachusetts, said the Postmaster-General was trying to make the Postoffice Department pay for itself, but that the proposed increase in salaries ranging from $1600 to $1800 a year is "no more than a living wage."

Representative Welch, Republican, California, withdrew his similar bill in favor of the Dyer bill and indorsed it heartily. He criticised the salary comparison made by Postmaster-General Brown, who noted that the proposed raise would place laborers in advance of the lower grades in the clerical department, saying "the bookkeeper has a chance to advance, the laborer doesn't."

Pop-Corn Wagon Blast Injures Small Children

RENO, Feb. 18. (AP)—Exploding yesterday when surrounded by school children, the gasoline engine of a pop-corn wagon at Susanville, Cal., seriously injured Shirley Shoemaker, 5 years of age, and less seriously hurt Frances Frizzie, 9. William Vellenworth, 78, who operated the wagon, was cut by flying glass and is suffering so severely from the shock hospital surgeons say he may not recover.

The explosion hurled part of the wagon through the plate-glass window of the Bank of Lassen, across the street, also shattering the windows of cars parked near by. Houses were shaken for blocks around.

Spouse Held in Woman's Death

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 18. (AP)—Otto Neilson, a city fireman, today was held by police for investigation in connection with the death of his wife, Mrs. Daisy Neilson, 23 years of age, whose body was found in their home Sunday.

Dr. Stanley M. Hall, Deputy Coroner, reported he believed death was caused by alcoholic poisoning.

Chief of Detectives Boyle ordered a further investigation after T. J. Trent and J. E. Dimoush, city patrolmen, reported Neilson was intoxicated when they called at the house Sunday to conduct an investigation.

AMANULLAH IN VENICE

VENICE (Italy) Feb. 18. (AP)—Former King Amanullah of Afghanistan and his brother arrived here today to remain until Thursday, when they will take a steamer for Constantinople. The duration of their stay there or the reasons for the trip were not announced.

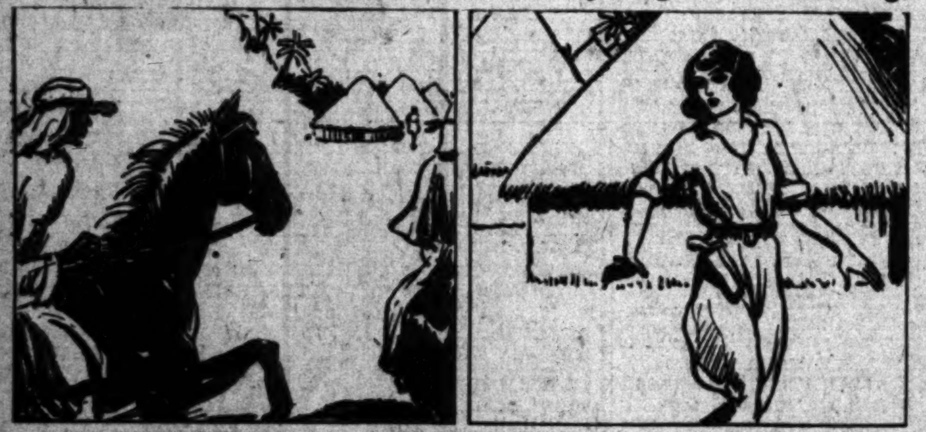
A CHUCKLE FOR EVERYBODY

THE SON OF TARZAN

By Edgar Rice Burroughs



A full day's march ahead of the Big Bwana who had trailed them hour by hour, five young Arabs were returning homeward to the tribe the Sheik ruled. They had been far inland on a successful ivory raid. A handsome, sinister youth rode at their head when they sighted some fleeing object in the distance. Perhaps it was a lost hunter! Thinking always of possible ransom money, Abdul Kamak put spurs to his horse and rode toward it.

Meriem, after eluding the Swede, roamed the forest several days before she was aware she was lost in its dense maze. Her ammunition was exhausted searching for food, when she came abruptly to a small clearing where once had stood a native village surrounded by its fields. All unconscious of impending danger, she was making her way down its deserted street to the jungle when she noticed a cloud of dust on the horizon.

Rapidly it rolled toward her until she made out a horseman in flowing white coming straight across the plain. Like a startled doe Meriem sped for the jungle, but ere she could reach its safety Abdul Kamak had won the race and she was his prisoner. The young Arab saw that the figure clad in the riding boots and breeches was a woman—a young and lovely one too. Here was a gift from Allah! Swiftly he swung her to his saddle.

Two more days the men rode with their fair prize until the girl saw the Arab tents on the yellow desert sands. Vaguely it all seemed strangley familiar to her as with shouts of greeting the wild youths led Meriem directly into the presence of a tall grim old fellow who glared down upon her from the folds of his burnose. All the fears and terrors of her childhood returned as Meriem stood before the Sheik and knew that he recognized her.

NEWS OF SOUTHERN COUNTIES

POPULAR MATRON IN LEADING ROLE

Mrs. Frank Mason

BREA, Feb. 18.—A cast composed of members of the Brea Legion and Auxiliary will present a three-act farce comedy Thursday night, the 22nd inst. in the Brea-Olinda high school auditorium, proceeds from the event going to the American Legion building fund.

Mrs. Jerry L. Bennett, president of the Orange County Auxiliary County Council, is directing the play, with Mrs. Frank Mason, secretary of the council, taking the leading role.

The Santa Ana Auxiliary Glee Club which placed third at the Louisville convention last year, will appear as an added attraction.

Rangers Seek Reason for Brush Fire

SAN DIEGO, Feb. 18.—Suggesting that a cigarette, tossed from an airplane may have started a forty-acre brush fire which raged yesterday and last night on the west side of Cuyamaca peak, forty-five miles east of San Diego, District Forester J. B. Stevenson of Descanso today pushed an investigation into the cause of the fire. A patrol crew was maintained today by Stevenson to prevent further outbreak of the fire.

Incendiarism may have been responsible for the outbreak, Stevenson said, although he pointed out that the fire started well up the slope of Cuyamaca peak, 6500 feet in elevation. Had the fire been set deliberately, it would have been necessary for the fire bug to crawl through a large area of heavy brush, Stevenson declared.

Strengthening the theory that the fire may have been caused from a cigarette tossed from a plane is the fact that a plane was seen traveling eastward over Cuyamaca peak a short time before the fire started, report by Stevenson states. The blaze was sighted shortly after noon and Stevenson marshaled a crew of twenty to battle the fire, which was brought under control last night.

Lack of rain in the county this month has resulted in brush becoming dry and an increased fire hazard, forestry officials report. Maximum temperatures ranging between 85 and 91 deg. prevailed yesterday back from the coast.

PTOMAINE POISONING IS FATAL TO CHILD

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Feb. 18. Funeral services for Virginia Way, 5 years of age, will be conducted tomorrow morning at the Catholic Church at 9 o'clock, Father Cocran officiating. The girl died of ptomaine poisoning. Her mother and brother, now in a hospital near Kettleman Hills, will be moved to Huntington Beach as soon as their condition permits. Their illness was not so serious and their recovery is certain. Mr. Way had been transferred to the oil fields of Kettleman Hills a few weeks ago. Soon after, Mrs. Way and the children joined him. Mrs. Way is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Bushard of Talbert.

ONTARIO HOTEL FIRE

ONTARIO, Feb. 18.—An overheated pipe today caused fire to break out under the roof of Hotel Ontario and a double alarm of fire was sounded by City Fire Marshal A. E. Wilcox. The blaze was extinguished with difficulty, due to its location under heavy flooring. Most of the damage was caused by chopping and water.

POLICE CHIEF EXONERATED

Ministers at Compton Fail to Make Good Charges Against Head of Department

COMPTON, Feb. 18.—Following a seven-hour closed session in which twenty-four witnesses were interviewed Chief of Police E. A. West today stood exonerated of charges of ungentlemanly conduct and failure to enforce the Eighteenth Amendment. Those who conducted the hearing and signed the statement exonerating the Chief were Mayor C. A. Dickison, Councilmen Charles T. McKinney, Carl Shepard and Carl Dawson and City Manager A. B. Gidley.

The closed inquiry followed an open session last week in which it was revealed charges against West had been transmitted to the council by the Compton Ministerial Association. Charges were unsigned as the pastors explained they were merely transmitting to the Council statements given them. In the closed hearing the Council called in every member of the police department as well as a number of private citizens. After the inquiry was closed officials described the charges as "much ado about nothing."

Chief West in a statement issued today declared it was his earnest effort at all times to enforce the law with due caution to prevent interference with constitutional rights and to avoid suits for false arrest against himself or his officers. He said he was a firm believer in the Eighteenth Amendment, but at the same time believed certain changes in the enforcement laws necessary to make it effective.

SCIENTIST CONTINUES RESEARCH

Riverside Man Goes to South Africa to Further Study Fruit Pests

RIVERSIDE, Feb. 18.—Having completed his investigation of the dreaded Mediterranean fruit fly in Spain, Prof. H. J. Quayle of the University of California's Riverside citrus experiment station, is en route to South Africa, according to word received here today. Prof. Quayle is acting as the representative of the United States Department of Agriculture and the private yacht of Allison V. Armour, specially fitted for scientific investigation, is his headquarters.

The journey to South Africa is being made at the special request of the British government, transmitted to the Department of Agriculture through the British Ambassador at Washington. In South Africa, Prof. Quayle will seek information on the fruit fly and will study the possible usefulness of cold storage in freeing export fruit from infection.

While in Africa, Prof. Quayle will devote some time to other citrus pests which may lead to information of value to California growers. While in Spain he was invited by the Premier, Prima De Rivera, to confer with him regarding the general fruit fly situation, in which he was much interested because of an American quarantine on Almeria grapes, made necessary by the fruit fly infestation. He also was called into conference with the Spanish Minister of Agriculture several times.

While in the Mediterranean district Prof. Quayle had an opportunity to visit with several scientists who were former students at the graduate school of tropical agriculture at Riverside. Among these were Dr. De Torres, at Madrid, Doctors Baghat and Kamal at Cairo, and Dr. Savastano, in Sicily. He also conferred with Dr. Silvesteri, noted Italian entomologist, who, a few years ago, served on the staff of the citrus experiment station.

Prof. Quayle expects to return to the Mediterranean in the spring, where he will continue his researches on the Mediterranean fly.

Double Funeral of Aged Couple

SOUTH PASADENA, Feb. 18.—Double funeral services for Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. Witte, who died within twenty-four hours of each other, will be held tomorrow at 2 p.m. in the Turner, Stevens & Berry chapel, it was announced today.

Mr. Witte, 87 years of age, died yesterday at the family home, 1051 Meridian avenue, without knowing that his wife had died Friday while he was unconscious.

Mrs. Witte, who was 85 years of age, was a native of Hamburg, Germany. Her husband was born in New York. They came to California shortly after their marriage and had lived forty-two years in the West, thirty-eight years of which time they spent in Highland Park.

They leave two sons, H. H. Witte of this city, and J. B. Witte of Los Angeles.

CHAFFEY ORCHESTRA ENGAGES SOLOIST

ONTARIO, Feb. 18.—Charles Ross, popular Pomona and Ontario baritone, has been secured as feature soloist for the concert by Chaffey Little Symphony Orchestra at Chaffey auditorium Friday evening, the 28th inst., Fred Wilding, Jr., director, announced today. Wilding has enjoyed such success with Chaffey's Little Symphony that he has been invited by San Bernardino Valley Junior College to organize a similar orchestra there. Tomorrow night Wilding will have the first rehearsal for the new San Bernardino Little Symphony. Wilding is a member of the Chaffey faculty of music.

BOND ELECTION CALLED

Santa Barbara to Vote on Question of Raising $950,000 for School Facilities

SANTA BARBARA, Feb. 18.—On recommendation of Superintendent of Schools Paul E. Stewart, the city school board last night called a $950,000 bond election for March 28, to provide new school buildings and land. The issue has been under consideration by the board for some time, since the majority of the city schools are now housing more pupils than their capacity. The recommendation came following a series of petitions from various organizations in the city asking for additional school facilities.

Under the motion, made by E. E. Martin and seconded by Calvin McCray, the bonds will run for twenty-five years at a 5 per cent interest rate. Of the money, $350,000 will be for elementary schools and $600,000 for a junior high. It is planned to build two grade schools and build additions to Franklin school with the $350,000 provided the bonds are carried. The new schools will be located on the Bonnie View tract, at the end of West Haley street and the other at the junction of Alameda, Padre, Serra and Dover Road, on the Riberia Road. The property on which the proposed schools are to be located is already owned by the school district.

The proposed junior high school will be located on the East Side near the high school, south of De La Guerra street. Most of the property for it has already been purchased and condemnation proceedings are to be started for adjoining property.

In making the recommendation Supt. Stewart pointed out that even if the election should carry the new buildings could not be completed before the fall of 1931 and by that time the schools will have an excess of enrollment over capacity by several hundred students. At present there is capacity for just 185 students more than are enroled, he said.

Lancaster to Be Setting for Airplane Meet

LANCASTER, Feb. 18.—More than 800 licensed air pilots in California have been invited to attend an informal air meet to be held at Lancaster the 22nd inst. The event is being staged by the Chamber of Commerce, Kiwanis Club and Antelope Valley Post of the American Legion as a benefit for the local airport which needs danger lights on the high voltage lines bounding it. The Goodyear Company is sending its "baby" blimp, the Volunteer, to Lancaster for the occasion and the official ships from Richfield, Standard Oil, Union and other oil companies are promised for the day.

The Lancaster landing field has just been put into splendid condition and is very important as an emergency field for ships which encounter fog in the Los Angeles area. It is also free from down air currents and boasts ideal flying conditions throughout the entire year.

An interesting air program for next Saturday is arranged which will include parachute jumps and maneuvers by visiting airmen. A motion-picture company is making a war film at one of the nearby dry lakes and if still on location at that time has promised to be present to give the crowd a thrill with a fleet of twenty-five stunt planes.

Beach Voters Ratify $122,000 Pier Projects

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Feb. 18. Voters of this city today approved, approximately 4 to 1, expenditure of $122,000 for repairs to and extension of the 1400-foot municipal pier. One bond issue of $60,000 for repairs carried 749 to 166, while the second issue of $62,000 for a 500-foot extension was indorsed 757 to 176.

This pier was constructed in 1914 at a cost of $100,000. The city recently engaged a consulting engineer to assist the City Engineer to make a survey of the condition of the pier and found that repairs were needed. By adding the extension the pier will be carried beyond the breakwater to where a boat landing can be constructed and seagoing vessels can make a safe landing. Improvements also will be made for better fishing facilities.

Watchman Hurt by Explosion at Air Terminal

GLENDALE, Feb. 18.—Gas that had leaked from a small gas heater in a waiting room at Grand Central Air Terminal this morning became ignited from a spark from an electric light switch, causing an explosion that seriously burned A. L. Munford, 313 North California street, Burbank, the watchman, and blew off the door of the room.

Munford was burned about the hands and face when the gas exploded and fire engines from two stations responded to the call that was sent in when fire followed the blast. The damage to the room by fire was small. Munford was taken to the Glendale Research Hospital, where he was treated by Dr. T. C. Young, the airport physician.

Here's Latest Auto Racketeer

ONTARIO, Feb. 18.—Maj. G. Foster, automobile dealer, found a livelier prospect than he had anticipated, according to his tale to police. The prospect asked for a demonstration of a new car and as his part of the demonstration, Foster agreed to let the prospect drive the car to a filling station to put more air in the tires, while Foster was to follow a few moments later in another car.

The prospect didn't stop but kept right on going with the new car. Foster appealed to police to help find the demonstration racketeer. Late at night the car was found on a side street all the tires flat.

GOVERNMENT GIFT TO HER WAR HEROES

Pasadena Veterans' Organization Given Valuable Collection

Middle row: Civil War service medal, French Croix de Guerre, Congressional Medal of Honor (highest United States award,) Distinguished Flying Cross (special award made to Col. Charles A. Lindbergh,) Distinguished Medal of Honor, Distinguished Service Cross (next to Congressional Medal of Honor, highest United States award for bravery in battle,) Italian Cross, war with Spain medal.

Bottom row: American Legion badge, Porto Rican occupation medal, Mexican service, Cuban occupation medal, China expedition medal, Indian war medal, Cuban pacification, Veterans of Foreign Wars badge.

PASADENA, Feb. 18.—A collection of twenty-five war medals, asserted to be the most complete outside of museums, has been presented to the Lieut. Kenneth Bell Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, it was announced today by Richard E. Price, manager of The Mess Kit, post monthly publication. The collection, mounted on a felt panel, was given to the organization by a member whose name is withheld.

"There is much ignorance on the part of the public regarding the significance of army medals and badges and we hope our collection will be of considerable patriotic and educational value," Harry J. Waite, post Commander, asserted following the presentation.

"For example, the Distinguished Medal of Honor, awarded to high-ranking officers during the World War, is often believed to have been bestowed for bravery. The fact is that it was given to some men who were never very near the trenches as a testimonial of appreciation for efficient work.

"The Congressional Medal of Honor, however, held by less than a score of outstanding American war heroes, is awarded only to men who have performed some outstanding act of heroism requiring a type of bravery far beyond the call of duty. It probably is the most distinctive badge of courage in the world.

"Similarly, the Distinguished Service Cross is awarded to American soldiers for acts of heroism under fire, and while more than 100 crosses were awarded in the World War, it also is a distinctive badge of courage."

PIONEER WOMAN BURIED

Services in Memory of Elizabeth Van Leuven Held at San Bernardino

BRYN MAWR, Feb. 18.—Funeral services for Mrs. Elizabeth Van Leuven, pioneer resident of the Mission district in the San Bernardino Valley, who died at her home on Mountain View avenue, were held this afternoon from the Mark B. Shaw mortuary in San Bernardino. Services were in charge of Rev. Lewis Jacobsen of Redlands. Interment was in the Pioneer Cemetery in San Bernardino.

Mrs. Van Leuven had resided in the Mission district near Redlands for almost three-quarters of a century. She would have been 84 years of age on March 4, next. She was the widow of Anson Van Leuven, pioneer orange grower and Sheriff of San Bernardino county from 1856 to 1861. He had also served as United States Marshal during the Civil War and had represented this country in the State Legislature in 1863 and 1864. He died in 1896.

Mrs. Van Leuven leaves two sons, W. H. Van Leuven of 33 Kendall street, Redlands, and A. B. Van Leuven, who resides in the Mission district. Four grandsons also mourn her passing. These are Billy Van Leuven, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Van Leuven of Redlands, and Jack, William and Dick Boone, sons of the late Mrs. J. Boone, who before her marriage was Maude Van Leuven.

Mrs. Van Leuven saw the first citrus fruit trees planted in the old San Bernardino district in 1862. Some of these trees are still bearing. She was active in the pioneer society.

Her father was William J. Robinson, a member of the Mormon battalion which passed through San Bernardino Valley in 1846, en route back to Utah from the Mexican War. Mr. Robinson continued on to his home in Missouri, and started west again in 1852 with his family, including Mrs. Van Leuven, then 6 years of age. He died en route. The family reached here in 1858. On January 14, 1863, she was married to Anson Van Leuven and they established their home at Mission, where the Van Leuven family had set out the first orange trees planted in this country.

Police After Dog Poisoner

SOUTH PASADENA, Feb. 18.—Local police reported discovery today of clews which they believe will result in the capture of a man who has poisoned eight dogs in the vicinity of Bushnell street during recent weeks.

The last canine victim was a dog owned by Mrs. Carolyn F. Palmer of 1622 Bushnell street, which died in agony Sunday night. The dog was purchased last week for $30 to replace another Palmer pet which met a similar fate two weeks ago. Mrs. Palmer asserted that both dogs were kept tied most of the time and did not annoy neighbors by barking.

DE MOLAY CHAPTER INSTALLS OFFICERS

ONTARIO, Feb. 18.—Semipublic installation of officers is planned for Old Baldy Chapter, Order of De Molay, at Masonic Hall tomorrow evening. James Sprague is retiring Master Councillor. Boys elected to serve the next term are: Master Councillor, Roland Rutledge; Senior Councillor, Joseph Sharp; Junior Councillor, Howard Warren; Senior Deacon, Dale McNiece; Junior Deacon, Harold Edwards; Senior Steward, John Scott; Junior Steward, Dale Pittenger; Orator, Roland Rutledge; Secretary Scribe, Harold Zenz; Treasurer, Howard Finley; Chaplain, Harold Goodheart; Marshal, Howard Hawkins; Standard Bearer, Franklin Pollock; Almoner, Jack Binnell; Preceptors, Kenneth Adams, Harry Myers, Ralph Whistler, Donald Hodge, James Sharp, Henry Magill, Earl Bryden. Charles Kratky has been appointed temporary "Dad" of the chapter, succeeding the late W. D. Richardson, who established De Molay in Ontario.

Aged Woman Dies at Home in Pasadena

PASADENA, Feb. 18.—Mrs. Sarah A. Miller, mother of John B. Miller, chairman of the board of the Southern California Edison Company, died today at her Hotel Huntington bungalow, Cedarhurst. She would have celebrated her eightieth birthday next week.

Private funeral services will be held tomorrow at 4 p.m. at the John B. Miller residence, Hillside, Columbia street at Hillside Road.

Mrs. Miller was the widow of John Edgar Miller, an officer of the Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Company of California for many years.

She was born in Port Huron, Mich., and came to this city with her husband twenty-one years ago. Mr. Miller, Sr., died in 1925.

Besides her son, John B. Miller, she leaves a daughter, Miss Clara Adelle Miller, and a son, Frank Edgar Miller, right-of-way agent for the Southern California Edison Company.

Court Stops Work on Sewer

RIVERSIDE, Feb. 18.—As a sequel to the wholesale recall of the San Jacinto City Council Saturday, Superior Judge Freeman today issued a temporary injunction blocking further steps toward consummation of the extensive sewer system, center of contention in the fight that has split the town into two factions. Judge Freeman handed down the injunction on the application of John G. Althouse, owner of the Soboba Hot Springs resort, who charged that his property, located virtually three miles from the center of the town would never be benefited by the sewer system. He was represented in the court battle by Levi R. Tarr of Los Angeles.

The injunction will prevent further moves toward starting of work on the sewer system, until after the action brought by Althouse shall have been tried on its merits, Judge Freeman said in deciding in favor of the petitioning resort owner.

DOCTOR HAS APPENDICITIS

Bandits Rob Gas Station

GLENDALE, Feb. 18.—Two bandits who held up the garage and service station of Harry Chapman, 1501 West Glenoaks Boulevard, last night, escaped with $47.38. Lowell Glenn, 625 Irving avenue, who was in charge of the station during Chapman's absence, told Detective Sergeant Browne and Detective Woodard that one man had entered the office and had kept him covered with a gun while the second bandit had remained in the yard, evidently as a lookout.

The bandit forced Glenn to lie down on the floor while he robbed the cash register. After the robbery the two men walked east on Glenoaks Boulevard and disappeared.

WOMAN DISAPPEARS FROM ANAHEIM HOME

ANAHEIM, Feb. 18.—Police of Anaheim and neighboring cities today were asked to search for Mrs. Nora Foster, 55 years of age, who disappeared from the home of her daughter, Mrs. Eva Bamford, 222 East Center street, yesterday after announcing plans to go for a walk.

Frail from effects of ill health, Mrs. Foster is feared the victim of a fainting attack. She had no money and was dressed lightly, Mrs. Bamford reported.

Mrs. Foster is described as being five feet six inches tall, weighs 100 pounds, dressed in a green house dress, black satin hat, black shoes and a light-weight black coat with a strip of fur down front.

EL MONTE EDITOR HONORED

Neil R. Murray Receives Recognition from Professor of Journalism in Oklahoma College

EL MONTE, Feb. 18.—Neil R. Murray, publisher of the El Monte Herald, local weekly newspaper, has just been notified of national honor accorded him.

He was named quarterback on the All-American weekly newspaper eleven annually named by John H. Casey, professor of journalism at the University of Oklahoma.

In making his selection, Prof. Casey wrote:

"The man who calls signals on this team lives on the Pacific Coast in a town near Los Angeles that had a population of 1283 when the last count was made for the N. W. Ayer newspaper directory. But, like 99 per cent of all Californians, he came from somewhere else—Iowa, that's right. Neil Murray of the El Monte Herald was a New York City newspaper man for a number of years, a reporter for the New York Tribune. Both times President Wilson visited New York during the World War, Murray drew the assignment to cover the story for the Tribune, being assigned to remain with the Presidential party during his stay in the city. But what's that comparing to owning and managing one's own little old weekly out in California. As managing editor and quarterback on this team, he's just the man to put all the boys on their toes—and incidentally he is ably assisted in staying on his own toes by a wife who serves as the able woman's editor of the paper."

The El Monte Herald also won the front-page cup award by The Los Angeles Times in the annual California Newspaper Publishers' Association contest among weekly newspapers in 1927 and 1928.

WOMAN DIES OF DREAD BOTULISM

Fontana Resident Succumbs After Disease

Became Ill After Tasting Beans While Cooking

Husband in Hospital Result of Operation

SAN BERNARDINO, Feb. 18.—Ill for more than a week, Mrs. Mary Pinter, 33 years of age, of Fontana died at 11 o'clock yesterday morning at the County Hospital of botulism, a rare but almost invariably fatal poisoning.

By a peculiar twist of fate Mrs. Pinter died because she lacked an acute sense of smell. While preparing lunch at her home on the 7th inst. she opened a can of home-prepared beans. She placed them on the stove and being unable to detect taint by smelling she tasted them from a teaspoon. Her husband, Gus Hinter, noticed a strange odor arising from the can of beans and entered the kitchen at the same minute that his wife was tasting the beans. He threw the can away and thought little of the incident until his wife was stricken last Tuesday. Dr. Eldredge of Fontana was called and when Mrs. Pinter's condition became acute he ordered her removed to the hospital, where her illness was diagnosed by physicians as botulism.

She rapidly sank despite an attempt to check the disease. When it became apparent that Mrs. Hinter could not recover, a Hungarian priest was summoned from Los Angeles to administer the last rites of the church.

Mr. Hinter is himself confined to the hospital at which his wife died. He entered the institution on Tuesday before his wife was stricken, having forgotten the incident of the tainted beans, for an operation on his foot. He was informed by physicians yesterday of his wife's death.

Mrs. Pinter is survived by her husband and two children, Irene, 14 years of age, and Louis, 10. She had resided in Fontana since 1921, at which time the family moved to the community from Toledo, O.

Artists Visit Palm Springs

PALM SPRINGS, Feb. 18.—Two newcomers to Palm Springs are arousing great interest here with the appearance of a motor caravan, the Snail, which, as the name indicates, is the house and workshop of Blanding Sloan. With R. Bruce Inverarity, young artist and musician, Mr. Sloan has brought his marionettes from San Francisco to El Paseo Art Gallery in Palm Springs, where a series of puppet shows will be given commencing Thursday, the 20th inst.

Inside the Snail is a studio with skylight, etching press and bench, cabinets of tools, copper and lithograph plates, cooking stove, porcelain sink, shower bath, water system, electric lights, refrigerator, two built-in beds and a clothes closet. Besides these there are the canvases, some still unfinished by Inverarity, and hundreds of magnificent etchings, block prints and dry points by Sloan. An artist of great imagination, there is that in his work that borders on the genius and the exhibition has already brought many art critics to Palm Springs. On Friday they are to commence a series of demonstrations with their presses, showing how the lithographs and etchings are made.

Hotel Manager Victim of Yeggs

VENTURA, Feb. 18.—Two armed men entered Hotel Henry last night and held up C. H. Sanderson, manager. At the point of the gun he was ordered to "put up his hands and shell out." The men left with $58, according to Sanderson.

The men entered the lobby about 11:55 o'clock last night and one of them shoved a large automatic revolver in Sanderson's face and told him to turn over the money.

Descriptions of the men were given police.

PRECINCT BOUNDARY IN VALLEY CHANGED

NORTH LOS ANGELES, Feb. 18. The North Los Angeles (formerly Zelzah) voting precinct has been greatly changed this year as regards boundary lines. The original precinct has been divided into two precincts and the hamlet of Granada, on the northeast, has been added to the new voting area.

For the benefit of voters now registering, Precinct 1567 includes the territory north from Roscoe Boulevard to Nordhoff street and west from Balboa avenue to Winnetka avenue in the Weeks Poultry Colony. Precinct 1566 runs north from Nordhoff street to Rinaldi street, which passes by the old Sunshine ranch house, and west from Balboa avenue to Winnetka avenue. This precinct includes the townsite of Granada, which three years ago was founded on a part of the famous Sunshine ranch.

SPRINTER TOO FAST BEHIND AUTO WHEEL

GLENDALE, Feb. 18.—Frank Wykoff, world-famous sprinter, must keep his hands off the wheel of his automobile for the next twenty days. Police Judge F. H. Lowe decreed today when Wykoff was before him on a charge of speeding.

Wykoff pleaded guilty to the charge and turned over his driver's license to Judge Lowe, who suggested that he do his motoring on the back seat of his car.

ITALY OUTLINES NAVY DEMANDS

Insists on Parity With any European Power

Advocates Elimination of Building Competition

Paris Cabinet Crisis Causes Lull in Conference

LONDON, Feb. 18. (AP)—The Italian delegation, in the naval conference lull caused by French internal difficulties, today reaffirmed to Secretary Stimson and Prime Minister MacDonald its demand for the right to built a fleet equal to that of France or any other continental power.

The head of the Italian delegation, Dino Grandi, outlined to the American Secretary of State and the head of the British government Italy's desire for the elimination of all naval competition, provided the other powers are willing.

The information Signor Grandi imparted in the two-hour conference is expected to be issued formally in a memorandum tomorrow or Thursday, similar to the statements already issued by the United States, Great Britain, France and Japan.

Signor Grandi's declaration today included facts and figures of tonnage and showed Italy and France to be far apart on the disarmament question.

FIGURES REVEALED

French fleet demands are based on what are considered absolute needs in view of her national position. Italy views the whole naval question as relative and indicates that no level of tonnage is too low, providing that other countries reduce proportionately.

Figures on present construction show that Italy is keeping pace with the French in new warships. The figures are said to show that of light auxiliary ships on the water or under construction, France has 231,000 tons to Italy's 227,000 tons. Of submarines in service at present, France is shown to have 32,000 tons, Italy 27,000 tons.

It is understood, however, the memorandum will show that while France is building 50,000 tons of submarines, Italy at present has laid down only 9000 tons.

The move made by Grandi today saved disarmament negotiation from the doldrums during the French Cabinet shake-up and provided the delegates with plenty of food for study during the absence of the chief French delegates.

SURPRISE MOVE

Georges Leygues, French Minister of Marine, officially informed Mr. MacDonald of the French political situation, while Ambassador De Fleuriau notified the other delegations that the work of the French conference group was completely suspended.

This was somewhat of a surprise because it was expected the French delegates would continue to participate in the technical work. But actually they probably will sit as observers when the experts meet tomorrow to continue consideration of special vessels and how they shall be placed in fleet tonnage tables.

The French delegation became apprehensive when it learned the nature of the conference between Grandi, Stimson and MacDonald. M. Leygues, the only French delegate here, left this afternoon for Paris.

Grandi's move was the first prominent part he has played in the London negotiations for a week

PLENTY OF WORK

A British spokesman said the delegates and experts remaining here will have plenty of technical work to occupy them for the week despite the absence of the French. He said that whatever changes occurred in the French government, there is little probability of the French conference policy being altered in London.

General sentiment is noted here favoring the return of Andre Tardieu as Premier of France, with Aristide Briand as Foreign Minister. The possibility of Former President Poincare being asked to form a Cabinet and coming here instead of Tardieu did not bring favorable comment from British circles.

American Held Murder Suspect

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 18. (AP)—A dispatch to El Universal Grafico today says that H. K. West, an American, has been held by the authorities at the town of Hidalgo de Parral, State of Chihuahua. West is suspected of having shot and killed an American mining man, George Robinette, in the town of Balleza a fortnight ago during a quarrel.

The dispatch adds that Robinette's body has been taken to Phoenix, Ariz., by relatives.

CODY GIVEN DON JUAN ROLE

Capt. Ayer Divorced Olive May on Star's Account He Declares in Reply to Alimony Suit

NEW YORK, Feb. 18. (Exclusive)—The habit among Hollywood stars of carving their names and endearing legends on each other's dressing-room doors resulted today in the naming of Lew Cody, handsome "butterfly man" of the screen, as the cause of a divorce between Capt. Wallace C. Ayer and his pretty wife, Olive May, of this city.

The disclosure was made in Supreme Court when Isaac N. Jacobson, counsel for Ayer, opposed Mrs. Ayer's motion for alimony and declared the couple had been legally divorced in Newport, Ky., last year. Cody is the husband of Mabel Normand," whom he married in 1926.

SUSPICIOUS GARB

In affidavits filed with the court Capt. Ayer asserted that on a sudden trip to Hollywood, he discovered his wife gowned in expensive clothes and wearing jewelry valued at $25,000 which he had not given her. A few days later he heard rumors his wife and the actor were too friendly, and said it was well known in Hollywood the two were on affectionate terms.

"It was not long after this," Ayer told the court, "that I picked up a motion-picture magazine and discovered a photograph of Lew Cody standing near the door of his dressing-room on which were carved all sorts of wisecracks and endearing legends. All had been carved by Cody's fellow-stars and some of them were cute little symbols.

"In the center of this unusual autograph album I was amazed to find the name of my wife and this little contribution:

"'A.W.O.L.—X. LEW.'

SIGNIFICANCE TOLD

"This legend was obviously significant and hardly needs explanation. It shows the handsome Lew was my wife's star and that she was absent without leave from home—my home. I accused her of intimacy with Cody and she smiled. 'It's none of your business,' she said."

Mrs. Ayer was persuaded to return to New York, Capt. Ayer informed the court, and in October, 1926, he broke the news to her Cody had married Miss Normand.

"She was greatly disturbed," Ayer declares, "and remarked that Mabel Normand had no right to marry him."

BRITISH CLOSING UP PRISONS

Criminal Population Has Fallen Off 70 Per Cent Since 1914, Leaving Jails Untenanted

LONDON, Feb. 18. (AP)—Britain's criminals are one class which seem to be traveling on the road which leads to gradual extinction. While the criminal "dole," as the prisons' appropriation might be termed, is decreasing, the government today finds itself embarrassed by too many prisons and military barracks.

Maidstone Jail, which is to be closed shortly, is the twenty-seventh institution of its kind to disappear since 1914. Since that year—memorable as the outbreak of the war—the prison population of the United Kingdom has declined 70 per cent.

The surplus of military barracks arises partly from reduction of the forces and partly because the scheme of army organization today calls for the concentration of troops in definite training areas rather than their housing in different parts of the country. It is doubtful if the great Sheffield Barracks will ever be occupied again. That is, unless there should arise emergency conditions.

Like many similar institutions, the Sheffield Barracks were built about the time when industrialism, still a new phase, was growing to its full strength in the north of England. Such barracks, for the most part, are veritable fortresses designed with the idea of providing refuge in times of civil disturbance.

The suggestion has been made in Parliament that London's two principal prisons — Wandsworth and Pentonville—should be razed and housing areas for the working class substituted.

POVERTY PLEA FAILS ACTRESS

Alienation Suit Against Marjorie Rambeau Tried Despite Her Absence

NEW YORK, Feb. 18. (AP)—Despite assertions of her counsel that Marjorie Rambeau, actress, is stranded in Los Angeles without carfare to bring her to New York, Supreme Court Justice Schmuck today ordered to trial a $100,000 suit brought against Miss Rambeau by Mabel Manton, actress. Miss Manton charges alienation of the affections of William K. Manton, her husband.

After Miss Manton and her witness testified, Justice Schmuck ordered the jury to return a sealed verdict to be opened tomorrow.

Miss Rambeau's attorneys sought adjournment of the case on the ground of her lack of funds to come here and the illness of her mother, whom she is attending in Los Angeles.

Miss Manton said her husband maintained a room for himself at the Hotel Remington in 1924, although both were out of work at that time. She said she entered Miss Rambeau's suite in another hotel in June, 1925, and found her husband with the actress.

Agreement on Christopherson Measures Fails

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18. (AP)—The House judiciary subcommittee today failed to reach an agreement on the Christopherson bills to carry out recommendations of the National Law Enforcement Commission, and referred to the full committee proposals to change the Volstead and Jones laws to define misdemeanor liquor-law violations.

The subcommittee also referred to the full committee without recommendation a bill by Representative Christopherson, Republican, South Dakota, to amend the Volstead law, and a bill by Representative Stobbs, Republican, Massachusetts, to amend the Jones law to define misdemeanor liquor cases.

MISSIONARY FINE VEXES WASHINGTON

State Department Holds Americans Not Subject to Courts in China

SHANGHAI, Feb. 18. (AP)—Reports from Tunghow that A. H. Smith, an American missionary, has been tried and fined $100 Mexican in a Chinese court for causing the death of a young Chinese in an automobile accident, are understood to have been viewed unfavorably by the American State Department which held that individual Americans are not authorized to submit themselves to Chinese authority except as specified in treaties.

Smith, according to unofficial advices, surrendered himself to the Chinese court after his car had struck down the Chinese. The case was watchced with interest because of its possible bearing upon the Nationalist government's efforts to abolish foreign courts in China and bring foreigners as well as Chinese under the jurisdiction of native tribunals.

PACE RUNS SIGNAL RAGGED

Television Outline Flashed 20,000 Miles Comes Back 'Fuzzy' But Recognizable

SCHENECTADY (N. Y.) Feb. 18. (AP)—For the first time in history, according to officials of the General Electric Company here, a television signal was transmitted over a distance of 20,000 miles today.

The experiment was conducted by Dr. E. F. V. Alexanderson, staff scientist of the General Electric, who transmitted the signal from W2XAF, the company's experimental short-wave station here, to VK2ME at Sydney, Australia. The signal was received in Australia and rebroadcast, being picked up again at Schenectady.

A pattern about a foot square was the figure transmitted. The original pattern had very sharp outlines but the image received after traveling 20,000 miles was said to be "fuzzy" in outline.

Dr. Alexanderson declared, however, that reception of the image at all was significant as intimating further possibilities in the transmission of pictures.

Poincare and Briand Both Confer With President

Three Solutions Considered for Present Crisis

PARIS, Feb. 18. (AP)—The solution of the Cabinet crisis caused by the overthrow of the Tardieu government had made not a single step forward at the close of the second day, which was devoted to President Doumergue's consultations with the most prominent statesmen of the republic.

The indications are that France will be without a government several days or even a week, and the London naval conference is at a standstill due to the fact that France will not be officially represented again until her home affairs are straightened out.

LEADERS CONFER

President Doumergue conferred today with the two men about whom Cabinet speculation is hottest—former President Poincare and former Premier Briand.

The President said tonight he had not called Briand to form a new Cabinet although Briand is certain to form a part of the new government.

Political circles believe that the President had not called Poincare with a view of asking him to head a government but merely is seeking his advice

THREE ALTERNATIVES

Three alternatives faced the President tonight:

The effect of the Cabinet crisis on the London conference has given an international aspect to France's domestic political difficulties. It is in this light that most of the newspapers comment on it.

BRITISH PRESS SCORED

In an outspoken editorial, Le Temps this afternoon warned its readers that "formidable pressure" is now being exercised on France in London to reduce her naval tonnage claim.

It affirms that part of the English press is conducting a campaign calculated to give a false impression of the French position, which it says is "a not overscrupulous maneuver of intimidation" intended to permit "some nations" to keep their naval supremacy.

The newspaper even goes so far as to hint that the London conference may have to be adjourned if the French Cabinet crisis lasts very long.

FALL OF TARDIEU CHILLS TARIFF PARLEY

GENEVA, Feb. 18. (AP)—The fall of the Tardieu government in France cast a chill this afternoon over the tariff truce conference, which seeks to destroy barriers to international trade.

Today's session ended early as the first two French delegates returned to Paris, leaving representation of their country to subordinates.

TWO NEW FOX PLANS OFFERED

Halsey-Stuart Group Seeks Removal of "B" Stock

Winfield Sheehan Submits Own Set-up

Stockholders Will Decide on March 5, Next

NEW YORK, Feb. 18. (AP)—Two alternative plans designed to rescue the Fox Film Corporation from its financial difficulties, both advanced by factions opposing the continuance of William Fox as the directing head of the concern, came to light today.

Stockholders will meet March 5 to act upon the plan proposed by a group of bankers and favored by Mr. Fox to issue $65,000,000 worth of securities. The meeting was called at the suggestion of Federal Judge Coleman, before whom the receivership hearings have been held. The notice to the stockholders revealed that Halsey, Stuart & Co., former bankers of the corporation, who oppose the plan favored by Mr. Fox, have also submitted a plan of refinancing.

ONE CLASS PROPOSED

According to the notice to stockholders, the Halsey-Stuart plan contemplates the exchange of both Class A stock and Class B stock for new common stock, all of one class. The plan, the notice stated, would eliminate the present voting power of Class B stock of which Mr. Fox personally holds 51 per cent, and also would require deposit of all new common stock under a voting trust.

The notice stated that Mr. Fox would not consent to the plan. The other alternative plan came from Winfield Sheehan, and Saul Rogers, vice-presidents and directors of the Fox corporation. They propose to raise $40,000,000 through the sale of debenture issues and the remaining necessary funds through sale of $25,000,000 of new common stocks.

The plan of the two Fox officers, it was reported in Wall street, would be submitted to the stockholders, its proponents claiming it is less costly than the plan favored by Mr. Fox. Its chief difference is that through the issuance of common instead of 7 per cent preferred stock, as proposed in the Fox plan, interest would be saved on $25,000,000.

COMMITTEE ORGANIZED

In preparation for the meeting, supporters of the so-called bankers' plan, which Mr. Fox favors, announced the organization of a Class A stockholders' committee, and asked for proxies for the meeting.

In a statement, it was announced the committee would seek the proxies of stockholders to vote in favor of the bankers' plan, believing that "the threatened receivership would be disastrous to the enterprise and its stockholders."

Action by Federal Judge Frank J. Coleman on the receivership petition of Mrs. S. D. Kuser, second largest Class B stockholder, has been withheld pending the stockholders' decision.

The committee backing the bankers' plan is composed of Morton F. Stern of J. S. Bache & Co., representative James M. Beck, Louis J. Horowitz, chairman of the board of Thompson-Starrett Company, Frank M. Dick, of E. F. Hutton & Co., all of New York; Arthur Eisele, Newark, N. J., Herbert Fleishhacker, president of the Anglo-American Bank, San Francisco, John L. Kuser, Dryden Kuser, and Edward Pierce of E. A. Pierce & Co.

WARNER'S EARNINGS INCREASE

Picture Corporation Has Gain of $2,711,384 on Quarter for 1928

NEW YORK, Feb. 18. (Exclusive) Consolidated net profits of Warner Bros. Pictures, Inc., and subsidiary companies for the quarter ended November 30, last, were announced here today at $5,629,108, after all charges, equal after preferred dividends to $2.07 a share on the common stock outstanding at the close of the period.

These earnings compare with $2,917,724 for the corresponding quarter of 1928, and represent an increase of $2,711,384, or more than 93 per cent. The earnings were also equivalent to $20.99 a share on the preferred stock outstanding November 30, on which the annual dividend requirements amount to $2.20 a share.

Net profits for the quarter ended November 30, 1928, included the earnings of companies then subsidiary to Warner Bros. Pictures, Inc., while the profits for the quarter ended November 30, 1929, include the profits of a number of subsidiaries added in the interim.

For the fiscal year closed August 31, last, the company earned $14,514,628, equal after preferred dividends to $5.23 a common share. The common stock is on a $4 annual dividend basis, the rate having been advanced late last year.

Honolulu Oil Reports Drop in Net Income

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 18. (Exclusive)—Honolulu Consolidated Oil Company reported today net profits for 1929 of $2,200,762 after all charges, including taxes, depreciation and depletion, equivalent to $2.32 a share on 944,900 capital shares outstanding.

This compares with $2,351,348 earned in 1928, equal to $2.28 a share on the same share basis and represents a decrease of $151,586. Gross operating income aggregated $5,033,200 against $5,209,220 in 1928.

Directors declared the regular quarterly dividend of 50 cents a share payable March 15 to stockholders of record March 5. Retiring officers and directors were re-elected for the ensuing year.

FINANCING APPROVED

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 18. (Exclusive)—California Water Service Company has been authorized by the Railroad Commission to sell $150,000 in first mortgage 5 per cent bonds and $50,000 in common capital stock to finance acquisition of the Marysville Water Company.

HIGHER BUILDINGS OPPOSED

Owners' Association Favors Present Height Limit; No Economic Need for Skyscrapers, Authority States

BY EARLE E. CROWE

Owners and managers of downtown office buildings are taking an alert interest in the agitation for the lifting of the height limit on buildings. The 150-foot limit in Los Angeles has recently been assailed by the steel interests and building groups ready to sponsor skyscraper structures. But from an organized association of office-building owners, the Building Owners' and Managers' Association of Los Angeles, has come unqualified opposition to skyscrapers and full indorsement of the height limit.

In a resolution recently adopted this association expressed itself not only in favor of the limitation on height in the city of Los Angeles, but recommended that the county enact an ordinance to conform to the same limit.

INVESTORS ADVISED

Taking up the question still further, C. A. Cooper, secretary of the Building Owners' and Managers' Association, offers data to show that skyscraper structures either downtown or adjacent to the central business district would not be financially profitable. He also suggests to investors in building securities that available statistics be studied thoroughly before any commitments are made in proposed high buildings in the city or county.

Mr. Copper holds that economic conditions in Los Angeles are not favorable to the profitable operation of the thirty, forty and sixty-story structures that dot the financial and business districts of eastern cities. Also, while he is not directly interested in apartment structures, he asserts the same conditions apply to projected buildings of this type in and adjacent to Los Angeles.

Economically, Mr. Copper reasons, high office buildings are desirable and profitable where there is urgent need for intensive utilization of ground space. This necessity, he contends, does not exist in this city's central business district nor in the residential apartment-house sections. The trend of growth is toward decentralization rather than centralization.

As conditions are now in the central business district, Mr. Copper states that figures show an oversupply of office and store space, a condition that hardly would be improved by the construction of skyscrapers. While downtown rental conditions are improved over the level of a year ago, he says the average here is considerably lower than for the remainder of the country and decreases whenever new space is added.

RENTALS LESS HERE

Figures taken from the most recent survey of office and store rentals in eighteen of the largest American cities disclose, according to Mr. Copper, that office rentals per square foot in Los Angeles are 3.3 per cent less than the average, and store rentals 15.7 per cent less. Insurance costs, moreover, are the highest in the country, according to this source, amounting in Los Angeles to 3.3 per cent of total expense, compared with 2.4 per cent for the United States. Taxes in Los Angeles, are seven-tenths of 1 per cent less than the average.

He estimates that a fair return on office buildings in Los Angeles at this time is probably 2 or 3 per cent over the life expectation of the building, eliminating changes in lot values.

Regarding new building of height-limit structures in the central business district, this authority ventures the opinion that well-planned buildings of moderate size may soon be needed in the established center, particularly in the middle of blocks where decayed structures now stand.

INVESTMENT UNIT REPORTS PROFITS

Net profits of Corporation Securities Company of Chicago for the period from October 5, last, the date of incorporation of the company, to December 31, last, were $630,091, according to a statement issued yesterday by Samuel Insull, chairman. The net worth of the corporation on the 15th inst. was in excess of $80,000,000, which was the value placed on the company's securities in connection with the offering of stock just prior to the market slump, Mr. Insull stated.

MARSTON NEW BOND PRESIDENT

Succeeds Elisha Walker as Bancamerica-Blair's Operating Head

Election of Hunter S. Martson as president of the Bancamerica-Blair Corporation was announced yesterday following a meeting of the board of directors in New York. Mr. Marston for the past ten years has been vice-president of the corporation and its predecessor, Blair & Co., Inc., and has been associated with the organization since 1908.

HUNTER G. MARSTON

He succeeds Elisha Walker, recently elected chairman of the board and active executive head of the Transamerica Corporation. Mr. Walker, while devoting practically all his time to the latter company, will continue as chairman of the board of Bancamerica-Blair Corporation, which is the securities affiliate of the Bank of America, N. A.

Mr. Marston is the son of Edgar L. Marston, now retired, who was one of the original members and for many years one of the active heads of Blair & Co., which was organized in 1890. The new president of Bancamerica-Blair Corporation is director or trustee in many outstanding corporations.

Since his graduation from Brown University in 1908, Mr. Marson, who will be 45 years of age next May, has always been affiliated with Bancamerica-Blair and its predecessor companies with the exception of his service in the World War, during which he became a member of the United States Army General Staff, being discharged in February, 1919, with the rank of lieutenant-colonel. The corporation he now heads as president maintains twenty-eight offices in the United States and one each in London and Paris. Pacific Coast offices include those in Los Angeles, San Francisco and Seattle.

EXCHANGE YEAR REVIEWED

Annual Report of President Jardine for 1929 Gives Summary of Progress Made in Period

Los Angeles Stock Exchange, reflecting an evolution and growth of security trading which had its inception here thirty years ago, closed a year of substantial progress on December 31, last, through added facilities, extensions and betterments, which placed the market among the foremost of the nation, according to the annual report issued yesterday over the signature of John Earle Jardine, president.

While the volume of trading did not reach the record level of 1928, new stocks issued representing many diversified industries of Southern California were added to the board; so-called "penny stocks" were dropped; tickers extended; new equipment installed; quarters enlarged; listing requirements raised and other innovations instituted designed to raise the standard of the market.

Comparing trading activity with the previous year the figures for the Los Angeles Stock and Curb exchanges are combined, since the latter was formed by members of the stock exchange in June, 1928, and many securities of the senior board transferred to the junior.

TURNOVER LOWER

Sales aggregated 53,172,799 shares with a market valuation of $651,086,943, as compared with 67,869,697 shares, valued at $943,016,457 in 1928. This represents a decrease of 21 per cent in share turnover and 30 per cent in valuation. Unsettlement in the oil industry accounted largely for the decrease, according to the report.

There were added to the board during the year fifty-four issues of forty-five companies, aggregating 17,297,863 shares, exclusive of additional listings of companies already on the board, which totaled 32,725,813 shares. These additions brought the total representation on the market at the close of the year to ninety-eight corporations and 126 issues aggregating more than 130,000,000 shares.

A new ruling that required all issues to be of $10 par value or more, or of no par value resulted in the removal of stock issues of nineteen companies, which advanced the average price of shares and the character of the listings.

PROTECTS INVESTOR

Another innovation designed to protect the investor and safeguard the reputation of the market was the appointment of a traveling auditor to investigate the books of members from time to time. After the severe break in October the exchange auditor immediately placed fifteen accountants at work examining the condition of members.

To insure rapid and uninterrupted dissemination of quotations, the ticker system was augmented by equipment capable of handling a 3,000,000-share volume in one day. The lines were also extended to San Francisco and San Diego.

While discussing the investment opportunities in Southern California securities, Mr. Jardine pointed out that it is well to cite the fact that dividend disbursements of companies listed on the market reached a record-breaking total of $210,233,748, as against $183,822,358 in 1928, an increase of 14.3 per cent.

OIL PROFITS OF WELLINGTON UP

Annual Operating Statement Issued by Company

Net Gain Over 1928 Placed at $140,882 Total

Net on Outstanding Shares Reported as $1.29

Net profits on operations of the Wellington Oil Company for the year ended December 31, last, totaled $387,618.58 after all charges except Federal income taxes, as compared to $246,735.80 in the preceding year, an increase of $140,882.78, or more than 57 per cent, according to the annual report of the company which was issued yesterday by D. S. Setnan, secretary-treasurer.

These earnings are equivalent to $1.29 a share on the $1 par 300,000 shares of capital stock outstanding, as against 82 cents a share on the same capitalization in 1928. With the addition of $214,528.51 realized profit on the sale of the company's Long Beach and Huntington Beach properties, total net profits for 1929 amounted to $602,147.09 before Federal income taxes, and $546,192.47 after Federal taxes. The latter amount is equivalent to $1.82 a share on the 300,000 capital shares. In 1928 the net income after Federal taxes was $225,415.75, or about 75 cents a share on the capital stock.

SALE CONCLUDED

The company last fall entered a deal with the Indian Petroleum Corporation to sell the Wellington, Long Beach and Huntington Beach holdings for $1,050,000. This deal was concluded with the final payment yesterday. The remaining unrealized profit on this deal as shown by the balance sheet of December 31, last, is $534,853.45.

Directors of the company are scheduled to meet today when it is expected they will declare an extra disbursement out of the profits realized on this sale. Since the deal went into escrow, the company has paid one extra of 30 cents in 1929 and another of 25 cents last month. In 1929 a total of $210,000, or 70 cents a share, was paid in dividends.

SURPLUS HIGHER

Unrestricted surplus as of December 31, last, was $386,915.45, as compared with a surplus of $120,045.29 at the end of 1928. Cash on hand as of December 31, last, was $385,078.37. Total assets were $1,318,981.49 and total liabilities, $97,212.59, leaving a net worth of $1,221,768.90.

The company is now operating on a forty-acre lease in Maricopa Flats on which its initial well is producing 750 barrels daily. A second well is now drilling on this lease. Other holdings are in the Kettleman Hills and in Eddy county, New Mexico.

Calumet-Arizona Pares Dividend

NEW YORK, Feb. 18. (Exclusive) Directors of Calumet & Arizona Mining Company today declared a quarterly dividend of $1.50 a share, placing the stock on a $6 annual basis. Previously the company had been paying $2.50 quarterly or $10 annually since the spring of 1929, but prior to that the annual rate was $6 on the old Calumet & Arizona Mining Company stock.

The reduction of the quarterly dividend is due to the unusually heavy expenditures for construction and improvements at the mines, and also because of the slack buying of copper metal. The dividend is payable March 24 to stock of record March 7.

Pacific Finance Adds Director

Jack H. Storey, first vice-president and manager of the motor financing division, was elected to the directorate of the Pacific Finance Corporation yesterday at the annual stockholders' meeting. All other directors were re-elected, after which the board approved the appointment of C. A. Banks as vice-president and Maxwell King and J. W. H. Aicher as junior vice-presidents.

In expressing his appreciation for his elevation during the year to the presidency, O. Rey Rule emphasized to the stockholders that Lee A. Phillips, as chairman of the board, is still the company's chief executive.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, Feb. 18. (AP)—A further decline during today's early trading in the cotton market was promoted by relatively easy Liverpool cables and the opening weakness of wheat. It seemed to leave the market in a better technical position, however, and rallies followed on trade buying and covering. Prices recovered about half their early losses with the midafternoon market quiet and steady at net declines of about 12 to 15 points.

COTTONSEED OIL

NEW YORK, Feb. 18. (Exclusive)—Cottonseed oil market was more active and irregular today, closing 5 points lower to 4 points higher, with the late months relatively steady. The action of the other outside markets was closely followed. After some early weakness prices rallied in sympathy with the recovery staged in cotton and grains. Lard remained unsettled and nothing further was heard on tallow. Sales, 11,300 barrels. Prime crude, 7.50c; prime summer yellow, spot, 8.50c; March closed 8.81c; May, 9.16c; July, 9.40c; September, 9.55c.

SEIBERLING COMEBACK DUE

Return to Presidency of Goodyear Tire Forecast After Ousting in Crash of 1921

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

(Copyright, 1930, by the North American Newspaper Alliance)

NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—Don't be surprised if Frank A. Seiberling returns to his old place as president of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company some time this year.

It is nine years ago since Mr. Seiberling, the president of Goodyear, passed out of the picture in the awful smash of crude rubber prices. He lost millions, trusteed his property, lost his home—and began again.

His friend, Edgar B. Davis, came to his rescue and guaranteed $5,300,000 of Seiberling's notes to enable Mr. Seiberling to start again. The Seiberling Rubber Company—a small modest company—was formed. It now has become a $10,000,000 corporation.

It was Edgar B. Davis who, seeing the possibilities in rubber, got the United States Rubber Company to develop Sumatra plantations. He made several millions out of this development.

Mr. Davis, meanwhile, drilling for oil in Texas, needed $50,000. Mr. Seiberling loaned it to him, and Mr. Davis eventually sold his production for $12,000,000.

Following United States Rubber's lead, Mr. Seiberling began the development of rubber plantations abroad and cotton cultivation in Arizona. Both were disastrous.

Some years after the Goodyear crash, Mr. Seiberling and Mr. Davis, working through Goodyear Shares, Inc., again began buying Goodyear stock. Today they control the largest single block.

Then Cyrus S. Eaton, a partner in Otis & Company, of Cleveland, saw possibilities in rubber, and began buying Goodyear through one of his companies — Continental Shares.

Will the next step be the taking over of the Seiberling company by the Goodyear to bring this seventy-one-year-old rubber genius back into the Goodyear picture?

There are many who believe this is the next move.

The value of all aircraft production in the United States last fall was $98,000,000, as compared to $62,000,000 in 1928. While this is an increase of 58 per cent, the aircraft industry was disappointed. To them, 1929 looked like a $125,000,000 year!

Air mail use is growing rapidly. Official figures show 7,097,099 pounds of mail were transported by air in 1929, compared with 3,542,079 pounds in 1928—a little less than 100 per cent increase in one year.

Now comes the announcement that the retail cost of airplanes is coming down. The Stinson Aircraft Corporation of Wayne, Mich., introducing a new series of four-place cabin monoplanes, is cutting prices from around $10,000 to $5775. Other manufacturers are following suit.

Sixty universities and colleges in the United States, with 2400 students enrolled, are today offering courses in aeronautics; while 1361 active flying students working last year for their pilot's licenses, flew 46,649 hours in the air without a single fatality or accident of major importance.

Pere Marquette Declares Extra

CLEVELAND, Feb. 18. (Exclusive) Pere Marquette Railway Company today declared an extra dividend of $2 in addition to the regular quarterly of $1.50 on the common stock, both payable April 1 to stock of record March 8.

The regular quarterly dividends of $1.25 on the prior preference stock and $1.25 on the preferred were also declared, both payable May 1 to stock of record April 5.

Among our current offerings are the 5% convertible debentures of one of America's leading public utility systems, priced to yield 5.85%. Approximately one year ago, we handled another convertible issue of the same utility company which carried a 4.50% coupon and was priced to yield 4.90%.

Not only has the yield increased nearly 1% during the year but the security has also improved very materially. The equity for $1000 debentures is now $2140 as compared with $1230 last year, while net earnings available for interest and depreciation have increased 177%.

The above figures, we believe, indicate the exceptionally attractive character of this offering at present levels. Detailed information regarding it will be gladly furnished. Simply send name and address below.

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, Feb. 18. (AP)—An extreme gain of more than 7 points in American Telephone convertible 4½s on an enormous turnover enlivened today's slightly firmer bond market. Prices in the general list were still scrambled, but investment issues of high rating showed better resistance than in recent sessions.

The trading in the telephone company bond was the largest since last summer, reaching a total of more than $5,400,000, principal amount. The debenture soared to 159¾ and closed at 158¼, following the stock into new high ground for the year. The net advance was 6½ points.

International Telephone's 4½ per cent convertible climbed to 123 and finished at 122½ for a gain of 1¾. American International 5½s and Texas Corporation 5s found a moderately busy market.

United States government securities moved irregularly, but most of the selling appeared to have evaporated and several issues made net gains. French Republic obligations were quiet on the news of the political crisis. The 7½s lost ¼. On the whole, the foreign group moved higher, with gains of 1 to 3 points in Bulgaria 7s, Berlin City Electric 6½s, Argentine 6s (October,) Australia 5s, Finland 5½s, and Bremen 7s. Tokio Electric Light 6s were taken in large blocks for a rise of ¾.

The high-grade domestic rails were mixed. Delaware and Hudson 4s, Missouri, Kansas and Texas first 4s and Pennsylvania general 4½s made fair improvement.

Utilities averaged higher under the leadership of American Telephone 5s of 1965, Columbia Gas and Electric 5s (May,) International Telephone 5s and North American Edison 5½s. Industrials were dull but steady.

The first of several pending municipal loans was awarded today. Toronto sold to a syndicate a $5,590,000 loan bearing 4½ and 5 per cent coupons, maturing 1930 to 1959, on a bid of 97.597.

The quotations represent sales of bonds (in thousands of dollars) and the high, low and closing prices in order given. To expedite transmission, the close is omitted when the same as the low, and both low and close when same as high.

WOOL MARKET

BOSTON, Feb. 18. (AP)—Demand for 64s and finer western wools is about steady, with prices unchanged from last week. Mills are continuing to cover only immediate requirements of greasy wools. The top market is somewhere more active and some top-makers have advertised, asking prices, but the bulk of business of 64s oil-combed tops is being done at prices in the range of 1.00@1.02 for tops that will spin fifty yarn.

LOOK FIRST TO SECURITY

In selecting investments, look first to security of principal and certainty of income. The sacrifice of dependability for a large interest return, quick marketability, or any other feature, has never proven wise nor profitable in the long run.

Who Reaps the Greatest Profits in the Stock Market?

The Short-Term Trader
OR THE Long-Term Investor?

The short-term trader who buys one day to sell the next?

Experience has shown that the man who buys this stock today only to sell tomorrow to buy another one…who forever buys on the day-to-day and week-to-week trend of the market …will find that his "profits" on one transaction will be more than wiped out by his "losses" on the next.

The purchaser of second or third grade stocks?

Many people buy the stocks of second or third-grade companies with the expectation that they will improve their position in a year or two…thereby resulting in profits. Lack of capital, mediocre management, competition and changing markets are only a few of the factors affecting these companies and not one out of many ever achieves first position.

The long-term investor?

America's wealthiest men such as Rockefeller, Baker, Mellon and many others purchase only the best common stocks with the intention of holding them for five, ten, twenty and thirty years and even longer. They have found from experience that this is the best way to profit from the ownership of common stocks.

The ideal investment.

For the average man or woman, fixed investment trusts such as Basic Industry Shares, furnish the ideal investment. This strong trust represents a participating ownership in 30 seasoned common stocks, such as American Telephone, Standard Oil, United States Steel, Etc. The 10-year average annual income which would have been available for Basic Shares is 8.55% on the 1920 price while the average appreciation over the same period based on the low market price of December 7, 1929, is 10.55% per annum.

We have on hand much interesting information about Basic Industry Shares which will convince you of the strength and attractiveness of the investment. To obtain this data, simply use the coupon below.

HOLLYWOOD KNICKERBOCKER HOTEL

Setting a remarkable record, the new Hollywood Knickerbocker Hotel, which was opened August 16th, last, is now 100% occupied and has a waiting list of applicants. This is conclusive proof of the all-round desirability of its accommodations and the excellency of its location—just one block from Hollywood's busiest intersection, the corner of Hollywood Boulevard and Vine Street.

For the investor seeking bargains, we suggest the 6½% First Mortgage Bonds which are secured by a 43% first lien on this $1,775,000 property. The issue has been certified by the State Banking Department as a legal investment for California Savings Banks. Bonds are exempt from California Personal Property Tax in opinion of counsel.

We shall be glad to send you detailed, descriptive information regarding the hotel and this attractive 6½% investment. Call at our offices or mail us your name and address below.

Utility and Aircraft Shares Shoot Upward as Petroleum Issues Weaken

Conflicting forces were at work on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange yesterday as the oils softened and the utilities were carried upward to new heights on a renewal of speculative activity. Eleven new high prices for the year were offset by eight new low marks. The air stocks were an added feature.

Southern California Edison led the turnover of the market and shot up 1 7-8 points to a new top at 64½. The last sale crossed the board at 63 7-8, up 1 1-4 points net. Pacific Public Service in the early trading jumped to a new high at 39 1-4 but reacted to end at 37 1-4, off 1 1-4 points net. Pacific Gas and Electric spurted 2½ points to 62½ and Pacific Lighting, 2½ to 92½.

Byron Jackson featured the activity with Edison and hit a new top at 23 1-8, falling back later to close at 21 3-4, up ½ net. Western Air Express and Douglas Aircraft, in sympathy with a strong demand for aircraft shares in New York, also hit new peaks for the year. The former reached 40½ and closed at 39 3-4, up 2½ points and the latter, after touching 15½, ended at 15 1-4 for an advance of 1½ points.

The oil stocks, while registering new low marks for the year, were not liquidated to any large extent and closed after earlier weakness in a fairly firm manner. At closing prices, Union was off 5-8; Union Associates, ½; Standard of California, 1-4; Rio Grande, unchanged; Richfield, 1-8; and Pacific Western, 5-8.

Western Pipe and Steel advanced a point to 28 1-4 and Pacific National Company, 2 points to 8. Transamerica, Pacific Mutual and Pacific Finance improved fractionally.

Sales totaled 38,284 shares valued at $1,093,700; previous day, 33,833 shares valued at $701,608.

Course Offered for Investors

Extension classes designed to aid investors and to assist in fitting people for executive positions with finance and investment corporations, were announced yesterday by the extension division of the University of California through Director L. J. Richardson.

The classes are entitled "The Stock Market," "Financial Organization and Management," "Business Investment and Finance," "Commercial Law," "Salesmanship," "Public Speaking," and "Applied Psychology."

Coast Utility Offering Due

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 18. (Exclusive)—Definite announcement of the offering of rights to buy new common stock will probably be made by the Pacific Lighting Corporation after the directors meet tomorrow afternoon, it was reported today.

The usual ratio of one additional share of stock at $80 for each ten held is anticipated. In such case the additional financing would amount to in excess of $8,000,000 on the basis of the common stock outstanding as of December 31, last.

Ten Per Cent is the net return after all charges, expenses, taxes and insurance.

$4717

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, Feb. 18. (AP)—Stock prices made further recovery in today's curb market, although a late selling movement cut down or wiped out many of the early gains, and left closing prices irregular. Buying orders were distributed over a fairly broad list with the aviation issues giving one of the best demonstrations of group strength, presumably because of organized support that usually appears in this group at this season of the year in anticipation of good spring business.

Utilities, the demand for which has been revived by rumors of new consolidations and alignments, encountered heavy realizing after an early outburst of strength. Electric Bond and Share closed only fractionally higher at 100½, after having sold more than a point above that figure. American Gas and Electric showed a net loss of 1¾ at 138¼, after having touched 141½. Northern States Power A and United Light and Power convertible preferred advanced about 2 points each and Central States convertible preferred jumped 27 points.

Irving Air Chute responded to the publication of a favorable 1929 earnings report by moving up to a new high at 16½. Aero Supply B, Aviation Securities, Fokker, and Western Air Express showed net gains of 2 to nearly 3 points.

American Chain and Drive-Harris, both of which reported earnings in excess of $9 a share for 1929, closed with net gains of 4½ and 1¾, respectively, after reaching new high ground for the year. Aluminum Company of America broke 20 points in odd lot transactions on selling inspired by the agitation for a cut in aluminum duties, but recovered all but 5 points of its loss. General Baking common recorded a substantial gain.

Interest in the investment trust, holding and trading corporation group centered largely in the National Investors issues, all of which attained new peak prices for the year. Marine and Midland and Goldman Sachs also showed conspicuous strength while the Blue Ridge and Shenandoah issues sold at new highs for the year, although the gains were held to fractions.

Oils were sluggish on reports of a further increase in crude production, although with the exception of Humble, Standard Oil of Kentucky and Standard Oil of Ohio preferred, which lost about a point each, the net recessions were held to fractions.

The closing price is omitted when same as the low, and both low and close when same as the high.

LOS ANGELES CURB

Fokker Aircraft Corporation, in line with a bullish activity in aircraft shares in the East, featured trading on the Los Angeles Curb Exchange yesterday. A total of 4700 shares of the issue crossed the board and the stock reached a new high for the year at 21 1-4. The close at 20 5-8 marked a net advance of 2 points.

Transcontinental Air Transport shared in the general movement with an advance of 2 points to a new peak for the year at 9 5-8. Indian Territory Illuminating Oil, subsidiary of Cities Service and a new issue on the board, attracted considerable attention with a jump of 4 1-8 points to a high and close at 39 7-8. Cities Service gained ½ to 32 1-4.

Claude Neon Lights of New York was sold extensively and knocked down ⅛ to 15½. Kinner was particularly active and firmed up 2½ cents to 1.25 and Detroit Aircraft gained 3-8 to 6 1-4.

SAN FRANCISCO

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 18. (AP)—Bulls held sway on the San Francisco Stock Exchange today, sending eight issues to 1930 record levels, while the market value of trading went to a new peak for the year at $3,294,922, crossing the 3,000,000-mark for the first time. Total shares sold were 99,046, and only $1000 went for bonds.

Utilities skyrocketed on an increasing variety of rumors, the most spectacular of which would have Pacific Public Service build a gas main from Kettleman Hills to Portland and Seattle. After setting new highs Pacific Public Service and Pacific Gas reacted. Pacific Gas retained more than 2 points of its gain, but the smaller company lost more than a point on the session, as heavy profit-taking nullified part of yesterday's advance.

Other changes in the utility group were fractional, with the exception of Spring Valley Water, which slipped back 2½ points, losing about half of yesterday's improvement. Pacific Lighting spurted 3 points, but retained less than a point gain.

Industrial leaders were Western Pipe and Steel, Atlas Diesel, Consolidated Chemical, Caterpillar, Crown Zellerbach, I. Magnin, Oliver Filters A and B, and California Cotton, all up 1 to 2 points. Fractional boosts were given a number of industrials. New highs for 1930 included Magnavox, Byron Jackson, Food Machinery, I. Magnin and Western Pipe and Steel.

Rainier Pulp and Paper touched a new low, though down only a fraction. Clorox lost a point, other industrials holding firm. Numerous reports of small pools were noised along the street, accounting for speculative activity in issues usually neglected.

Investment and financial stocks presented a better front, with Bank of California jumping 10 points on a single sale. Transamerica closed slightly higher. Bond and Share went up fractionally on belief that its holdings had appreciated. Occidental Insurance was at a new high at 25½. Fireman's Fund lost a ½ point, and Crocker First National skidded 2 points.

The oil stocks still presented a forlorn appearance, with new lows recorded by Richfield preferred, North American, Union, Union Associates and Standard, the latter being the only one to lose more than a ½ point. Continued reports of production running far ahead of consumption darkened the outlook for the group.

To Western Business Men
. . . a distinctive service

To Western Business
. . . an important asset

EMBRACING all of the outstanding features of the world-renowned Wall Street Journal of New York, The Pacific Coast Edition of The Wall Street Journal, now in publication on the Pacific Coast, also gives the business people and investors of the West the financial and commercial news vital to this territory.

This newspaper offers a distinctive service to Western business men in supplying this important information simultaneously on every business day to readers in Los Angeles, San Francisco, East Bay and Peninsular cities, Pasadena, Hollywood, Long Beach and other centers. Delivery is by carrier in many sections of these cities, and it is available by prompt mail delivery throughout the West and by airplane to the great centers of the Northwest . . . Seattle, Portland, Tacoma.

The Pacific Coast Edition is an increasingly valuable asset to business men and investors of this territory, providing — in addition to the important Eastern and world news, simultaneously with the New York edition — all the important financial and commercial news close to home.

In three months' publication The Pacific Coast Edition has proved its usefulness to all interested in financial and commercial affairs.

This distinctive service is available to you.

BULLS RESUME MARKET REINS

velopment was reduction of Calumet and Arizona's quarterly dividend from the $2.50 paid for three quarters to $1.50. The stock broke about 5 points to a new low for the year and red metal shares generally sagged.

Call money renewed at 4 1-2 per cent and held at that level, but funds were offered in the outside market at 4.

American Telephone was seized upon by bulls as a leader and bid up to a new peak for the movement at 238 3-4. It closed at 236, up 3 3-4 net. United States Steel was bid up more than 2 points to 189 1-2, fractionally above its previous high for the movement, but it closed at 187 1-2.

RADIO IMPROVES

Radio Corporation was bid up 2 points to 45 3-8, its best level so far this year. Westinghouse Electric rose about 6 points to a new 1930 high and closed but 2 points from the top. Gulf States Steel rose more than 3 points to the best level this year in response to reports both American Rolling Mill and Republic Steel are seeking to acquire it.

Eastman Kodak, which rose 11 points yesterday, slipped back 2 points. Shares losing a point or two included American Machine and Foundry, Electric Auto Lite, Chrysler, Consolidated Gas, Montgomery Ward, New York Central and Sears Roebuck.

Leading commodity markets broke further early, but rallied. Wheat futures closed nearly 1 cent higher and corn rallied in sympathy. Cotton closed steady.

Foreign exchanges generally continued to sag, with sterling, francs and marks reaching new lows for the movement. Sterling cables touched $4.85 15-16. With the steady decline in the franc, a return movement of gold from Paris becomes a possibility. The decline appears to be largely the result of the low Bank of France discount rate, which is 3 per cent.

LOS ANGELES MARKET

CATTLE—Light receipts were increased by around 400 holdovers from Monday. Trade was moderately active and firm on all classes. Some near-by California feed-lot steers and a load or two of intermountains were available, while several loads of New Mexico stock cows were offered. Quality was mostly common to medium in the she stock division, while the steers were of medium quality.

A load of 862-pound inter-mountain steers brought 11.75, with some 1056-pound near-by Californias at 11.60. Feeder buyers took several lots of thin Southwestern steers at 8.50@9.50.

Odd head of heifers turned at 9.25@10.65, with very common down to 8.00. A half load of 1044-pound inter-mountain cows brought 9.00, with bulk of common to medium kinds going at 7.00@8.50. Low cutters and cutters bulked at 4.00@6.75. A load of 860-pound New Mexico stock cows went out at 5.00, and several other loads were still in first hands. Odd medium to good bulls brought 7.25@8.50, with canner kind down to 6.50.

CALVES—The light supply of vealers sold fully steady with odd head of medium to choice light vealers scoring 13.50@16.50. Bulk of common to medium calves cashed at 10.00@13.00, with culls down to 8.50.

HOGS—Fresh supplies consisted of two loads of 181 and 182-pound Nebraska butchers which sold 10c higher at 11.25. A load of lightweight holdovers were still unsold. A few head of 166 to 190-pound truckins made 11.15, with some 127 to 146-pound weights at 10.50. A 230-pound packing sow brought 9.00.

SHEEP—Receipts consisting of six decks of Utah lambs sold early at strong prices. Five decks of 81 to 88-pound averages turned at 11.00, sorted 20 per cent at 10.00, while one deck of 90-pound weights sold the same way with the sort at 9.50.

Group of Rails Report Profits for Past Year

Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe reported net income of $61,071,746, equal after 5 per cent noncumulative preferred dividends to $22.71 a share on 2,416,293 common shares outstanding, against $49,930,430, or $18.09 a common share in 1928.

Reading Company reported net income of $13,586,741, equal after 4 per cent noncumulative first and second preferred dividends to $9.00 a share on 1,399,782 common shares, against $15,090,689, or $8.78 a share in 1928.

Wheeling and Lake Erie reported net income of $4,879,321, equal to $39.41 a share on $11,874,456 cumulative convertible 7 per cent prior lien stock outstanding on which unpaid dividends now amount to about $52.50 a share. This compares with $4,364,748 in 1928, or $36.71 a share on the same stock. Allowing for only regular dividends on the prior lien and the 6 per cent noncumulative convertible stocks the 1929 earnings are equal to $9.58 a share on 337,713 common shares, against $8.86 a share in 1928.

Louisville and Nashville reported net income of $13,726,556, equal to $11.73 a share on 1,170,000 capital shares, against $14,323,919 in 1928, or $12.24 a share.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18. (Exclusive)—Class 1 railroads in 1929 had net railway operating income of $1,274,774,183, a return of 4.95 per cent on property investment against $1,194,487,805 or 4.72 per cent return in 1928, the Bureau of Railway Economics announced here today.

METAL MARKETS

CLEVELAND, Feb. 18. (Exclusive)—Daily Metal Trade today says: Steel buying has fallen below the rate experienced during January, but business is holding up well in certain products, contributing a strengthening influence sufficient to support the optimism which is apparent in the various selling centers.

Tonnage booked so far this month in the heavy products is about on a par with that in the corresponding period of January, but strip demand is larger and sheet business has picked up considerably.

THE CHASE NATIONAL BANK OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK, Corporate Trustee

Interest payable without deduction for normal Federal Income Tax up to 2%. Pennsylvania and Connecticut 4 mills, Maryland 4½ mills and California 5 mills taxes, and the Massachusetts Income Tax not exceeding 6% per annum on interest payable on the Bonds, refundable upon application within 90 days after payment.

Business and Properties: Central States Power & Light Corporation furnishes electric light and power, and/or gas and/or other public utility services to 128 cities and communities located in the States of Iowa, Kentucky, Louisiana, Minnesota, Mississippi, Oklahoma and Texas. Through subsidiaries, controlled by ownership of more than 99% of all outstanding stocks, it also serves 62 communities in the States of Alabama, Missouri, North Dakota and in New Brunswick, Canada. The combined annual electric output is about 28,000,000 kwh., the electric properties including 7 steam electric generating stations, 8 hydro-electric generating stations, and 1,397 miles of electric transmission lines. Total annual sales of natural gas approximate 15,500,000,000 cubic feet.

In connection with the present financing the Corporation is acquiring Canada Electric Company, Limited and The Eastern Electric and Development Company, Limited, supplying electric light and power in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, Canada, and directly and/or through a subsidiary the properties of Western Counties Gas Company and the gas property of The Rubana Oil Company in Oklahoma.

Capitalization: Upon completion of the present financing the Corporation will have outstanding $13,500,000 First Mortgage and First Lien Gold Bonds, 5½% Series due 1953 (including this issue), followed by 80,000 shares of $7 Dividend Preferred Stock of no par value, and 40,600 shares of Common Stock of no par value. The issuance of additional bonds is restricted by provisions of the Mortgage.

Earnings: The consolidated condensed statement of revenue and expense for the twelve months ended November 30, 1929, of Central States Power & Light Corporation and subsidiary and controlled companies, including companies and properties being acquired as above stated, shows gross earnings of $4,658,707 and net earnings (before interest, reserves, etc.) of $2,053,936. Annual interest requirements on $13,500,000 First Mortgage and First Lien Gold Bonds, 5½% Series, due 1953 (including this issue), amount to $742,500. Net earnings (before interest, reserves, etc.) were thus equivalent to over two and three quarters times annual interest requirements.

Security: The First Mortgage and First Lien Gold Bonds are secured, in the opinion of counsel, by a direct first mortgage on fixed public utility properties of the Corporation now owned in Iowa, Kentucky, Louisiana, Minnesota, Mississippi, Oklahoma and Texas, and by pledge of all outstanding bonds and more than 99% of all outstanding capital stocks of subsidiaries owning properties in Alabama, Missouri, North Dakota and in Canada, all as more fully described in the Mortgage.

The properties owned by the Corporation and its subsidiaries have been appraised by independent engineers, on the basis of cost to reproduce new, less physical depreciation, plus an allowance for "going concern value," at more than $21,000,000. Adding to this the value of the properties now being acquired, likewise, appraised by independent engineers on the same basis, the total will be in excess of $24,000,000.

The above Bonds are offered for delivery when, as and if issued and received by us and subject to approval of all legal matters by counsel, Messrs. Rushmore, Bisbee & Stern, New York City, for the Bankers, and Messrs. Matthews & Kaegel, Chicago, for the Corporation. It is expected that Temporary Bonds or Interim Receipts will be available for delivery on or about March 3, 1930.

The foregoing is subject to the more complete information contained in the offering circular, copies of which may be had on request.

Price 90 and accrued interest, to yield about 6.30%

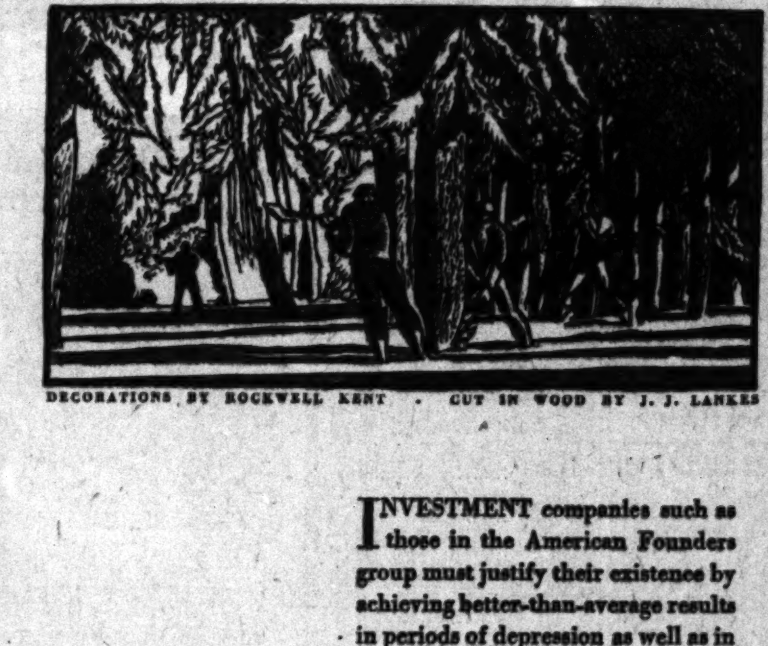
The economic value of Investment Companies



DECORATIONS BY ROCKWELL KENT · CUT IN WOOD BY J. J. LANKES

INVESTMENT companies such as those in the American Founders group must justify their existence by achieving better-than-average results in periods of depression as well as in times of inflation.

The funds contributed by the debenture owners and shareholders are invested and managed with a view to obtaining the highest income consistent with safety—to achieve in "good times" above the average yield and appreciation, and in "bad times" to experience less than an average shrinkage in earnings and market values.

A high average rate of gross earnings of all the five companies in the American Founders group, has been maintained since the first was formed in 1921. Interest and dividends have provided the basic income, while profits from sale of investments have been greater in some years than in others. In 1929 income from the latter source was unusually large.

From the total income the expenses, taxes and debenture interest are paid, reserves and surplus are built up and dividends are distributed to the stockholders. This unified management of the combined funds of many is devised to afford greater safety and income than the average man obtains through his individual operations.

American Founders Corporation, now controlling the other four companies, has consolidated resources exceeding $200,000,000. Copies of the consolidated report for the fiscal year 1929 may be obtained from bankers, security dealers or Founders General Corporation, (Representative, 111 Sutter Street, San Francisco).

Sharing the Prosperity of Many Companies, Many Industries, Many Countries

BY HOWARD KEGLEY

Although the six-day flow test for the Santa Fe Springs, Signal Hill and Seal Beach oil fields ends today at 8 a.m., reports yesterday indicated that figures cannot be compiled for several days, although the fact-finding committee is scheduled to meet Friday morning.

Umpire Paul Grimm for Santa Fe Springs and Umpire Neill H. Anderson for Signal Hill yesterday had nothing definite as to the probable potential for either of those fields, but from several quarters it was asserted that neither would yield what was expected a month ago.

As for the Santa Fe Springs field, yesterday it was expected to flow an average of 265,000 barrels of oil a day for the six-day flow test, and Signal Hill was expected to produce at least 155,000 barrels on an average, while Seal Beach would probably average 38,000 barrels a day for the six-day test.

Facts and figures will not be prepared for consideration by the fact-finding committee, of which W. E. Dunlap is chairman, before Friday and in view of that fact the general committee headed by P. N. Boggs cannot meet until early next week to check over the entire situation.

The six-day flow test for the Ventura-avenue field which ended yesterday morning at 7 a.m. showed 73,000 barrels of oil on the last day of the test, and when the averages are checked up it is expected that the field will show a potential of at least 66,500 barrels. During the test 9000 barrels daily remained shut in by mutual agreement between the various operators.

Shallow Showings

The Ohio Oil Company's Recreation Gun Club No. 2 southeast of Venice has encountered showings of oil sand from 3720 feet down to 3850 feet and will be given a production test to determine if it is good for any considerable output before drilling below 3928 feet, which is the present depth.

Showings in Ohio's well check closely with the company's Recreation Gun Club No. 1 discovery well, recently shut in to aid the State-wide curtailment movement. Field reports state that the showings were penetrated about forty-five feet higher than in the discovery well. Nothing definite has been learned as to the probable extent of the new field. It is believed that three or four other wells will have to be drilled to define the boundaries.

No Showings

Louis G. Simmel's test near the brickyard at Inglewood yesterday was drilling below 5087 feet in gray sand and had not encountered showings of importance. This project is northwest of the Potrero town-lot area and is searching for an extention of that field, where deep production was found by George F. Getty, Inc., York & Lockhart and a number of other operators.

In the Potrero town-lot area the Sunset Pacific Oil Company's Community No. 2, which came in a short time ago and sanded up, is preparing to run nine-inch water string with bottom of the hole at 5065 feet.

Nearing Producing Formation

The Standard Oil Company's No. 81, on Section 11 on the north dome at Kettleman Hills is slowly approaching the producing formation. Standard's project, which was killed with bottom at 6773 feet three months ago while producing 1000 barrels of oil per day, is drilling below 7050 feet and has less than 200 feet to go to reach the same depth of Milham's producing well.

Coring Ahead

The Barnsdall Oil Company's Borchard No. 1, located on sixty acres recently leased at Huntington Beach, yesterday was coring below 4930 feet on its way to a depth of 5100 feet. This project was formerly drilled to 4350 feet by Featherstone & Preston, but operations were tied up due to mechanical troubles.

Completes One

The Rio Grande Oil Company has just brought in Havenstrite No. 4 on Section 17, 11-23, at Maricopa Flat for approximately 2500 barrels of oil per day from a depth of 3310 feet. The company's new producer is south of the Doyle Petroleum Company's forty-acre government prospecting lease, where several producers have been brought in.

Four Nearing Completion

Four deep wells of the General Petroleum Corporation yesterday were swabbing for production at Santa Fe Springs, and will probably be in early today. The projects are Santa Fe No. 137-D, Santa Fe No. 190-E, Santa Fe No. 190-C and Santa Fe No. 191-D, and all are below 7925 feet in depth.

Preparing to Spud

The Milham Exploration Company has completed construction of derricks for Kern No. 7, No.8, No. 9 and No. 10, to be drilled for gas at Buttonwillow, and will be ready to spud in within a week. The Pacific Gas & Electric Company is taking about 15,000,000 cubic feet of gas per day from Milham's gassers, which were brought in over a year ago before the completion of the natural-gas pipe line into Buttonwillow. Milham's new wells will be developed for an additional supply of gas.

Fishing Drill Pipe

The Archer Oil Company's Watson No. 1, near Wilmington, is fishing for drill pipe with bottom of the hole at 5557 feet. This test had showings of oil sand and gas higher up in the formation and made a production test, but failed to develop production.

YOUR INCOME TAX

No. 14

To obtain a deduction for traveling expenses, which form an important item in the returns of many taxpayers, certain regulations must be observed. The taxpayer is required to attach to his return a statement showing the nature of business in which engaged, number of days away from home during taxable year on account of business, total amount of expenses incidental to meals and lodging while absent from home on business, and total amount of "other expenses incidental to travel and claimed as deduction." Among the "other expenses" are tips, which are held to be a part of traveling expenses, provided they are reasonable in amount. Traveling expenses are deductible only when the trip is on business. They are limited to such expenses as are reasonable and necessary in the conduct of the business and directly attributable to it. Examples are payment for the use of a sample room or the hire of vehicles in visiting customers.

UNITED VERDE NET INCREASES SHARPLY

NEW YORK, Feb. 18. (Exclusive) United Verde Extension Mining Company reported today for the year ended December 31, last, a net income of $2,988,897 after taxes, depletion and depreciation, equal to $2.85 a share on 1,050,025 capital shares, as against $1,020,025 in 1928, or 97 cents on the same share basis.

NEW BOND ISSUES ON SALE SOON

Los Angeles Offering of $1,500,000 Floated at $14,414 Premium

Awarding of $1,500,000 street construction bonds by the Los Angeles City Council to a syndicate headed by Anglo London Paris Company, the announcement of offering today of $2,500,000 Byron Jackson Co. convertible debentures, and purchase by a National City Company syndicate of $5,500,000 debentures from the city of Toronto, were the chief developments yesterday in the bond market.

Six bidders contended for the Los Angeles street construction bonds, which were awarded to the Anglo London Paris group for a premium of $14,414, the bonds to carry a rate of 4 3-4 per cent. R. H. Moulton & Co. bid $13,205; National City Company, $12,898.50; First Union Trust of Chicago, $12,158; Halsey, Stuart & Co., $6090, and Guaranty Company, $1635. The bonds are part of the $5,000,000 issue voted in 1924.

Financing by the Byron Jackson Co., manufacturers of oil well equipment, deep well pumps, etc., will take the form of $2,500,000 convertible sinking fund debentures, underwritten by a banking group headed by Tucker, Hunter Dulin & Co., American Securities Co., Dean Witter & Co., Schwabacher & Co., William Cavalier & Co., and American Investment Co. The company operates two large plants in Los Angeles and others in Northern California.

Conversion terms provide for the exchange of debentures into common stock on the basis of thirty-eight shares for each $1000 debenture up to December 31, 1930; thirty-six shares to December 31, 1931; thirty-three shares to December 31, 1932; twenty-eight shares to December 31, 1935, and twenty-five shares to January 1, 1940.

Associated with the National City Company in the purchase of the $5,500,000 city of Toronto 4½ and 5 per cent debentures are Dillon, Read & Co., Harris Trust & Savings Bank, Guaranty Company, Bankers Co., Dominion Securities Bank of Commerce. The bonds were awarded at a price of 97.597 to yield 5.08 per cent.

Title Concern in Annual Meeting

Stockholders of the California Title Securities Company, which recently purchased practically all the issued stock of the California Title Insurance Company and Metropolitan Trust Company of California at their annual meeting re-elected all directors for the ensuing year, and officers were re-elected at the subsequnt board meeting, Glenn A. Schaefer, president, announced yesterday.

The company also controls through stock ownership Security Title Insurance and Guarantee Company, Consolidated Title Insurance Company and the San Joaquin County Abstract Company. Assets of the Security Title Insurance and Guarantee Company, which maintains nineteen offices in California, amounted to $2,463,343.30 on December 31, last. Officers of the various subsidiary organizations were also re-elected.

Rock Island in Budget Boost

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18. (Exclusive)—Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railway has authorized expenditures totaling $24,000,000 for January and February, against $3,000,000 in January, 1929, it was learned today at the Interstate Commerce Commission. A line is being built in Missouri to shorten the distance between Chicago and the West, and a $2,500,000 station is being built in Oklahoma City.

It is not unlikely, it is reported, that after a special meeting of the executive committee of Rock Island tomorrow, announcement will be made of an issue of bonds to cover these undertakings and other expenditures contemplated. It is generally understood that the issue would be in the neighborhood of $25,000,000 and be convertible with all three classes of stockholders permitted to subscribe.

Transportation Matters Engage City Planners

Subways, elevated railways and universal transfers were debated last night at a meeting of the City Planners' Association at the City Club.

An open forum talk brought out a diversity of opinion on transportation matters. Universal transfers were held desirable.

Sentiment, except possibly in limited sections on the East Side, is against elevated railways and subways will have to be considered instead, it was brought out.

Donald M. Baker of the City Planning Commission gave an address on highlights of the recent rapid transit conference at the City Hall.

London Market Undertone Dull

LONDON, Feb. 18. (Exclusive)—The stock market had a dull tone today with trading on a small scale. Issues of trans-Atlantic interest held steady. Columbia Graphophones and H. M. V. Gramophone issues were easier. Tobacco and artificial silk shares were quiet while textile issues had an easier tone due to disappointing results of Bradford Dyers. Margarine shares were in better demand, the rubber issues were steady. The oil group had an easier tone. Rodesian mines were steady while Rio Tinto and De Beer Securities were dull. Ford Motors, Ltd., was quoted around £2 13-16, Brazilian Traction ordinary around 37½, and International Nickel around 38.

The gilt-edge division had a dull tone. Foreign issues generally were quiet. Home rails and Argentine rails and Canadian Pacific issues were easier.

Scotch Accent Proves Perfect

One of the high spots of the current attraction at the Boulevard Theater is the perfect Scotch accent with which Lucien Littlefield speaks. An amusing incident occurred during the filming of this production. When Littlefield and members of the staff at the Metropolitan studios emerged from the projection room after watching the daily scenes from the picture, they were accosted by an excited fellow at the door. He asked to meet the Scotchman he had overheard talking within.

"The only Scotchman in there was mysel," said Littlefield, in his best Scotch manner, and the astonished look on the inquirer's face revealed that he recognized his mistake.

Fox Film Corporation
Committee of Class "A" Stockholders

To the Class "A" Stockholders of Fox Film Corporation:

The undersigned Committee, some of whose members own and others represent large amounts of Class "A" common stock of Fox Film Corporation, has been organized at the request of Class A stockholders. The Committee believes that the threatened receivership of the Corporation would be disastrous to the enterprise and its stockholders. In order that these stockholders may act in a body for the protection of their interests at the special meeting of the stockholders that has been called for March 5, 1930, the Committee hereby invites the Class "A" stockholders to entrust to the Committee their proxies to vote their stock at that meeting.

Bankers of the highest standing, Bancamerica-Blair Corporation, Lehman Brothers and Dillon, Read & Co., upon the invitation of the Corporation and Fox Theatres Corporation, have, after much study and effort, submitted a Plan of Financing which, if accepted by the stockholders, will avert a receivership.

This Plan will come before the meeting for action. It is summarized and discussed in a letter by the Board of Directors which is being mailed to you with the notice of the special meeting.

This Plan, which has been approved and recommended by the Board of Directors of the Corporation and is about to be submitted to the stockholders for their action, provides funds to met the present crisis. It affords to all stockholders the opportunity to subscribe for new securities and to obtain whatever special benefits may accrue to the new securities to be created.

While the Committee, as above stated, believes that under existing conditions the Plan presented by the Bankers is the only method available to avert a receivership, the Committee reserves full liberty to act in such manner as may from time to time seem best calculated to protect the stockholders, and the proxies which it will request will be broad enough to permit the Committee to vote for this Plan or for any other plan that may be submitted to the stockholders' meeting.

News of Ships and Sailings at Pacific Ports

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 18. (P)—Changes in the coastwise sailing schedule of the Christenson-Hammond Line were announced here today. Vessels in the company's service between here and Portland, will sail on Thursdays and Saturdays, permitting Monday and Wednesday deliveries, respectively, at the northern city. The new schedule will be inaugurated Thursday with the sailing of the steamer Eureka, formerly the Glendoyle.

More than 400 Shriners and guests from the Islam Temple, of San Francisco, will be on the liner Yale when she sails from here tomorrow bound for San Diego. The Shriners will be gone on a five-day pilgrimage to San Diego and Agua Caliente. At the latter city a Spanish festival will be staged in their honor.

Outbound in the direct Manila and Singapore service, via Honolulu, the liner President Monroe, with Capt. Charles Jockstad on the bridge, will sail from here tomorrow. The vessel will leave port with a light list of passengers, but a heavy cargo.

SEATTLE, Feb. 18.—The new motorship Northland, built for the Foshay interests and recently sold to the Northland Transportation Company to be operated on the Seattle to Juneau run, put into Prince Rupert today in a disabled condition, reports from British Columbia revealed.

The Northland will be forced to enter drydock, owing to trouble developing in the propeller shaft when the ship was in Grenville Channel, seventy-five miles south of Prince Rupert, the report said.

Preparing for the spring and summer salmon canning season of the Pacific-American Fisheries, which will open thirteen plants and employ more than 3000 men, ships of the fleet will shortly come to Seattle for drydocking and inspection before sailing for the North, officials of the company said today. Most of the vessels are now at Bellingham. The Catherine D., will be the first ship into drydock here, coming about the 24th inst.

PORTLAND, Feb. 18.—The stern wheeler, N. Lang of the Western Transportation Company's fleet which sank in the Columbia River near Vancouver, last month, after being frozen in the ice for three weeks, was lifted at the Portland Ship Building Company's drydock today for hull repairs.

The vessel, which carried a $30,000 cargo of paper for Camas, was raised from the river where it sank and lashed between two huge barges then towed to Portland.

TACOMA, Feb. 18.—The Pierce County Port Commission has accepted the bid of the State of Washington for the entire issue of $500,000 worth of port district bonds, the funds from which will be used for the construction of the new grain elevator at the port docks. The State's offer for the bonds was par with a stipulation, the interest rate is to be 4½ per cent. The only other offer was made by a group of Seattle and New York financial interests, which bid 101.37 for the entire issue but asked 5 per cent interest.

LIONEL BARRYMORE TO FLY TO WIFE IN CUBA

Bound for Havana, where his wife, the former Irene Fenwick, stage actress, has been stricken ill suddenly, Lionel Barrymore will leave Los Angeles via airplane at 9:30 a.m. today. Barrymore received word of his wife's illness last night and immediately made arrangements for the quickest possible transportation to Cuba. He will go by the T.A.T.-Maddux Airlines and train to St. Louis, will travel from there by train to Miami, Fla., and will fly from there to Havana. Barrymore received an indefinite leave of absence from Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios, where he recently directed "The Rogue Song."

NOTICIAS MUNDIALES DE ULTIMA HORA

NOTAS TELEGRAFICAS

CIUDAD DE MEJICO, Febrero 18. La Liga Nacional de Campesinos expulsó anoche de su reunión a un grupo de comunistas. Estos se sometieron pacíficamente a la expulsión, limitándose a hacer una demostración de protesta en las varias redacciones de periódicos.

Luis León, ministro de Industria, se dirigió luego a los delegados restantes, y les declaró que el gobierno no estaba en favor del sistema comunista de repartir tierras, si bien tenía el propósito de seguir subdividiendo propiedades y dotando de parcelas a los campesinos hasta dejar completo el programa de la revolución.

Dijo que era impracticable en Méjico el método soviet, y que el gobierno prefería continuar obrando como las administraciones de Calles y Portes Gil lo habían hecho. Añadió que los pagos del empréstito agrario se extenderán tal vez por un período de cuarenta a sesenta años.

Pide un Obispo Mejicano se Apoye al Episcopado

CIUDAD DE MEJICO, Febrero 18. Publican los periódicos de hoy una comunicación del arzobispo Leopoldo Ruiz y Flores, en la que éste encarece a los católicos romanos que no tomen parte en movimientos sediciosos, sino que presenten su apoyo al episcopado, que busca la tolerancia y procura lograr un acercamiento con el gobierno. Ha protestado Monseñor Ruiz contra ciertos libros publicados en el extranjero, en lo que se critica la solución de la controversia religiosa realizada en Junio próximo pasado. Dice que esa solución mereció la aprobación de Su Santidad, y que, en tal virtud, los católicos romanos no deben dar oído a las censuras formuladas contra ella.

WASHINGTON, Febrero 18.—Un dignísimo y significado caballero estuvo hoy a visitar al presidente Hoover y a presentarle sus respetos. Trátase de Charles Evans Hughes, nuevo presidente de la Suprema Corte Federal. No había llegado el señor Hughes a ver al primer magistrado desde la confirmación de su nombramiento por el Senado, tras acalorados debates.

Accidente Mortal de un Oficial de Marina

WASHINGTON, Febrero 18.—El domingo halló muerte violenta el capitán de corbeta Walter G. Maser al acercarse a la chimenea de escape de la catapulta, en el momento en que ésta lanzaba un aeroplano desde la cubierta del "Nevada". El triste suceso ocurrió en Guantánamo (Cuba), segn parte oficial del accidente recibido hoy.

Heflin se Registra como Candidato a Senador

MONTGOMERY (Alabama), Febrero 18.—Si bien se halla inhabilitado para llegar a ser candidato en las primarias democráticas de Alabama, que habrán de celebrarse el 12 de Agosto, el senador federal Heflin, candidato a la reelección, cumplió hoy con la ley sobre Prácticas Torcidas, presentando formal declaración de su candidatura al señor Brandon, ministro accidental de Estado.

Pobre Inválida Quemada Viva

SMITHFIELD (Tejas), Febrero 18.—La señora Lora B. Buckworth, inválida de 76 años de edad, murió hoy quemada al declararse un incendio, que se cree haya sido originado por la explosión de una estufa de petróleo que había en su cuarto.

NOTAS LOCALES

Léense Composiciones Poéticas de Washington

El hecho de que Jorge Washington escribió versos acaramelados en su adolescencia les fue revelado ayer a los miembros de la Sociedad de Hijos de la Revolución Norteamericana. Quien se lo reveló fue el juez superior Stephens, que les leyó algunos de esos versos para probarles que el padre de esta patria había tenido una juventud normal. Leyóles luego su despacho de mayor, que le fue expedido a los 22 años de edad, y ello prueba que muy temprano quedó curado de sus achaques poéticos.

La alocución del juez Stephens fue pronunciada con motivo del mitin mensual del cabildo de Los Angeles en el Club de la Universidad. Presidió la reunión el doctor Lyman Stookey.

Dos Robin Hoods modernos atracaron ayer a la señora Emily Enríquez en la estación de gasolina que tiene en la avenida de Brooklyn, 2347. Se hicieron poner tres galones de gasolina, y le tendieron a la dueña un billete de $20. Al manifestarles ésta que no tenía cambio, los bandidos sacaron sus revólveres y la obligaron a abrir su caja registradora.

Viendo que en ésta no había más que $2.50, y después de oír a la señora Enríquez asegurarles que eso era cuanto poseía en dinero, los individuos le significaron con rudeza que no andaban buscando alimento para pollos. De un gran fajo de billetes que sacaron, pagaron a la señora los tres galones y se marcharon.

Oil Rectifying Net Income Up

Combined net profit of the Petroleum Rectifying Corporation for the year ended December 31, last, totaled $387,958.62, after all charges including Federal taxes, equal to $3.23 a share. D. C. Norcross, president, reported yesterday in submitting the first annual report to stockholders. The statement includes two months' operation of the wholly owned subsidiary, Petroleum Rectifying Company of California, the business of which was acquired on February 28, 1929, by the Petroleum Rectifying Corporation.

Compared with earnings of the predecessor company for the previous year, the 1929 earnings represented an increase of more than 28 per cent, according to the report. Gross business of the company in 1929 increased 16 per cent throughout the United States. Dividends of $126,000, or $1.05 a share, were paid during the year.

NEW ORCHESTRA TO MAKE DEBUT

California Symphony to be Heard Over KHJ

Program Follows Rehearsals for Eight Months

Hans S. Linne Wields Baton for Picked Group

The Times Forum, KHJ, 10:30 a.m., will present Edwin Schallert, drama critic of The Times. World-wide news at 12:30, 4:30 and 10 p.m.

BY JOHN S. DAGGETT

Making its debut as a stellar attraction of the local musical colony, the California Symphony Orchestra of fifty pieces will be broadcast over KHJ from 9 to 10 p.m. This organization has been rehearsing under the baton of Hans S. Linne for approximately eight months, and is composed of picked professional musicians.

The broadcast tonight is in the nature of an introduction not only to radio but to Los Angeles. Mr. Linne has produced such operettas as "Gypsy Love," "The Student Prince," "My Maryland," and "Madame Sherry."

NUMBERS ON PROGRAM

The program will open with "Rienzi" overture by Wagner, to be followed by "Caucasian Sketches," a composition of Ipolitow-Iwanow. The third number, "Ju Ju Maid," by W. S. Van Dyke, was written by the composer while directing the making of "Trader Horn" in South Africa. The two concluding numbers will be "Ballet Sylvia," by Delibes, and "Thousand and One Nights Waltz," by Johann Strauss.

Followers of KHJ, the pioneer major station in the development of radio in Southern California, will remember the broadcast of the Philharmonic Orchestra several years ago. This organization had ninety-eight musicians. It was grouped on the roof of The Times Building beneath an improvised canvas covering. The microphone was at the end of a wooden arm extending six feet from the side of the studio building and so arranged that the arm could be swung in a radius of half a circle and the microphone could be raised or lowered. How different are conditions today when through the perfection of condenser microphones, connected in series, it is now possible to place the microphone at various points in relationship to the orchestra and pick up all of the instruments.

DIAL FEATURES

KHJ at 4 p.m. Bernhard Levitow and his concert ensemble will be heard in Massenet's "Scenes Pittoresques." The concert will be broadcast from New York and will include selections from Mozart, Rasbach and La Forge. At 7 p.m. the story of George Washington's escape from a ring of British spies will be told. Lois Bennett, prima donna, will be the guest artist of this hour. At 7:30 p.m. Raymond Paige and the Sierra Symphonists will endeavor to break all existing speed records in a difficult program of classic and popular music.

KFI at 6 o'clock tonight will present Harold J. Stonier, educational director of the American Institute of Banking, as guest speaker. His subject will be "Bulwarks of American Banking." A musical program will be presented by the Chicago Little Symphony Orchestra. At 6:30 p.m. Olive Palmer and Paul Oliver will be heard in a medley of Irving Berlin songs. Paul Oliver will revive "Ben Bolt." At 8:30 p.m. the Sunkist Serenaders and James Burroughs will sing "Tin Pan Alley" and songs of Spain.

KFWB at 8 a.m. will broadcast a program of the Breakfast Club. Among the notables to be present will be Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Coolidge, Mme. Schumann-Heink, Lawrence Tibbett and the Duncan Sisters. It is possible that the guests may speak over the microphone. At 8 p.m. Johnston McCulley's new radio serial, "The Pest of the Rancho," will be heard.

KNX proclaims this as an evening of vaudeville. At 6 p.m. Lucie Lee, "The Southern Melody Girl," at the organ; from 7 to 7:30 p.m. a skit featuring Eddie Albright; at 7:30 p.m. Margit Hegedus, violinist, and Rosalie Barker Frye, contralto; at 8:30 p.m. Jou Jerville's Little Symphony with George Gramlich, tenor; while Roy Sargeant, bridge expert, at 9:30 p.m. will intersperse his weekly lesson with song and vaudeville.

KTM promises at 8 p.m. a program with Polly Walker, stage and screen star, in a half-hour of music and song.

"TIMES" THEATER GUIDE

MOTION PICTURES

Boulevard, Wash. at Verm't.—"Clancy in Wall Street." Charlie Murray and Lucien Littlefield frolic through a story about Irishmen and Scotchmen.

Carthay Circle, Carthay Center—"Devil May Care." The adventurous spirit of Napoleonic days is brought to light by Ramon Novarro in an acceptable musical drama of love and bravery.

Criterion, 642 South Grand—"Anna Christie." Greta Garbo speaks the lines of Eugene O'Neill's heroine in fine style. Clarence Brown has done some of his best directing.

Grauman's Egyptian, 6708 Hollywood Blvd.—"The Laughing Lady." Ruth Chatterton emerges as another gallant feminist who laughs in the face of scandal and wins Clive Brook. Average.

Loew's State, Bdwy. at 7th—"The Mysterious Island" and Paul Whiteman, in person. A fantastic film, well played by a stellar cast, and telling a yarn about the first submarine.

Million Dollar, Bdwy. at 3rd—"Night Ride." Opens today.

Palace, Bdwy. bet. 6th & 7th—"Hot for Paris." Rough humor and broad comedy, should you care for such. Victor McLaglen, Fifi Dorsay and El Brendel clown together.

United Artists, Bdwy. nr. 9th—"Lummox." Fannie Hurst's novel of sorrow wends a lagging way across the screen with Winifred Westover giving a feeling performance.

Warners' Downtown, Hill at 7th—"Son of the Gods." An unusual picture of fine workmanship, relating fast-moving drama on the continent. Barthelmess in a Chinese role.

Westlake, 638 Alvarado—"Hot for Paris." See above.

STAGE

El Capitan, Hollyw'd Blvd. nr. Highland—"Ladies of the Jury." The jury reveals itself as quite a humorous group in this farce comedy led by the capricious Mary Boland.

Majestic, Bdwy. at 9th—"New Moon." The popular operetta is well put on, featuring the song hit, "Lover Come Back to Me." Perry Askam and Josephine Houston.

Mission Play, San Gabriel—The beautiful annual pageant of the settling of California, up to its usual standard. With R. D. MacLean.

President, Bdwy. at 8th—"Give and Take." Big business in a canning factory, with Kolb and Dill arguing a lot and the audience laughing just as much.

VARIETIES

Body of Child Still Missing

WOOSTER (O.) Feb. 18. (AP)—The two men about whom centers the search for the body of little 4-year-old Melvin Horst of Orrville, who left his home nearly fourteen months ago to play and never returned, tonight continued their set roles of confession and protestation of innocence.

Charles Hannah clung stubbornly to his third confession in which he said the body of Melvin was buried on the bank of Sugar Creek near Orrville. Hours of grilling have failed to add definite description of the spot he asserts is the final resting place of Melvin.

Earl Conald, the other man held in the investigation, wearily says "I don't know" to every pertinent question.

MURDERERS BUSY DURING CRIME DRIVE

Young Mother and Chinese Slain and Youth Shot, Day's Toll in Chicago

CHICAGO, Feb. 18. (AP)—A young mother was murdered, a Chinese was slain, two women were attacked and a youthful pool hall frequenter was probably fatally shot during the last twenty-four hours in Chicago while police continued the round-up of floaters to snare criminals.

Discovery of the body of Mrs. Agnes Lavander, 35 years of age, on the Northwest Side, after an all-night search, turned much of the police drive against gunmen and hoodlums into a concentrated search for the slayer.

The two criminal attacks reported to police occurred last night. One woman was seized by a man and dragged into an alley. Another said she was attacked by two youths after an automobile ride with them.

The slaying of the Chinese, Dong Poy, 22, occurred early today and was witnessed by two cab company employees. They saw a man pursue Poy, catch and hold him and shoot him four times in the back. The slayer disappeared in an alley. No motive could be found.

Joseph Spizzio, 21, was shot probably fatally in a pool room on the West Side. The police refused to accept a story that he was shot accidentally during a playful scuffle and began a search for another youth.

Italian Senate Leader Confers With Pope Pius

VATICAN CITY, Feb. 18. (AP)—Pope Pius today gave a private audience to Luigi Federzoni, President of the Senate, an audience which revived talk that it might be connected with a proposal to give Italian cardinal archbishops seats in the upper house.

It was the first time that any Pontiff had accorded an audience to the President of the Senate of united Italy.

The audience also was taken as an indication that President Gruiati of the Chamber of Deputies would likely be received shortly as a prelude to the long-expected visit of Premier Mussolini himself.

WILL ROGERS DISCUSSES "CAL" AND ARMS MEET

WILL ROGERS, thumbnail essayist on world affairs, yesterday proclaimed Calvin Coolidge a quiet humorist, Lady Astor as world's champion woman, and Bernard Shaw as the greatest Englishman. The rope spinning sage, who crowds a volume into a paragraph box on Page 1 of The Times daily, analyzed what he calls the London reapportionment conference, from which he returned Monday, and finds in it hope "for the next conference."

Will had just finished a polo workout at Rogers's Ranch, Rustic Canyon, Santa Monica, when he gave his views yesterday.

Will Rogers

"First, I'm glad to be back in time to see Cal and his wife," said Rogers. "You know, it's a mistake people make when they think Calvin Coolidge is just a serious-minded man. Cal has a quiet kind of humor that goes over most folks' heads. He never announces his jokes in advance, but goes ahead and cracks them.

"I met a lot of nice folks over in London. Bernard Shaw is the greatest Englishman. The best speech I heard over there was by Lloyd George in the House of Commons. Lady Astor is the champion woman—and that goes for the world. The King speaks the most perfect English in his country—almost good enough to be American."

Of the naval disarmament conference, Rogers commented:

"Disarmament is a misnomer. Reapportionment would be better. It looked to me more like a building conference than a sinking conference. It is a monetary thing to save the taxpayers' money. It won't stop war. There will be no sinking. In fact, for many countries it is going to mean a lot of battleship building to justify the parity they are demanding."

However, he added that he thinks the conferences will do a lot of good.

"Certainly, as much good as any of the delegates hoped for," he explained. "But probably not as much as most peace-loving folks expected. The trouble is, the folks that don't know much about conditions away from home expect too much. If we had France where Mexico is and Germany where Canada is, we might want to sleep with a lot bigger gun under our head.

"Anyway, if they agree on a limit at this conference, they can go home and see if they can trust each other for five years, until the next meeting, without getting into a scrap."

Rogers predicted that at a conference five years hence something on a larger scale in the way of disarmament can be built on the foundations laid at this conference. He asserted that it will cost the United States an immense sum to obtain real parity with Great Britain, and that at present we are far from it, even in battleships.

"We never can get parity with England until we have a merchant marine like hers that can be converted overnight into a great navy," he said. He predicted that Italy never will obtain parity with France, adding: "It would be cheaper for her if she didn't."

He praised the American and other delegates to the conference, adding: "They all must make a showing. They're all appointed by somebody who has been elected, and none can appear to get the worst of it. France thought she got the worst of it in 1922, so now France is the cocky nation at this conference. Our American experts say one reason we must have a strong navy is that, in the last war, it was rather accidental that we fought with the Allies. England had interfered with our commerce, and for a time it was not at all certain on which side this country would fight.

"We must have a strong navy so, if in the next war this country takes a neutral stand, it can back its neutrality and not permit any interference with our commerce."

SAN DIEGO HOSTELRY PLANNED

Local and Mexico City Men Propose Tourist Hotel to Cost $2,000,000

Plans for a $2,000,000 tourist hotel in San Diego, backed largely by Los Angeles men, including Rex B. Goodcell, Willard Mack and Jack Dempsey, were announced yesterday by M. Penn Phillips of Phillips & Hambaugh Realty & Construction Company.

The hotel site, bounded by Fifth avenue and Sixth, Elm and Fir streets, according to Mr. Phillips, has been purchased for approximately $250,000 by the Compania Mexicana d'el Rosarito S. A., the organization which will handle the construction.

Architectural plans are by Gordon F. Mayer, San Diego designer, and call for a twelve-story Class A structure of steel and concrete.

Damage Action of Injured Boy Fails in Court

A suit for $25,000 damages brought by Lawrence B. Koontz, 5 years of age, through his father, Joe C. Koontz, as guardian, against the Los Angeles Baptist City Mission for asserted personal injuries was dismissed without prejudice yesterday by Superior Judge Bowron.

The child lost his thumb and the use of two fingers as a result of burns he suffered when he stuck his thumb into an electric socket while playing in a mission building under construction.

Attorneys for the boy asserted that the mission organization was maintaining an attractive nuisance in the form of a buzz saw and other things alluring and dangerous to children.

OLVERA PLAN SANCTIONED

Historic Street's Restoration May Proceed, But Judge Not Sure on Traffic Prohibition

Paving and improvement of Olvera street, near the historic Avila adobe house, said to be the oldest in Los Angeles, may proceed without interference from the courts in the form of a temporary injunction, Superior Judge Gates decided yesterday, after study of a long list of legal authorities submitted attorneys for both sides.

Judge Gates, after over-ruling demurrers to the injunction suit brought by Constance D. Simpson, a property owner on Olvera street, decided that the right of the plaintiff to have the work being done by some of the defendants enjoined is "doubtful and uncertain," but held that the court is "unable to determine from the facts before him" whether or not the ordinance which shuts off vehicular traffic from Olvera street in favor of pedestrian usage is "unreasonable and void."

Pending the hearing of the cause on its merits, however, Judge Gates found that "no damage nor injury will be caused the plaintiff by allowing the work to proceed," because, Judge Gates pointed out, the plaintiff has a means of access to the property.

"The City Council can, in a proper case, regulate traffic upon any public thoroughfare, where its ordinance does not conflict with State law," Judge Gates said. "The City Council may, in certain cases by ordinance prohibit the use of a street or highway to be described in said ordinance by any commercial or other particular class of vehicles.

"The ordinance or ordinances affecting the regulation or prohibition of traffic over any street must be reasonable, and designed for the protection of people who use such highway."

Judge Gates said he reached his decision after a personal inspection of the situation, which convinced him that Mrs. Simpson has proper access and egress to and from her property.

Attorney J. Wiseman McDonald prepared the case for the plaintiff, and Richard Kitzmiller, deputy City Attorney, and McIntyre Faries were attorneys for the defendants, who, besides Mrs. Christine Sterling, 910 North Serrano street, sponsor of the Plaza de Los Angeles Corporation, included the Mayor, members of the City Council, Police Commission, Board of Public Works and the Chief of Police.

WAY TO AID OUR TRADE DESCRIBED

E. E. Calkins Speaks For Clubs on Proper Approach to Foreign Markets

Good-will advertising that will bring this country into friendlier contact with foreign lands was urged by Earnest Elmo Calkins of the Calkins & Holden, Inc., advertising agency, New York, before a joint meeting yesterday at the Biltmore of the Advertising Club of Los Angeles, and the Foreign Trade Club of Southern California. The meeting was designed as an event of the foreign-trade week now being observed in California under the sponsorship of the State Chamber of Commerce.

A paramount objective in the effort to promote this country's world-wide trade is to stimulate a consumer acceptance of American goods, as well as of America, Mr. Calkins said. He stressed the importance of studying the psychology of foreign countries with a view to a thorough understanding of the right business approach to them.

President Bundy of the Advertising Club presided.

An investigation of just how much damage has been done by the ravages of the parasite, much like the termite that honeycombs timbers, is being conducted by A. B. Wicks, in charge of the termite control department of the maintenance division.

The pest was discovered yesterday in the courtroom of Superior Judge Gould when Bailiff Pruitt pulled out a drawer in his desk. The whole bottom of it crumbled and fell.

SOCIETY PLANS SERVICES

Society Sons of the Revolution will commemorate Washington's birthday anniversary with services in St. Paul's Cathedral, 615 South Figueroa street, Sunday evening, it was announced yesterday by Cassius M. Jay, president. The ceremony will be attended by Los Angeles Chapter, Society of Colonial Wars, Sons of the American Revolution and Children of the American Revolution. Bishop W. Bertrand Stevens will deliver the principal address.

BOARD ASKS WATER BONDS

Mayor Backed in Request for $38,800,000 and Election Urged for April 8 or Soon After

Formal approval of Mayor Porter's recommendations of a $38,800,000 water-bond issue was voiced yesterday by the Board of Water and Power Commissioners in a resolution requesting submission of the bond issue at a special election April 8 or "at the earliest practicable date thereafter."

The resolution asking the City Council to call the special water bond issue was introduced by Commissioner Palmer and seconded by Commissioner Brooks. The four members of the board present voted unanimously for the resolution.

SAME AMOUNT

The amount of bonds approved by the board is identical with the amount recommended last week by Mayor Porter. It is expected the bond resolution will be before the Council this morning for action.

The plan previously announced by the Mayor in his detailed statement points out that funds from the proposed water bond issue will be invested in acquiring for Los Angeles all outstanding water rights in Owens Valley and the Mono Basin, including water rights in Long Valley and Round Valley on the upper reaches of Owens River.

PROJECTS LISTED

Construction of tunnels and other diversion works required to bring the water from Mono Basin into the Owens River watershed also is provided in the issue. Provision has been made in the issue to finance enlargement of the present Chatsworth reservoir to provide 65,000 additional acre feet of Aqueduct water at the Los Angeles end of the line, and for construction of another new storage basin.

A portion of the bond issue would be used to build a dam and reservoir at the head of Owens Gorge in Long Valley and in enlargement of the present Owens River Aqueduct.

Police Badge Dies Approved

Dies for the manufacture of new police badges were approved by the Police Commission yesterday and payment of $900 to Glen L. Cox, their manufacturer, authorized.

Today the commission will consider specifications on metal for 2500 regular police badges and 500 special police badges. Metal of a gold tint which does not tarnish easily will be chosen and then the city purchasing agent will receive bids for manufacture.

Adoption of the new ordinance penalizing those holding present police badges and those holding the new type without authority awaits the new badge issue.

The commission also will inspect samples of new police uniforms today.

POMERANIAN DOG'S SPEED BURGLARY TRIAL ISSUE

How far a Pomeranian dog can travel in forty-five minutes may prove to be the deciding question in the trial of Dallas Van Cleve, accused burglar, who yesterday went to trial before Superior Judge Aggeler.

The defendant is charged by Mrs. Josephine Hill with burglarizing her apartment at 462 South Coronado street on July 12, 1928, taking $140 in money and gems worth $4000.

Van Cleve asserts in his defense that Mrs. Hill accompanied him on a party on the night in question and that she gave him the keys to her automobile, requesting that he go out and find her dog which had strayed.

Mrs. Hill asserts that Van Cleve used another key on the ring to enter her apartment and steal her valuables, according to Harold Jones, deputy District Attorney prosecuting the case.

Van Cleve states that he did not enter the apartment, but spent the entire time in pursuing and capturing the fugitive dog and returning it to its owner.

FITTS SUIT REHEARING REQUESTED

Registrar of Voters Kerr Asks for Written Ruling from Supreme Court

A petition for a rehearing of the suit brought by County Registrar of Voters Kerr ostensibly to test the election of Dist.-Atty. Fitts and County Supervisor Wright was filed with the clerk of the State Supreme Court at San Francisco yesterday in order to obtain a final and formal written opinion on the matter.

Two weeks ago the court issued a memorandum opinion that Fitts and Wright were legally elected, but did not issue a written opinion. County Counsel Mattoon and counsel for Kerr believed the matter of sufficient public importance as to demand a formal document. It is primarily on that ground that yesterday's petition rests.

Deputy County Counsel McAllaster, who assisted Mattoon in the matter, pointed out last night that neither the County Counsel nor Kerr's attorneys deemed the memorandum opinion sufficient in as much as the matter was left open to varied interpretations and can be finally and formally settled only by a written opinion from the Supreme Court.

Kerr brought the Fitts-Wright suit on a petition for a writ of mandate to compel the county to purchase 500 additional ballot boxes. He contended they were necessary if the election of the two officials was to be contested in forthcoming

BUSINESS FILLS COOLIDGE'S DAY

Former President Mentioned as Petroleum Mediator

Visits New York Life Office in Director's Capacity

Cinema Excursions Today to Engage Distinguished Pair

Calvin Coolidge's visit to Los Angeles brought forth persistent reports last night that while in the city the former President will be approached with the proposal that he accept a position as mediator and arbiter of problems connected with the California petroleum industry.

When asked concerning the reports last night Mr. Coolidge said: "I know nothing about it."

It was pointed out, however, that those who contemplate seeking Mr. Coolidge's advice on the grave problems of overproduction now confronting the industry would not approach him until preliminary steps had been worked out in every detail.

INSURANCE DAY

Mr. Coolidge put in yesterday in Los Angeles with a program he designated as "Insurance Day." Today, he said, he and Mrs. Coolidge will spend as "Motion Picture Day."

Shortly after breakfast in their apartment at the Biltmore Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge went forth on the streets—Mrs. Coolidge to spend part of the morning at a beauty parlor and to visit a fur shop, and Mr. Coolidge to spend most of the day looking into the local insurance field.

Accompanied by Clark Bell, supervisor of Southern California for the New York Life Insurance Company, Mr. Coolidge visited the offices of the company at 416 West Eighth street. Mr. Coolidge is a member of the board of directors of the company and visited in that capacity.

SHOWS INTEREST

He was the object of great interest on the part of company officials and executives as he moved about the offices and made numerous inquiries as to methods and conditions. He seemed particularly interested in what was being done in the direction of aviation insurance.

The local office was particularly pleased to have the visit from Mr. Coolidge because it was awarded the certificate from national headquarters for having done the greatest amount of business of any agency in the country. Mr. Coolidge, when shown the certificate of award, said he saw a good reason, being a director, for signing the certificate of award, which he did.

As he came from the building after his visit he was greeted with applause by a group of people who gathered when they heard he was within. Out on the sidewalk again, he waved away the automobile in which he had ridden from the hotel, saying he preferred to walk back "in the Southern California sunshine." Down the street he went, accompanied by Mr. Bell and by Detective Lieutenant Hynes, guard of the former President while in the city.

NONRECOGNITION RELIEF

Soon the crowd that greeted him at the entrance to the building had thinned out, and it was noticeable that most people passed Mr. Coolidge on the sidewalk without apparently recognizing him. It was a relief to Mr. Coolidge, for he sauntered on, taking in the sights as he went.

During the brief time between his return to the hotel and noon he was occupied dictating letters and telegrams and receiving visitors. He was particularly considerate of war veterans, a number of whom called during the day, although this fact is not to be construed as an invitation to all war veterans to come up to see him. He would have to draw the line quickly.

Daniel B. Smeltzer, 90-year-old veteran, came in from the Soldiers' Home at Sawtelle to shake Mr. Coolidge's hand. The latter interrupted his dictation and came to the door, smiling in kindly manner upon the veteran, who stood with outstretched hand.

CLAIMS TO FAME

"I just wanted to come up and shake hands," said the veteran loudly, "because I voted for you twice and I am sure I will live

MOORE'S BODY SENT EAST

Notable Persons Attend Brief Service Here for Ambassador Before Return to Pittsburgh

The body of Alexander P. Moore, recently appointed by President Hoover to be United States Ambassador to Poland, today is on its way from Los Angeles to Pittsburgh for burial in Moore's native city. It will rest in a magnificent mausoleum in Allegheny Cemetery wherein he provided a crypt for himself when he erected it to receive the body of his wife, Lillian Russell, stage beauty of a bygone day.

John K. Emge, for twenty years managing editor of Moore's Pittsburgh Leader, is accompanying the body and will arrive in the eastern city Friday at 10 p.m. Judge George V. Moore of Pittsburgh, a nephew, is preparing funeral arrangements. Moore's sister, Mrs. Sue Moore Addy, sole surviving member of the family, lives there and is nearest of kin.

A formal half-hour ceremony over the body was conducted here at noon in Bresse Brothers' chapel by Dr. Hugh K. Walker, ex-Moderator of the Presbyterian Church in the United States. Then the body was prepared for its journey and Emge departed with it at 6 p.m. via Santa Fe's California Limited.

The small company of friends at the service here was distinguished by the formal attendance of Peruvian Consul Manuel L. Ayulo and Senora Ayulo who did so at the cabled orders of President Leguia of Peru, one of the countries to which Mr. Moore once was Ambassador. There was another notable attendant, an unaccompanied somber-gowned woman of beauty who wept. From her hand went a white cape jasmine boutonniere to the lapel of the death robe. The gardenia, symbol of overwhelming attachment, was sealed with the body when the coffin was closed. Its card bore the name Helene Patten, described by one of those at the service as "an old friend of Mr. Moore."

Charles Chaplin, William Randolph Hearst, Marion Davis and Mrs. Samuel Goldwyn were among those at the service. Pittsburgh acquaintances of Mr. Moore in attendance included Mr. and Mrs. John James, Thomas Hinton, Kenneth Moffat, Mrs. W. C. Butterworth and Mrs. J. A. Grant. Relatives here at the service were Mrs.

The Lancer

by Harry Carr

THINGS are getting simplified in this world with a vengeance.

Law journals comment on the fact that all the high-flown language is being cut out of criminal indictments. Pressure is put on courts to word the instructions to juries in language that the average human being can understand. After all, we are not living in the age of Chaucer.

PRACTICAL

In army circles they are cutting out all "drill." In the French army nothing remains of maneuvers except a few simple movements to get a company from line into column and back again into line.

GEE AROUND

The rural militia captain that Abraham Lincoln told about seems to have been ahead of his time.

He forgot all his military science when his men came to an obstruction in the road; so he turned around and yelled: "Hey, gee around that hole to the other side of the road!"

THE CORPSE STIRS

The Ritz Carlton Hotel has been born and has brought real estate back to life. It came at a psychological moment—and roused the dead.

There has been more doing in Los Angeles during the last two months than for the two previous years.

Those of us whose moans have filled the air are firmly resolved that when real estate gets going again we will discreetly buy, sell it, then buy another, and so on. But when the harvest time comes once more it will be the same old story. We will go hog wild; buy everything we can lay hands on. Then moan again.

SOPHISTICATES

Mrs. Corra Harris, the novelist, has been appointed by Rollins College to make a study of evil. I don't know what that means, but I am with her in one thing—when she says that no one is so unsophisticated as these young people who pride themselves on being sophisticated.

NOT FOR AMATEURS

Mrs. Harris once wrote me a letter in which she said she liked the Lancer on account of its "serene insolence." This pleased me so much that I decided thenceforth to be upstage and terribly patronizing.

I began by experimenting on Tony, my favorite waiter. Tony always calls me by my first name and thinks very poorly of the Lancer.

When I gave him a good shot of serene insolence, Tony thought I was ill and slipped me a couple of pink liver pills which he said he always took when he felt that way.

Being serenely insolent is just darn discouraging.

BLACK TEETH

The newest fad of the society ladies in London is to have black teeth. Having thought this over, I should say that the new idea is all right if they don't swallow the juice.

W.C.T.U. MEETS TOMORROW

The Los Angeles Women's Christian Temperance Union will meet in the First Methodist Church at Eighth and Hope streets at 1:45 p.m. tomorrow. W. J. Helwig, superintendent of Association of Anti-Narcotics, will speak on "The Narcotic Situation in California."

Chief of Police Steckel will give his views on the situation.

This brought forth a hearty laugh from Mr. Coolidge, which the veteran enjoyed as he held forth his ear trumpet to catch the reply.

Two other Civil War veterans called in the afternoon. They were E. H. Rogers of 350 South Figueroa street, and William Holmes of 334 South Figueroa street. Mr. Coolidge came out and shook hands with them. Mr. Rogers has met all the Presidents since Lincoln, he said.

INSURANCE MAN'S GUEST

At noon Mr. Coolidge was the guest of the Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Company at the company's private dining-room, George I. Cochran, president, being host. It was entirely informal, the occasion of welcoming an insurance man, it was said, only a small group being present.

During the afternoon, Mr. Coolidge handled more correspondence, Mrs. Coolidge rested for a while and then came a number of visitors and callers. Some were business or political men and some were friends or acquaintances.

Last night Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge had as dinner guests at their apartment Mr. and Mrs. William Wrigley, Jr. Under the tentative program the Coolidges will be guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wrigley on Catalina Island, beginning tomorrow.

PROGRAM FOR TODAY

This morning Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge will be guests of honor at the regular Breakfast Club session. Maurice Demond will be the master of ceremonies with Warren Bovard as host. Jack Maddux was to have been host also, but owing to the death of his father will not be present. Mme. Schumann-Heink will sing, as will the Duncan Sisters. Other guests will include Gov. and Mrs. Young, Rt. Rev. F. L. Deane, Bishop of Aberdeen, and others.

From the Breakfast Club the former President and his wife will be taken by Will Hays and Fred Beetson, representin gthe motion-picture industry, for a tour of the studios. The first stop will be made at Warner Brothers, where the couple will witness a sound-color picture in production. The party then will proceed to the United Artists studio, where Douglas Fairbanks and Mary Pickford, Joseph Schenck and Samuel Goldwyn will be hosts at luncheon. Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studio will be the final stop on the tour, where Louis B. Mayer will be host.

PORTION OF HISTORY WILL BE READY MAY 1

CHICAGO, Feb. 18. (AP)—The first two chapters of former President Coolidge's history of the United States in 500 words will be submitted to the "publishers" May 1.

Mr. Coolidge advised Gutson Borglum, one of the "publishers," or, to be more exact, the "pressman," that the cantos dealing with Washington and Jefferson will be completed by the end of April, Borglum advised his office here.

Mr. Coolidge's history is to be engraved on the face of Mt. Rushmore in South Dakota, and will become a part of the national memorial under construction there. Borglum, the sculptor, is supervising the work. Colossal figures of Washington, Jefferson, Lincoln and Roosevelt will be hewn from the rock of the 1000-foot mountain.

The Mt. Rushmore Commission, "publishers" of the Coolidge history, have been advised that normal erosion will not remove the huge letters of the text for 5000 centuries.

BAY CITY MAYOR TO INVITE COOLIDGES

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 18. (AP)—Mayor Rolph of San Francisco announced today he will extend Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Coolidge, now visiting in Los Angeles, a telephonic invitation tomorrow to visit San Francisco. He said he believes the Coolidges would like to see this city.

WIDENING ORDINANCE WINS

The general ordinance calling for the laying out and widening of Avalon Boulevard between S and L streets, Wilmington, was adopted yesterday by the City Council.

MRS. COOLIDGE IN FIRST QUEST OF FEMININITY

What is the first thing a woman does upon arriving in a city after a long, dusty train journey? Correct. A dash to a beauty parlor, of course.

And being much like other women, that is exactly what Mrs. Calvin Coolidge did when the opportunity first offered itself yesterday morning. She left the Biltmore bright and early and went to a salon of facial esthetics on Wilshire Boulevard where she reveled in a two-hour session of facial massage and general relaxation.

Not the least part of her enjoyment of the interlude from callers, delegations and whatnot was the fact that the morning also was something of an old-home event, for she found at the shop several friends of her Washington days.

According to one of the shop's staff Mrs. Coolidge always patronized the Washington salon of this same concern and when yesterday she discovered several of the operators who had served her there she laughingly remarked that it was just like getting home. She seemed especially delighted, it was said, when Mme. Margarita Orlova, in charge of the shop, a personal friend, rushed out to greet her. Following an invariable custom of taking flowers with her whenever she went to the Washington salon, Mrs. Coolidge arrived with an armful of jonquils and freesias and said to Madame Orlova:

"You see, I brought flowers, because I didn't think you would know me if I came without them."

When the facial maneuvers had been completed Mrs. Coolidge went on foot to a furrier's shop several doors down the boulevard, where she renewed another old friendship.

"Why, hello, Percy," she said as she entered the store and was met by Percy J. Ayling, secretary to the proprietor. Mrs. Coolidge has known him ever since they were children together and her pleasure at seeing him was evident as they chatted for several moments before she returned to the hotel.

While Mr. Coolidge attended a luncheon at noon, Mrs. Coolidge had a light luncheon sent up to their suite, where she remained throughout the afternoon, resting and receiving a few callers.

Among the visitors of the day were Mr. and Mrs. Carleton Kelly, who are friends of long standing of the Coolidges. Mr. Kelly, who is president of the Southern California Amherst Association, was a schoolmate of the ex-President, and when Mrs. Coolidge first spied him yesterday, she lapsed into a familiar idiom of his college days and greeted him: "Has anybody there seen Kelly?"

Speaking of their visit afterward Mrs. Kelly said that Mrs. Coolidge thinks Los Angeles is "perfectly lovely" and is "quite charmed with it." She also expressed her surprise over the interest shown in their visit and Mrs. Kelly quoted her as saying:

"Why, we didn't realize that we couldn't travel like ordinary tourists. Nobody pays any attention to us in Northampton."

She explained to Mrs. Kelly her reticence about talking, in this wise:

"I have discovered that I can't say a thing without having it twisted into something with a political significance, so the best course seems to be to maintain strict silence."

Mrs. Coolidge has expressed great interest in the visit to the United Artists studios today, where they will be Doug and Mary's guests, and she is looking forward with keen anticipation to the trip to Catalina tomorrow as a guest of William Wrigley.

COLLEGE BUREAUS OF NEWS TO MEET

The second annual convention of the Western Association of College News Bureaus will be held May 2 and 3. The 1930 conclave is to meet on Friday at the University of California at Berkeley, and on Saturday at Mills College. The association, comprised of representatives of college news bureaus west of the Rocky Mountains, was organized in April, 1929. Officers are Harold Ellis, University of California, president; Arthur Coons, Occidental College, vice-president; Grace Walker, University of Southern California, secretary.

ACCIDENT VICTIM'S FUNERAL SET TODAY

Funeral services will be conducted for Cyril Mulvey, 18 years of age, at Pierce Brothers' chapel today at 2 p.m. Interment will be at Forest Lawn Cemetery. The youth died as the result of a gunshot wound last Sunday. He had been hunting at Dry Lake and was shot in the stomach when his gun was discharged accidentally. He leaves his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mulvey, and a brother Lester of 605 North Lafayette Park Place.

COOLIDGE INTERVIEW BRIEF

High School Girl Reporters Turn Mute

Charlotte Brown and Arnoldine Larsen

WHAT is probably the briefest and most fruitless interview on record took place yesterday in Calvin Coolidge's suite at the Biltmore when the ex-President's traditional taciturnity was outdone by two schoolgirls.

The girls—Arnoldine Larsen, 16 years of age, and Charlotte Brown, 18—sought an interview with Mr. Coolidge as reporters for the Manual Arts High School weekly. Admitted by the doorman after a two-hour wait, they found themselves suddenly and literally speechless by the rare privilege accorded them.

As the girls entered the room, the former Chief Executive extended his hand. Each in turn acknowledged the friendly greeting. Mr. Coolidge, prepared for a barrage of questions, waited for one of his young interviewers to ask something. For the moment that must have seemed a year to the girls, he waited in vain. Then, sensing their embarrassment and the reason for it, he requested them cordially to return at another time.

Outside the suite, the girls recovered their composure and admitted they had been so transfixed they were powerless even to read their questions from a list they had carried against just such an emergency.

COOLIDGE'S STYLE LIKED BY TYPIST

Ex-President Dictates in Short Sentences and to Point, Says Secretary

Calvin Coolidge as a dictator of letters is clear and distinct, forming sentences short and to the point, it was revealed yesterday by his Los Angeles secretary, Frieda Segal. She is of the Biltmore stenographic force. During the former President's stay here, she has handled his correspondence.

FRIEDA SEGAL

When Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge arrived they were engulfed in a tidal wave of letters, telegrams and invitations. Finding these beyond the possibility of two persons answering in long hand, the ex-President requested the services of a stenographer. Miss Segal was assigned. For an hour and a half both Monday and yesterday she took dictation from Mr. Coolidge. During that brief time he disposed of a tremendous volume of correspondence in a manner which won the admiration of his temporary secretary.

MOUNTAIN AREAS BAND INTO LEAGUE

Plan for Development of Vacation Playground Now Nearer Completion

With the adoption of the name, "Rim o' the World League," at the second meeting of representatives of San Bernardino Mountain resorts, plans for developing the region between Cajon Pass and Big Bear Lake as one vast vacation playground were a step nearer completion, it was revealed yesterday in a report to the Los Angeles Playground and Recreation Department.

More than half the communities in this mountain area have authorized their delegates to proceed with the original co-ordination scheme proposed last week. This will have for its objectives better road conditions, winter sports carnivals, beneficial legislation, new hignways and increased travel, the establishment of new playgrounds by cities and other public groups, the protection of wild game and better fire protection.

A publicity plan to draw vacationists from all over the United States to the mountains is to be one of the most important objectives of the new league.

Letter Displayed to Prove Double Life of Husband

A letter to prove that Oliver M. Langdon, police officer, was leading a double life was introduced by Mrs. Amelia Langdon as evidence when she went before Superior Judge Archbald yesterday seeking a divorce. According to Mrs. Langdon the letter was received by her, written by Mrs. Louise Vaccarella. It read in part as follows:

"Well, I suppose you think everything is O. K. now because Olie is back with you, but to tell you the truth he never has.

"I have seen him nearly every day since you've gone to him like a fool. I know a man couldn't play that trick on me and get away with it as easily as he did."

A decree was granted.

USED AUTO MEN FACING RISE IN FEE

Ordinance Providing for Charge of $200 Sent to Police Commission

Draft of a new ordinance submitted to the Police Commission yesterday by Deputy City Attorney Kitzmiller provides a filing fee of $200 by second-hand automobile dealers seeking a police permit to operate, instead of the $25 fee as at present. Annual renewals of the permit will cost $25 and there is a charge of $5 additional for every extra lot used by the operator.

A bond of $5000 must be deposited with the City Clerk to protect the city from any damage suit which may grow out of second-hand automobile sales, and the measure is to be retroactive, in order to enforce the same regulations toward old as well as new dealers.

The commission decided to take a week to study the measure before approval.

Fraud Suspect Will Be Taken East Tomorrow

James A. (Military) Brown, wanted in Atlanta, Ga., on a charge of using the mails to defraud and for jumping bail will leave tomorrow in custody of Deputy United States Marshal Mangerina, for Atlanta.

J. Marjorie Berger, Hollywood income tax adviser, will leave at the same time in charge of Matron Sullivan of the County Jail, for the women's Federal prison at Alderson, W. Va., to serve a two-and-a-half-years term.

Rites Today for Mrs. Fitts's Kin

Funeral services for Mrs. Loretta Gilchrist, mother of Mrs. Buron Fitts, wife of Dist.-Atty. Fitts, will be conducted today at 3 p.m. in Grace Chapel, Inglewood Park cemetery. Dr. Gustave Briglieb will conduct the services. Entombment will be in Inglewood Park Mausoleum.

Mrs. Gilchrist died unexpectedly from heart disease Monday at her residence at 8222 Marmont Lane. She was 65 years of age. She was born in Anderson, Ind. She came to Los Angeles in 1913.

Mrs. Gilchrist leaves two daughters, Mrs. L. H. Davis of Chicago, and Mrs. Fitts; one son, J. Q. Gilchrist of Los Angeles, a granddaughter, Mrs. Christine Spear, and a great-grand-daughter, Mary Lou Spear.

POSSES HUNT BANK BANDITS

Rosemead Institution Robbed of $5100 by Armed Pair

Four Employees Bound With Dog Chains by Men

Girl Book-keeper Frees Self and Rings Alarm

All county roads were patroled last night by deputy sheriffs in an effort to apprehend two bandits who yesterday morning robbed the First State Bank of Rosemead of $5100 and escaped. The men are believed to have been driven into hiding shortly after they fled in an automobile in the direction of El Monte.

Posing as a bank examiner, one of the bandit pair induced Walter West, 1603 Rosemead Boulevard, janitor, to allow him to enter the bank about 8 a.m., West told deputy sheriffs. The man on gaining entrance, compelled West at the point of a gun to enter a closet and chained him with a dog chain and padlock to the door knob, West said.

Leaving West under guard of his partner, whom he had admitted to the building, the leader went to the front part of the bank and lay in wait for S. R. Krom, 1811 Rosemead Boulevard, cashier, after first assuring himself regarding the bank's burglar alarms. When Krom arrived the man pressed the gun into his back and commanded him to open the vault, which he was doing when B. F. Berry, 1016 Baldwin avenue, Arcadia, teller, entered. Berry was covered with the bandit's gun and the two men, with Doris E. Kolbille, 1910 Glendon Way, book-keeper, who had arrived for work as the vault was opened, were forced into a second inclosure and fastened with chains and a padlock to the door.

While the prisoners were guarded by the second man, the leader entered the vault and gathered up the money. They left by the rear door and made their escape in an automobile described as a black sedan. The car was seen by witnesses to go south on Rosemead Boulevard and then east on Garvey Road toward El Monte.

Miss Kolbille succeeded in loosening her bonds and rang the bank's burglar alarm, which brought aid.

BODY OF MOORE STARTED EAST

E. C. Schubert and Mrs. Meriam Culbertson, cousins.

The service itself was simple, consisting only of the reading of a ritual by Dr. Walker and offering of a prayer. "Behold, I show you a mystery," he read of death from the Scriptures and with the quotation went other biblical observations of death and of immortality of the soul. Dr. Walker commended the departed to the mercies of Almighty God as a man of great usefulness to his fellows, and uttered a prayer that the unloosed soul would find safe anchorage where joy is eternal.

Ambassador Moore died here Monday of tuberculosis. He had been in Southern California since last August when he returned from his diplomatic post in Peru. He visited various local health resorts in vain effort to defeat encroaching death. Mr. Moore was born in Pittsburgh sixty-three years ago. He was a newspaper man of wealthy family, quitting publication of the Pittsburgh Leader, his last newspaper, to engage in diplomatic service.

POLAND GRIEVED OVER DEATH OF ENVOY

WARSAW (Poland) Feb. 18. (AP)—The newspapers of the Polish capital today displayed prominently the news of the death of Alexander P. Moore in Los Angeles. Gazeta Polska says:

"The sad news of the death of the prominent American diplomat and first United States Ambassador to Poland, who was not permitted to reach his new post, will evoke sincere grief in Warsaw Diplomatic circles."

PERU EXPRESSES REGRET OVER PASSING

LIMA (Peru) Feb. 18. (AP)—Morning newspapers today editorialized regretfully on the death of Alexander P. Moore, former American Ambassador to Peru.

He was "Peru's sincere friend," says the official organ La Prensa. The paper expresses fear that Mr. Moore's sickness prevented him putting into his memoirs that part relating to his activities in Peru.

"It is regrettable," adds the paper, "as the veteran publisher would have written these recollections with all of his affection as well as the enthusiasm of the enterprising man who understood the unbounded possibilities of our land, our geographic situation, and in a few weeks learned to understand and love our country.

"I accepted the Lima Embassy," he told us once, 'because President Coolidge and I agreed that I should not come to advise Peruvians what they should do or not do, but to ask them how we could serve them.' His diplomatic action here was always inspired by such principles."

SPANISH PAPERS PAY TRIBUTE TO MOORE

MADRID, Feb. 18. (AP)—Most of the Madrid papers today carried biographies and eulogistic sentiment in connection with the account of the death of Alexander P. Moore, former Ambassador to Spain. It is known that the King sent a telegram expressing his regrets to the family and to the American government.

Jones Promises to Pay Cowboys

Buck Jones, film cowboy, will settle the labor charges filed against him out of court, his attorney told Municipal Judge Curtis yesterday in requesting a delay in his trial date. Judge Curtis set March 11, next, as the date for further proceedings.

Jones is accused of failing to pay the wages due three cowboys whom he took with his wild west show on a tour of the Middle West last year.

Ebell Mourns Member's Death

Regret was voiced yesterday by Ebell Club members over the death of a charter member, Alice K. Parsons, senior principal of the Girls' Collegiate School. Many floral tokens from the club symbolized this respect at the funeral services in Chichester Chapel, Immanuel Presbyterian Church Monday. Dr. Hugh K. Walker in his address, reviewed Miss Parsons's activity in Los Angeles life of earlier days. She died on the 13th inst. She leaves a brother, George W. Parsons, and a sister, Emmie H. Parsons.

FOUR VERSIONS

(1.) Lewis testified yesterday that he had claimed most of the $7,000,000 in the account as his personal property while addressing a meeting of stockholders just after the Julian crash.

(2.) Lewis later in the day said that the money in the account belonged to the Julian stockholders.

(3.) Later Lewis maintained in his testimony most of the money in the account belonged to persons holding the worthless or overissued Julian stock.

(4.) And at last in reply to Tuller's questions Lewis declared that he did not know who owned the money.

However, into the transcripts of the day's testimony went Lewis's statement that he had assigned the majority of the "S. C. Lewis Special Account" to the late Frank P. Flint, at that time his attorney, to protect persons owning overissued Julian stock.

Millions, from what could be judged by Lewis's testimony of yesterday, did not appear to make very much impression upon the former oil man, for at one time he testified that he had "overlooked" speaking about a matter of slightly more than $1,00,000, part of the special account, which he said belonged to the former Lewis Oil Company.

KNEW OF OVERISSUE

Lewis during the day of cross-examination admitted that he knew of the overissue in his stock but maintained that he did not know the amount of the overissue. Later in the day he also admitted having informed a number of persons both in writing and by word of mouth that in his opinion there was no overissue. The documents and statements in this regard, it appeared, were made by Lewis just shortly before the crash of his oil company.

Questions put to Lewis relative to his former testimony before the county grand jury more than a year ago, and his testimony of the last several days in Judge Tappaan's court, brought out a number of differences but in each case Lewis was ready with an explanation or the statement that the shorthand reporter had not transcribed his remarks as he had made them.

With a full day and a half of steady cross-examination behind him, Lewis was yesterday informed by counsel that his examination will probably occupy all of this week and some of next.

WASHINGTON'S POETRY READ

First President Is Shown to Have Penned Many Verses in His Adolescence

That George Washington in his adolescence was a writer of poetry was disclosed yesterday to members of the Society of Sons of the American Revolution by Superior Judge Stephens. Judge Stephens quoted some of the verse to prove that the Father of His Country had a normal youth, and then cited his commission as major at 22 years of age to prove that he early grew out of it.

DECREE WON BY EX-WIFE OF CHAPLIN

Mildred Harris Divorces E. T. MacGovern; Charges He Didn't Understand Her

"It was a case of a clash of temperaments," was the way Mildred Harris, film actress and former wife of Charlie Chaplin, explained it after she was granted a decree of divorce yesterday by Superior Judge Archbald from Everett Terrance MacGovern, wealthy real estate dealer of Jacksonville, Fla.

"He just couldn't understand my professional career," the actress declared." You see I have been in pictures since I was 7 years of age—have always been more or less independent. And please let it be known I am only 26 now. So many of the newspapers give my age as 35." (Chaplin and Miss Harris were married October 23, 1918. At the time she gave her age as 17 years.)

Miss Harris declared that MacGovern came home one day and started packing up his belongings and told her he was going to leave.

Her testimony was corroborated by a nurse, Miss Sophia Rausser.

The actress was given the custody of the couple's one child, Everett John MacGovern, 4. She didn't ask for alimony and declared there had been no property settlement.

"I earn my own money," Miss Harris said.

Attorney G. Allen Frankel represented her.

Miss Jane Doe Sorry She Can't Hold Any More

LIFE is just one milk bottle after another to Miss Jane Doe, 2 weeks of age, who lies cuddled up in a pink blanket and gazes contentedly at the nurses in the California Children's Home Finding Society nursery at 919 East Twenty-fifth street. Between bottles she sleeps so, what's the worry?

Jane made her public debut in a somewhat unusual fashion. She arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. McMillan at 5727 Gramercy Place in a pasteboard box early yesterday morning, accompanied by a red apple. The apple was thrown through the glass of the front door evidently to attract attention. But Jane proclaimed her presence with a lusty wail, anyway.

Policewomen and nurses say she is the prettiest foundling they have cared for in many years.

ROCHESTER POUNDS DOOR BUT FAILS TO SEE JUDGE

State Senators stand on a common basis with everyone else when it comes to "seeing the judge," Senator Rochester discovered, according to court attaches yesterday.

Rochester, they said, told Court Clerk Maynard that he wanted to see Municipal Judge Curtis in his chambers. Maynard asked his business with the judge, which Rochester refused to divulge.

"Then you can't see him," Maynard declared.

Attaches declared that Rochester, angry at the refusal went to the door of Judge Curtis's chambers, on which he hammered with both fists for some time, with no answer from the judge. Later, in court, the attorney denounced what he termed the "czar-like" tendencies of Clerk Maynard, and expressed the opinion that judges, as public officials, should not refuse to meet any one wishing to see them in chambers.

"If we did that, Mr. Rochester," Judge Curtis said, "we would never get out of chambers to take care of the large number of cases which we have to handle daily in this master-calendar court. If any attorney or citizen has a legitimate reason for wishing to see the judge privately he can do so by explaining to the clerk, but it is impossible for me to talk to everyone who wants to see the judge."

Motorist Held for Boy's Death

James W. Taylor, 36 years of age, of 1443 East Sixty-eighth street, was held for trial on manslaughter charges growing out of the death of Walter Harold Hawkins, 6-year-old negro school boy. Municipal Judge Turney, before whom the hearing was held, fixed bail at $3000.

Dep. Dist.-Atty. Stahlman called witnesses who testified Taylor's automobile hit Hawkins, who was crossing the street in a school safety zone at Forty-ninth street and McKinley avenue, on the 6th inst. The boy was killed instantly, they declared.

Sons of Donor to U.C.L.A. Fight Mother's Will

Mrs. Margaret K. M. Melville was of unsound mind when she left the bulk of her estate to the University of California at Los Angeles, according to the assertions of her two sons, Bernard O'Connor and William D. Melville, who yesterday filed a contest to the will disposing of her $100,000 estate.

Mrs. Melville's will, dated seven months before her death, left $5 to her sons and gifts to others. The residue was to go to U.C.L.A.

LIFE DEFINED

A scientist's definition of life is that it is "just a heterogeneous collection of irreconcilable phenomena." When you stop to think about it, this definition is not very definitive, but it's a good thing to get the scientific viewpoint once in a while.

NOT ALWAYS BLESSED

Movietone men pictured and recorded John D. Rockefeller taking a taxi ride in an airplane. The 91-year-old oil magnate wouldn't risk taking the air. At the end of the ride he bestowed the famous shiny new dimes on the aviator and his wife. The young woman thanked him very sweetly. "Bless the Standard Oil," said the wealthy man.

WHISTLERS HAVE RIGHTS

A New Jersey judge released a man who had been arrested on a charge of whistling, saying that he believed in whistling, at least the kind that drives away the pangs of loneliness. Possibly it is to drive away such pangs that those motorists who seem to regard an automobile simply as a horn on wheels exercise their thumbs so freely on the button.

SOME SONGSTERS

Seven thousand canary birds were carried ashore from the wrecked steamer Muenchen, and it has been ruled that all of them will be subject to a tariff duty of from 20 to 50 cents each, according to value, for, of course, our thriving canary industry must be protected. If a few more cargoes of these birds are landed on our shores, as is devoutly to be wished, our income taxes will be reduced appreciably. So let the songsters come, not in single spies, but in battalions.

ALEXANDER P. MOORE

Men with the kindly personality, the skilled knowledge of human nature and political affairs, the firmness and tact required to fill posts in the diplomatic service, are rare and deserve well of the republic. A successful ambassador must be made as well as born, he needs the training of varied experiences in addition to his natural gifts.

Such a one was Alexander P. Moore, who came to Southern California last August to recover his health and after a hard fight with tuberculosis succumbed to a complication of disorders which the best medical care and the health-giving air and sunshine of the desert were unable to combat.

His taking off in the zenith of his usefulness has brought expressions of widespread regret not only from the national leaders at Washington, who knew him personally, but from foreign countries where he endeared himself for his consistent service both to the people he represented and those to whom he was accredited. After a successful term at Madrid, where he was a great favorite with King Alfonso and his Spanish subjects, Mr. Moore was appointed Ambassador to Peru, where he duplicated that record, so that the Peruvian government was among the first to cable deep regret at the news of the loss of a friend so highly esteemed.

Like so many other Americans who have filled positions of responsibility Mr. Moore worked his way up from the ranks, making the newspaper business the path by which he reached his subsequent successes in the diplomatic service. At the time he came to California for health and recuperation he had just received from President Hoover the appointment to the first-class Ambassadorship at Poland, where, had not fate intervened, it is certain he would have won more laurels and achieved more lasting friendships.

The people of Los Angeles, in whose city he waged his last fight for restoration and recovery, one and all echo the sentiment of ex-President Coolidge on hearing of his death: "He was long a personal friend of mine. His kindly nature endeared him to all who came in contact with him."

FALL OF TARDIEU

The American public would like to believe that the fall of the Tardieu Cabinet in France was caused by popular protest over the apparent determination of the government to make difficult or impossible the full success of the naval parley at London, but unfortunately the dispatches do not indicate that such was the case. On its face, at least, the failure of the government's vote of confidence was wholly on a question of internal policy.

Before the French delegation at London is reconstituted, however, the new Cabinet must put a whole schedule of policies before the Chamber of Deputies, and the occasion offers opportunity for a change in attitude. There is little doubt that Foreign Minister Briand is at present the guiding spirit of French naval policy, and if he should continue to be such there is little hope of a change.

The customarily logical French seem to be somewhat less logical than usual in their demands at London. They insist that French security must be assured, either by a large navy or by treaties of alliance which would guarantee the status quo in the Mediterranean. They are willing to yield on ships if Britain, Spain and Italy will give the requisite guarantees that the Mediterranean will be kept a peaceful ocean. But if treaties will satisfy them, what is the matter with the existing treaties?

All the nations concerned are signatories both of the League of Nations treaty and the Kellogg-Briand pact, which contain the mutual pledges, inferentially at least, that France says she desires. The peace of the Mediterranean, as of the world, could not be disturbed without a breach of one or both of these agreements. And a treaty of alliance can be breached as easily as any other treaty.

Germany made a scrap of paper of her guarantee of Belgian neutrality. Italy was bound in the Triple Alliance to go to war on behalf of Germany and Austria in case those powers were attacked; she forsook the alliance and made war on both—justifiably so, in the opinion of most, but that does not alter the fact that her allies were abandoned and treaty obligations evaded.

If there is no binding force in the League pact and the Kellogg-Briand pact, no real dependence could be placed in a Mediterranean security pact.

There is no doubt that France is nervous and fearful, and her attitude, based on past experience, is quite understandable. It is also possible that her real attitude is being masked at London. It may be that, for purposes of national pride, she seeks a possible naval rating that she has no real intention of building up to, and that she would really be satisfied, with a strong navy on paper, to put very few actual vessels into the water.

If this is the situation, the French delegation doubtless will be able to drop a hint of it at London and make possible an agreement. That seems to be the best hope of real disarmament. Limitation of ships without reduction would not lift much of a burden from the shoulders of the world's taxpayers.

Italy has frankly announced that this is her position.

MORE JOHNSON TRICKERY

The manner in which Senator Johnson is "representing" the State of California in the Senate of the United States again is brought to forcible attention by the reporting of the Harris bill by the Senate Immigration Committee, without the opportunity for a hearing. To say that this bill was sneaked out of committee is to put it mildly; five minutes before the meeting which voted to report it, newspaper men were assured that the bill would not come up.

Senator Johnson, who, as former chairman of the committee, had given his pledge that a hearing would be granted, absented himself from the committee meeting and sent word that he did not care to vote one way or the other on Mexican immigration. But Johnson's pledges, whether or not they are considered binding on Johnson himself (and usually they are not) should have bound the committee.

The Harris bill, providing for restriction of Mexican immigration to a greater extent than the companion proposals in the House, means the death of Southern California agriculture and great hindrance to other industries, but doubtless Senator Johnson figures that these results will not come in his time and in the meanwhile votes can be garnered from both sides, if he can continue to make each believe he is its friend.

California is, however, given a breathing space by the legislative jam since it is not considered likely that immigration measures can be voted on at this session. At the next session the State must be prepared with the overwhelming arguments which are its command, if it takes the trouble to present them. On its merits, with all the facts understood by the legislators, the Harris bill could get nowhere. Its passage depends upon such legislative trickery as Senator Johnson acquiesced in when he let the committee report the measure without recording a protest.

EXPLAINING THE PANIC

Financial experts and near-experts have been busy explaining the Wall-street panic of 1929 ever since it happened and are still at it. Two of the latest explanations are those of Congressman McFadden, chairman of the House Committee on Banking and Currency and author of the McFadden banking law, and Prof. Irving Fisher of Yale. Congressman McFadden blames the Federal Reserve Board in a current magazine article while Dr. Fisher, in a book, "The Stock Market Crash and After," declares the panic started in London and was partly caused by the Hatry failure. The two explanations are diametrically at variance, and the public, if it wants to, can take its choice. Or it can pick some of the hundreds of others.

At first glance, Dr. Fisher's explanation seems ingenious and reasonable and it is bolstered with a chart of world stock prices which shows that slumps in London, Berlin and Paris preceded the September and October smash in New York. The London decline began eight months before, in fact, and was, according to Dr. Fisher, much more severe than in New York, though more prolonged. British stocks, he says, fell 45.4 per cent, while the average American decline was 38 per cent. It was the greatest fall of stock prices in British history, comparable only with the Baring panic of 1890, and was brought to a climax with the collapse of the banking house of Clarence Hatry in August, his arrest and the disclosures of stock forgeries on a gigantic scale.

This, Dr. Fisher believes, brought about British liquidation in London and New York and tremendous withdrawals of European money from the New York market which may have reached $800,000,000 or even more. The strain of this liquidation was too much for the inflated American market.

Congressman McFadden's theory ignores any British or European influence and declares the Reserve Board plunged its banking system into "a questionable policy of easy or cheap money . . . to compel an export of gold, on the pretext that the sending of large quantities of this precious metal would assist our European friends to re-establish themselves more firmly upon a gold basis." This was in 1927; but in 1929, he asserts, the board insisted upon deflation and thus produced the stock recession.

The Congressman overlooks the fact that there undoubtedly was an exportable surplus of gold in this country in 1927, and still is, though it has been reduced somewhat; and that the "deflation" was announced so far in advance that the whole world had ample notice. It was not the Reserve Board's fault that speculators paid no attention. It surely would have been to blame if it had considered an inflated condition existing and said nothing about it!

Mr. McFadden has long been an opponent of the Federal Reserve management. Some of the actions he criticises, though he omits to say so, were taken during the governorship of the late Benjamin Strong, whose outstanding ability had international recognition. Others had and have the cordial approval of Secretary Mellon, who, indeed, has supported the Federal Reserve Board throughout in its measures and policies. In view of these things, what the author of the McFadden Act says about the panic need not be taken too seriously.

FOR BETTER OR WORSE

A clinic to handle the ills aboard the good ship Courtship is about to be started in Los Angeles. The law has tried to give smooth passage for the vessel with varying success. Educational agencies have made attempts to keep the boat afloat in vain. For last year three out of five ventures launched on the sea of matrimony in Los Angeles went on the rocks.

So Dr. Paul Popenoe, specialist in heredity and eugenics, with several others, has started an Institute of Family Relations. At least the territory and opportunity are wide open for such an institution.

Persons contemplating matrimony may matriculate and take special courses in the art of living together. Frugality for both the parties of the first and second part should be enjoined. Neatness and dispatch ought to have prominent place in the curriculum. An Institute of Family Relations should abolish all the other relations. One of the requirements for a diploma ought to be to learn to give bouquets and candy after as before marriage. An indoor gymnasium where both parties could be trained to hold the tongue might employ a seminar—and it should run throughout the course. The faculty has a big job cut out for it.

The LEE SIDE o' L.A.

BY Lee Shippey

WHY not turn all our city halls into art galleries?

Throughout the country, the average small city hall is a place where small town politicians loaf, gossip and chew tobacco and the rag. Its walls are as blank as the minds of the voters.

CITY HALL
A LITTLE TOUCH OF CULTURE AT LAST!

Recently the painting of three Sierra Madre artists were exhibited in the Los Angeles City Hall, a rather unusual honor for out-of-town artists. But Sierra Madre happens to possess—people don't merely live in Sierra Madre, they are possessed by it—several artists of distinction. So the art committee of the Sierra Madre Woman's Club has suggested to the City Council that the blank walls of the large assembly room of that city hall be decorated with the paintings of these artists and the assembly room made, in effect, a municipal art gallery.

There are many communities in Southern California in which the same thing could be done—once it was explained to the Councilmen that there was no cause for personal alarm in the creation of hanging committees.

Our New-Fashioned Ways

Lee: You write that education isn't what it used to be, in telling how arithmetic and marionette-acting are taught. Boy, you ain't heard nothin' yet.

"Mom," said our eleven-year-old, "I want a clean handkerchief—in case my nose should get to bleedin'."

SOO!

It was a request so unusual that both of us set down our coffee cups and stared. Bud usually doesn't give much thought to handkerchiefs. Mothers, however, are perturbed by thoughts of blood.

"What makes you think your nose might bleed?" asked his mother, anxiously.

"Well, I'm gonna have a fight."

"Oh, now, Chester! Surely you wouldn't—"

"Honey!" I pleaded and she stopped. Somehow I was feeling two full sizes prouder.

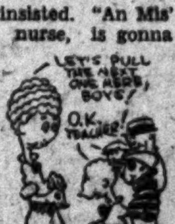
"Oh, it's all right," said Bud. "It's a friendly fight. Miss Steinberger's gonna referee."

Now Miss Steinberger is principal of the school. That certainly didn't sound like the ways of lady principals when I was a kid.

Father and Son Allied.

"Buddy!" I said sternly—warningly.

"Yes, she is," he insisted. "An Mis' Barker, the school nurse, is gonna hold the clock."



LET'S PULL THE NEXT ONE HERE, BOYS!
O.K. TEACHER!

"The clock?" said the boy's bewildered mother.

"Sure. The stopwatch. Three-minute rounds."

"That's all right, mother," I said. "I'll go over to school with Bud."

She looked at me very gratefully. She didn't know us boys.

No Tardy Kids That Day

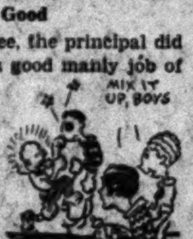
Usually we have to pry Bud away from the breakfast table, sternly escort him to the door so that he won't stop for one more look at the funny paper and then speed him on his way with various callings from the open door—while the rest of the household shiver in the draught. But that morning Bud was ready to start forty-five minutes ahead of time, and when we got to school I saw that all the other kids were there, too. I don't think the sleepiest-headed boy in school was tardy that day. They were grouped about the basketball court.

"What's going on?" I asked the principal, nonchalantly.

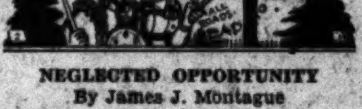
"Oh, it's the spring of the year, and boys will fight," she said. "So I just let them fight here, as a part of 'physical ed.' Yesterday I saw a suspicious-looking group getting away from school, and followed. As I suspected, they were getting around the corner to fight—in an alley. Not so good. I stepped in and told them to bring all their fights here, as part of 'physical ed.'"

Hit and Miss, But Good

Well, by golly, Lee, the principal did referee—and did a good manly job of it, too. And the school nurse kept time. My boy, Bud, got a good licking—in three one-minute rounds. And then the principal said to the victor: "Now, Jimmie, you go help Bud get his arithmetic." And darned if those two kids didn't go off with their arms about each other's shoulders, like old pals — though they'd been having their backs up at each other for two weeks.



Now is that hit or miss education, or isn't it? Anyhow, it's okeh.—Seymour Seitz.



NEGLECTED OPPORTUNITY

By James J. Montague

Spain refuses to advertise—Cable note

Whenever the Romans went forth on the path
That led them to glory and fame
They laid down a road or they put up a bath
And labeled them both with their name.
And the outlanders, gazing on highways of stone
And stately brick buildings, allowed:
"We ought to have hustlers like that in our own;
Those Romans must be a great crowd."

As long as the Romans let other lands know
What a fine bunch of hustlers they were,
The city they came from continued to grow.
It wasn't a dead one, like Ur.
And people residing all over the map
Observed, "That's a city, that Rome;
The fellows that live there have plenty of snap;
I guess I will make it my home"

A sure winning system the old Caesars had—
Far abroad their bold legions were sent
With instructions to leave their great emperor's ad
And their city's, wherever they went.
And immigrants flocked over rivers and seas
To buy homes inside the great Wall,
And not till the town got too fond of its ease
Did it finally totter and fall.

Far be it from me to advise, quite unasked,
A nation as ancient as Spain,
But for long have its folk in indifference basked
And its greatness is still on the wane.
People say it's a fine and a wonderful place,
But that doesn't get anywhere;
What it needs is to buy an abundance of space
And let the world know it is there!

Subject Clarified

WASHINGTON (D. C.) Feb. 13. [To the Editor of The Times:] I have read with interest your editorial of February 4, "More Machines, More Jobs." This subject is so frequently misunderstood that it is encouraging to note the way in which you clarify it.

Please accept my appreciation of your helpful co-operation.

Assistant Secretary of Commerce.

The First Requisite

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 16.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Reduce the time spent on American ideals and the Constitution in the high school. Such is the recommendation just out from the course of study committee in Los Angeles city. Does the community think a year and a half too much time to be spent on citizenship?

Should not every good citizen, all patriotic organizations and such sponsors of Americanism as the Los Angeles Times call upon the City Board of Education to refuse sanction to any course of study which reduces the time spent on American ideals and the Constitution?

A SCHOOL PATRON.

Plant a Carob Tree

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 13.—[To the Editor of The Times:] This is the time to reforest Griffith Park. The extensive recently burned-over area furnishes a remarkably fine chance to make a beautiful evergreen park.

The author has planted about sixty carob trees (deep-rooted) which are quite drought resisting and beautiful evergreen in this climate.

Families, Boy and Girl Scouts, each to plant a tree with a name plate attached would be a marvelous incentive for reforestation and conservation interest in forestry.

Too Well Protected

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 15.—[To the Editor of The Times:] It seems that the first move by the school-teachers for a modification of the tenure law comes from Pasadena. Such move on the part of the teachers must not be construed as one to clear up this law or to protect the school children, but rather to beat the public to the modification of repeal and thus befog the issue.

Do you realize under the present law it is next to impossible to remove a teacher who has taught three years in the public schools of California? No other profession has such protection. The school system seems to be almost entirely out of the hands of the public and in the hands of the teachers. Is it any wonder our school tax is staggering?

Biblical Scholars, Attention

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 15.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I am trying to obtain certain information about the Bible. What religious or political motives led to the making of the King James version? Who were the men that made this version? What were their names, their positions, their affiliations? What reasons did they give for including certain books and excluding other books? By what logical process did they arrive at the conclusion that the date of creation was precisely 4004 years before the Christian era? Where can I find a complete report or discussion of these and relative matters? If this appeal comes to the attention of anyone who is willing to enlighten one who is sincerely seeking enlightenment I should be greatly obliged if he would address a letter to the editor of The Times or to my Los Angeles postoffice box, 1422.

WHERE CAN I LEARN

Play Writing?

BY LOUISE L. TEMPLE

[Prepared in co-operation with the Los Angeles evening high schools. Questions concerning free evening classes will be answered if stamped addressed envelope is inclosed. Address Louise L. Temple, care of The Times.]

For beginning playwrights there is instruction offered in three of the public schools: Hollywood Evening High School, 1521 North Highland avenue, Hollywood, on Friday evening, 7 to 9, in the bungalow of the play workshop; Los Angeles Evening High School, 4600 Country Club Drive, on Monday and Wednesday, 7 to 9, and at Junior College, 855 North Vermont, in room 104 of the Library Building, on Tuesday, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., and on Thursday, 3 to 5 p.m.

The best plays of these classes are staged each year and at the presentations local casting directors offer their valuable criticism. There is no charge of any kind for students in these classes and people of all ages may enter at any time, at hours that are most convenient.

From twenty to thirty questions will be asked each person interviewed by census takers concerning himself and family, but the list includes 200 or more about business which the same person may be asked. Forty million dollars will be the cost of ascertaining everything about our citizens. W. B. J.

BAN IS PLACED ON PEPPER TREE

BY BAILEY MILLARD

No more pepper trees will be planted along the highways by the forestry department of the county of Los Angeles. This ban on the beautiful trees that have made our pepper drives so popular is the result of the experience of the department, which has found that while the pepper is a highly ornamental tree it is unruly and difficult to keep in order. For more than a year Arizona ash trees and others of a quick-growing variety have been planted by the county and in the opinion of the forestry officials they have been found to be more desirable than our old Peruvian friend.

"The trouble with the pepper tree," said Assistant Forester Pemberton to me, "is that it requires too frequent trimming. It must be pruned much oftener than most other ornamental trees. Then, too, its shallow roots upheave cement walks more than others. But the worst complaint made against it comes from the orange growers, who say that it harbors scale."

In some citrus districts many pepper trees have been cut down and further plantings discouraged. But in others no particular complaint has been made. I wonder to what extent it really is a host plant for scale insects, and if, instead of hacking it down, it would not pay, in an esthetic way, to fumigate it and thus render it harmless to the orange grower. As for its requiring frequent trimming, I also wonder if it has not been trimmed oftener than is really desirable, considering the beauty of its long pendulous branches, its beautifully strung pinnate leaves and small, bright red berries. I have no answer for the argument against its shallow rootage, save that it is not peculiar to the pepper, and many other trees upheave sidewalks. The remedy might be not to plant them too closely to the walks. Besides, along the county roads there are few sidewalks.

It will be seen that I am advancing every argument I can think of to discourage the idea of banning the pepper tree forever from our county roads, as these roads sometimes include sections of highway that are much traveled, as between Rosemead and Puente. Often I have shown eastern visitors our unique pepper drives—that is, unique so far as America is concerned—and always they have admired them. It was for good reason that the old padres brought the pepper tree up from South America and planted it in their little mission parks and along their roads and trails. Those old fellows knew beauty when they saw it. Not a few of the trees they planted a hundred years ago are still waving their graceful plumes, as are the "fronded palms" set out at the same time. To destroy these trees or to discontinue their planting seems a pity.

Somehow, the pepper always seems to me a friendly tree. I have a fine specimen about twenty years old near my home in Eagle Rock. I have cut down all the eucalyptus trees on the place, but have zealously preserved the pepper. As its tremulous boughs wave in the breeze that sweeps over my hill and the sun sparkles on its pointed leaves it is ever a source of elation to me. The pepper is more at home here than is the eucalyptus, because it belongs to the west coast, where it originated. They have trees something like them along the Riviera, but my encyclopedia says it is incorrect to call them pepper trees.

About the Arizona ash, which the local foresters are urging us to plant instead of the pepper tree—it is a deciduous plant, and the fewer we have of trees that present a back-East wintry appearance in the colder months the better. Let us plant trees that are green in winter as in summer, and if there is any way to keep our pepper trees and at the same time prevent their harboring or spreading the scale let us do it.

FUTILITY

The world has had its foolish men,
From time beyond our mortal ken
Down to the present moment when
Some fools still hold the notion
That they can change the constant sway
Of birth and growth and sure decay,
Build a machine to run alway,
And solve perpetual motion.

And then there are some foolish chaps
Who tug and strain at their boot-straps,
Thinking to hoist themselves, perhaps,
From their own brand of Hades;
And men upon the foolish list
Endowed with such a mental twist,
That spite of warnings still persist
In arguing with ladies.

Perhaps we may as well confess
We all indulge in foolishness,
Expose our weakness, more or less,
To public observation;
But we believe you will agree,
For absolute futility,
To grant the prize among these three,
With little hesitation.

EXONERATE PAIR IN GAS TAX CASES

Case Against Austin and Smith Dismissed by Hardy as Prosecution Rests

Dismissal of charges of violating the State gasoline-tax law against Glenn A. Smith, president of the Export Petroleum Company, and John A. Austin, a gasoline broker, was granted yesterday by Superior Judge Hardy after the prosecution rested.

The two men were asserted to have purchased large quantities of gasoline from Los Angeles concerns for supposed exportation and then resold the product to local retailers, thus evading the State gasoline tax which does not apply to export trade.

Commenting on the case on trial for four days Judge Hardy said there had been no evidence to indicate intention of the pair to defraud the State, but that they had legally exercised rights to sell gasoline in the local market as they saw fit.

The dismissal came on motion of Defense Attorneys Byron Hanna and Fred E. Zubith, after Dep. Dist.-Atty. Barnes closed the prosecution's submission of evidence.

Victim of Auto Dies in Hospital

Injured when knocked down by an automobile last night, Thomas A. Hastings, 65 years of age, a canvasser, of 1041 West Ninety-fifth street, died a few hours later in General Hospital. Sheriff's deputies reported that he stepped against the bumper of a car driven by Luther Swink of 1246 West Ninety-third street, at Vermont avenue and Eighty-seventh street.

Swink carried the injured man to the office of Dr. C. E. Burke, 8627 South Vermont avenue, who sent him to Georgia-street Receiving Hospital. He was given first-aid and transferred to General Hospital.

Hundred Attend Dinner to Zukor

A testimonial dinner to Adolph Zukor, president of Paramount-Famous-Lasky Corporation, last night assembled more than 100 leaders of the motion-picture industry in the Academy Room of the Hollywood Roosevelt Hotel.

Joseph Schenck and Sid Grauman tendered the dinner to the visiting head of the film corporation. William de Mille was toastmaster. Will Hays headed the list of diners, which included producers, directors and managers.

Mix Tax Trial Set for June

Trial of the case of Tom Mix, motion-picture cowboy, accused of evading his income tax and failure to pay it, was continued until the June term of court yesterday by United States District Judge James. The case was continued pending negotiations on Mix's part to compromise with the government.

The government asserts that Mix should have paid about $100,000 more than he did for the years 1925-26-27.

HER PRIVATE LIFE REVEALED IN COURT

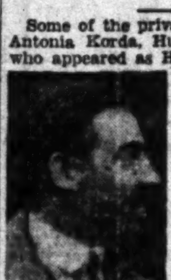
"MENELAUS" GIVEN AIR BY "HELEN"

Maria Korda, Who Played Role in Film Version of Farce, Gets Divorce



ALEXANDER KORDA

Some of the private life of Maria Antonia Korda, Hungarian actress, who appeared as Helen in the motion picture "The Private Life of Helen of Troy" was revealed in court yesterday when she went before Superior Judge Collier and was granted a divorce from Alexander Korda, film director.

Mrs. Korda accused her husband of having a violent and jealous disposition, and said he frequently upbraided her for speaking to other men and often was sulky and morose.

Under an agreement between the couple, made out of court, the husband is to have possession of their one child, Peter Vincent Korda, 8 years of age, to be educated in American schools. The mother will be permitted to have the boy during his vacation periods.

Mr. and Mrs. Korda were married in Hungary on October 6, 1920 and separated on January 11, 1929.

CATHOLIC GUILD'S GAMBOL TONIGHT

Comedy will be crowned king and the lid will be off on laughter tonight at Philharmonic Auditorium when the sixth annual gambol of the Catholic Motion Picture Guild begins at 8:30 o'clock. Many of the foremost laughmakers of the American stage will be on the bill that will follow the formal introduction of the gambol by Earl Hampton, comedian. Among them will be names prominent in the dramatic and musical worlds.

BOLTARES CASE DEFENSE RESTS

State Expects to Conclude Testimony Today

Physician Asserts Accused Slayer Was Sane

Sanity Question Only Issue in Murder Trial

With the close of the defendant's case in Superior Judge McComb's court, the prosecution yesterday afternoon began the introduction of expert testimony intended to show that Armando Boltares, accused slayer of five members of the Alvarez-Garcia family, was sane at the time the crime was committed.

One of the most important witnesses called by George Penny, deputy District Attorney prosecuting the case, was Dr. Edwin C. Wayte, who asserted that following a two-and-one-half-hour examination on December 20, last, he found the man to be sane.

Cross-examination of the witness failed to shake the physician's opinion, although G. A. Benedict, deputy Public Defender, sought to alter it by introducing the technical question of whether or not the "count" of the defendant's spinal fluid would have influenced his decision.

Dr. Wayte declared that he did not know that the man had a high spinal-fluid "count" at the time of the examination, but that this point made no material difference inasmuch as numerous normal persons have the same peculiar disturbance.

The prosecution is expected to close its case today, after which arguments will begin.

Boltares pleaded not guilty by reason of insanity. If he is found sane by the jury, he automatically will be found guilty of the murders.

SUSPENDED POLICEMEN REBUFFED

Commission Takes Action to Prevent Further Duty of Washington and Dunn

Restoration to duty of Officers Roscoe C. Washington and Richmond Dunn, suspended following their indictment, and later acquitted in Superior Court of bribery charges filed against them jointly with Macio Sheffield, who was convicted, was turned down by the Police Commission yesterday.

Instead, the commission instructed Chief Steckel to bring charges of unfitness against them on the ground that although acquitted they must have had knowledge of asserted unlawful actions by Sheffield.

The action was taken on motion of Commissioner Drake, who said "he hopes that Chief Steckel will discharge them," in which event, should they appeal, they would come before the commission for action.

Under the charter officers acquitted in court of charges made against them are automatically restored to duty. The charter provides, however, that the commission may review such charges and initiate further proceedings as to the fitness of such officers.

Commissioners Drake and Coe, comprising the complaints committee, read transcripts of the trial of the three officers and based their adverse report on what they said they found therein.

SHEFFIELD GIVEN TERM IN SAN QUENTIN

Superior Judge Wilson yesterday sentenced Maceo B. Sheffield, colored former Los Angeles police detective, to a term of from one to fourteen years in San Quentin Prison.

Sentence was passed after Judge Wilson denied a motion for a new trial. The court, however, granted a stay of execution of the sentence pending appeal.

Richmond Dunn and Roscoe Washington, two other colored police officers charged jointly with Sheffield, were acquitted.

FORCE USED BY BANDITS IN HOLD-UPS

Two Victims Tied to Beds, One Slugged and Number of Persons Robbed

No trace was found yesterday of the bandits who Monday evening tied a woman to a bedpost, bound a grocer to a bed, slugged a pedestrian and early yesterday morning held up two drug stores and another grocery store.

Mrs. C. Culver of 6617 Estrella avenue was the first victim. She reported that a bandit followed her into her home as she returned from a neighborhood visit, robbed her of $30, and then tied her to a bedpost.

Another bandit walked into the grocery store of J. A. O'Connell at 700 San Fernando Road, robbed him of $12 and tied him to a bed.

When Frank Betrenshaw of 5658 Hubb street was slow in raising his hands one of a pair of bandits struck him on the jaw and knocked him down. As he lay on the sidewalk the pair took $9 from his pockets. The robbery occurred at Monte Vista street and Avenue Fifty-nine.

Drug store victims were W. W. Andrews, at 5282 Hollywood Boulevard, and James Lieautaug, at 2201 Temple street. Andrews lost $30. Lieautaug was robbed of $50.

At dawn yesterday U. Nakano was held up in his grocery store at 474 South Camulos street by a bandit and robbed of $60 in cash and $150 in checks.

ASSESSMENT AREA CUT

The City Council yesterday reduced both the size of the assessment district and the amount of bonds to be voted next Tuesday to provide a water-distributing system for the Mar Vista region. A large amount of acreage was stricken from the district, and the sum of the bond issue was reduced from $510,000 to $198,277.

98 out of 100 Women Report Benefit.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has the written endorsement of half a million women.

By accurate record, 98 out of every 100 women who report after taking it say, "It helped me."

What other medicine has such a record of success?

ETHEL FLEETWOOD

"I am a saleslady in a store. My nerves got the best of me and I never had good finger nails because I couldn't stop biting them off. My appetite was poor and I was always tired. One of my friends told me that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound would help me. I know that it controls the nerves because I have no desire to bite my nails now and they are long and well kept. My appetite is enormous and I feel like a new person. I have recommended your good medicine to many girls and I assure you that they have found the same good results. I will gladly answer letters from women or girls."—Miss Ethel Fleetwood.

MRS. ANGELINE MAJKOWSKI

"This is to thank you for helping me get my health. After I was married I had to be operated on and it didn't do me any good. I was so worried and cried all the time for I had spent over $800 for sickness and yet I didn't get better. I saw a sign about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in a drug store and I took four bottles. Now there is happiness in our home, for we have two little boys with nice red cheeks. I am healthy myself and the more Vegetable Compound I take the better I feel. I have told my friends about it for I believe it will help anybody if they take it regularly."—Mrs. Angeline Majkowski.

MRS. W. OVERMANN
918 Regina Ave., St. Louis, Missouri

"Nine years ago when my little girl was born dead, I seemed to lose every bit of strength and vitality. I had an awful pulling down feeling in my back and my legs were so stiff I could hardly walk. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for about four months. The next year I became the mother of a fine 11-pound baby boy. After he was born, I kept on with the medicine to build me up. About four months ago I became very nervous and rundown and suffered from other troubles which I knew Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable would relieve so I started taking it and now I feel fine again. Many of my friends could write a book on the good the Vegetable Compound has done them."—Mrs. W. Overmann.

With many features of interest the Spinsters met at the Biltmore Monday afternoon, and, after election of officers for the ensuing year elected also a number of new members who are to take the place of those Spinsters who have taken automatically dropped from the ranks by marrying.

Miss Catherine Vail is to be the new president this year, being unanimously elected, while Miss Prudence Cassell is to be the secretary, and Miss Katherine Thomas, treasurer.

Plans are being formulated for their annual frolic which will take place Saturday evening, April 26, next, the first Saturday following Easter Sunday, and while the "place" is not yet fully decided upon, it will be either Annandale or Midwick Country Club.

Miss Margaret Martin is planning a tea at her lovely home in Holmby Hills for March 6, next, when the new members of the Spinsters are to be special honor guests.

Those newly elected include Miss Mary Lloyd Macy, Miss Flora Hollingsworth, Miss Louise Hooper, Miss Honor Higgins, Miss Phila Morse, Miss Louise Janss, Miss Margaret Richards, Miss Mary Jane Kahler, Miss Helen Winnett, Miss Daisy Parsons, Miss Patricia Mines, Miss Ruth Wilson, Miss Eleanor Salisbury, Miss Alice Stewart and Miss Emily Mathias.

Wedding Plans

The marriage of Miss Rachel F. Yerge, daughter of Mrs. Walter Harrison Fisher of the Talmage, to Alonzo Fayram, will take place Wednesday, March 5, next, in the Little Chapel of All-Souls' Church, Wilshire Boulevard, with Rev. Frank Aked officiating at 5 o'clock. Only the immediate family will be witnesses.

A wedding dinner will follow at the Los Angeles Country clubhouse, and Mr. Fayram and his bride are going to Honolulu on their wedding trip, and after their return will occupy Mrs. Fisher's apartments in the Talmage, while she is away on an extended trip motoring through the Canadian southern borders and other points of interest. Mrs. Fisher and Mrs. Charles Richmond of Hollywood are planning to leave April 2, next, motoring east by the southern route, then on up the Atlantic coast through the New England States, returning home by way of Canada.

Informal Valentine Dance

Two hundred guests of Phi Sigma Sigma Sorority were entertained last Friday night at the Hollywood American Legion Club when the alumnae chapter of the sorority sponsored an informal Valentine's Day dance for its immediate friends.

Miss Henrietta Morris of Pasadena was in direct charge of the affair, which netted the sorority's Westwood fund a goodly sum. The affair was strictly invitational, each sorority member being privileged to ask a limited number of guests.

Wednesday night the sorority entertained a number of campus women at an informal evening party with a "kiddy" motif. Parchesi, Uncle Wiggly, dominoes and checkers made the evening's mood one of hilarious enjoyment.

Pledges of the sorority chose Thursday afternoon as the occasion for an informal bridge-tea at the home of Miss Pearl Dyer in South Spaulding avenue. Campus and off-campus friends were entertained by the pledges and active members, who were guests at the affair.

For Visiting Friends

One of the lovely affairs of recent date was the luncheon and bridge with which Mrs. Milton H. Meyer entertained at her home, 400 South Kenmore avenue, the 1st inst., honoring friends who are passing the season in Southern California. Those included were Mrs. R. Stone of Newcastle, Pa.; Mrs. N. Tara, Milwaukee; Mrs. B. Bank and Mrs. C. Brownstein of St. Paul, Mrs. M. Solomon, Mrs. A. Lazarus, Mrs. I. Schwartz, Mrs. I. R. Allen, Mrs. P. Shapiro and Misses Rose Hirsch of Chicago; Miss Sarah Grimes of Denver and Miss Janette Silverman of this city. Mrs. Meyer was assisted by her sister, Miss Ethel Marilyn Bank, and the high scores were made by Mmes. Allen, Schwartz and Stone.

Campus Affair

Aiding new freshmen co-eds in orienting themselves to campus life of the University of Southern California, the Trojan Amazons were hostesses at a pretty tea in their honor from 3 to 5 o'clock in the Amazon council rooms, Wednesday.

Dean Mary Sinclair Crawford, Assistant Dean Pearle Aiken-Smith and Mrs. Rufus B. Von KleinSmidt addressed the new co-eds informally.

Billy Rogers on the piano, readings by Miss Mary Ellen McCabe, Miss Pauline Mathers on the piano, and Miss Louise Miller on the harp contributed much to an interesting musical program.

Floral decorations emphasized a spring motif. The Misses Winnifred Biegler, Alma Griffin and Florence Waechtter arranged the affair. Miss Isabel Loftus is president of the organization.

Morrison-Olson

The Wee Kirk o' the Heather was the setting for a wedding of pretty simplicity at 8 p.m. the 6th inst., when Miss Frances Pauline Morrison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Manford Morrison of 3625 Marmion Way, became the bride of Albert D. Olson, Jr., of Arcadia. One hundred guests witnessed the ceremony, at which Rev. John Henri Sattig of St. Philip's Episcopal Church in New York City officiated.

The bride was gowned in gray satin, with which she wore a hat of gray straw and matching shoes and carried Butterfly roses and orchid sweet peas. Her only attendant, Miss Tillie Anderson, wore green crepe and carried pink sweet peas.

Guy Olson, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man, while Dennis Earhart and Robert Morrison assisted as ushers.

After a motor trip through the south Mr. and Mrs. Olson will reside in Los Angeles.

Luncheon for Easterners

Mrs. William Y. Smither was hostess at a luncheon Thursday of last week in her home at 837 Crenshaw Boulevard, honoring Miss Corinne Wagner of New York, Mrs. William Blake of Altoona, Pa., and Miss Kalista Hood of Davidson, N. C. Covers were laid for ten, the table being attractively decorated with pink roses and maidenhair fern.

Covers were laid for Mmes. C. G.

Glee Club Event

With Miss Eunice Erikson, student director, conducting, the Trojan Women's Glee Club of the musical organizations department at the University of Southern California will present a program at 8 p.m. this evening in the Langham Apartments for the Junior Republican Study Club.

MISS EUNICE ERIKSON

Miss Eloise Jones is manager of the organization, for which Miss Margery Wright is accompanist and Miss Emma Goodell librarian. The Trojan Women's Trio, including Miss Peggy Binkley, Miss Erikson and Miss Jones, will sing "La Rosita," by Dupont, and Dvorak's "Goin' Home," accompanied by Miss Glenna Gould, who also will play several solos.

Artists assisting in the program are Miss Inga Gerup, reader, and Miss Grace Tacker, violinist.

Following the program of music a nomination of officers by ballot will take place, and Dr. A. J. Greit, personal friend of President Hoover, will speak on the latter's prosperity program.

Dinner Speaker

"Washington, Lincoln and Today," is the subject of an address to be made by Dale H. Parke at the monthly dinner meeting of the National Business and Professional Women of Los Angeles, to be conducted at 6:30 this evening in the Women's University Club. The program will be patriotic in observance of the Lincoln and Washington anniversaries.

Discusses Poetry Building

The public is invited to a program to be given at 1:30 p.m. today in Recital Hall by the Poetry and Music Club of Los Angeles. Mrs. Jennie Probst will read original verse, discussing poetry building, and the musical program will be presented by Miss Minka Baklanoff, accompanied by Miss Dorothy Henderson.

Historical Program

With special reference to Washington and Lincoln, a historical program has been arranged for members of the Wilshire Art and Travel Club by Mrs. Rodman Robeson. It will be given at 10:30 a.m. today in the Pollyanna Tea Room.

CHEF WYMAN'S RECIPES

Every Tuesday and Friday at 2 o'clock Mrs. A. L. Wyman will conduct a free class and demonstration of good cookery in the lecture room of the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway.

TOMATO SOUFFLE

Take one large can of tomatoes, place in a saucepan and cook for fifteen minutes, then press through a coarse sieve. To two cupfuls of the tomato pulp take four eggs, separate them; beat the yolks well and slowly stir them into the tomato pulp. Season with salt and pepper; at the last minute add the stiffly beaten whites of the four eggs, butter individual baking dishes, fill three-quarters full, set in a pan of water and bake in a medium hot oven. Serve at once.

HAWAIIAN PINEAPPLE CREAM PIE

One large can of crushed pineapple, one-fourth of a cupful of butter, one cupful of sugar, two eggs, two and one-half cupfuls of flour, three teaspoonfuls of baking powder, beat the butter to a cream and gradually cream into it the sugar, then add the yolks of the eggs well beaten and beat until light, then add the well-drained pineapple, sift the flour and baking powder three times and add alternately to the other mixture with the pineapple juice; beat the whites of the eggs until light and fold them in; place in oiled and floured layer cake tins and bake in a medium oven. For the filling place two cupfuls of milk in a double boiler, moisten one level tablespoonful of cornstarch with one-fourth of a cupful of the cold milk; stir and cook for five minutes, beat the yolks of two eggs with one-fourth of a cupful of sugar and carefully add to the mixture; allow to cook for one minute longer and beat with an egg beater for one minute; add the stiffly beaten whites of the two eggs, to which have been added two tablespoonfuls of powdered sugar, place a layer of this meringue on one of the layers of cake, dust with powdered sugar, place in the oven and allow to brown, cover the remaining layers with a pineapple filling.

ITALIAN POTATOES

Boil five medium-sized potatoes in their jackets; when tender peel and mash until smooth, add one-third of a cupful of flour to the mixture and, if necessary to make a dough that can be handled, add a little more flour, roll out, cut in small squares and drop a few at a time in boiling salted water, as soon as they rise to the surface place a layer of them on a well-buttered baking dish, pour over them a layer of tomato sauce, continue until all has been used, sprinkle the top with grated cheese and bake in a medium oven for twenty-five or thirty minutes.

Mrs. Wyman does not reply to letters, but requests for recipes are answered in the department, PRACTICAL RECIPES, published every Friday.—(All rights to reproduce reserved by A. L. Wyman.)

Interesting Writer Here

Mrs. Robert Harrison Matthews of St. Louis arrived on Sunday by plane to be the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Harlow L. Bartholomew for three months. Many delightful entertainments are being planned for this charming young easterner, the first being a dinner Saturday night given by Mrs. Fred Bertrand.

Mrs. Matthews was formerly a feature writer on the staff of the Chicago Tribune, Quincy Herald-Whig, Detroit News and St. Louis Post-Dispatch. She is now free lancing under the name of Alvia Matthews, writing poetry and short stories.

Mrs. Matthews is a member of the St. Louis chapters of the Daughters of American Colonists, D.A.R., Daughters of 1812, Lindenwood Club and the Business and Professional Women's Club. She attended Lindenwood College and the University of Illinois and is a member of Gamma Phi Beta and Theta Sigma Phi, an honorary journalistic sorority. Mrs. Matthews is also a member of the American Poetry Society, Pittsburgh Poetry Society, Order of Bookfellows and Poetry Society of Great Britain.

YOUR BABY and MINE

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

MOTHER MUST BEAR HER OWN BURDENS

Recently an article appeared in this column advising grandparents to let parents make their own mistakes. The article was inspired by a despondent letter from a young mother whose 3-year-old child had been entirely in the care of her grandmother. The mother admitted being careless and pleasure loving, and letting her mother assume her burdens. The result was a thoroughly spoiled and unmanageable child and at this age, with much of the damage done, the grandmother had said to the mother: "It's your child, now you take her and see what you can do." That came just three years too late. She should have said that when the child was born.

No one will deny that I have an extraordinary opportunity for seeing both sides of any question and I am convinced by constant experience that a grandparent does her child and her grandchildren irreparable harm when she assumes the burdens of their care. I am not talking about cases where the mother works and the grandmother naturally has to take care of the small children, but of homes where grandmother is kept there merely as a slave to the children, and the mother by so doing escapes her share of the care.

IDEAS ARE CHANGED

No matter how successful a grandmother has been in rearing her own family (that is quite beside the point) it is impossible for her to change her viewpoints, fixed by long years of habitual thinking, or for her to meet modern problems in modern ways. She can carry out the advice of the doctor, that isn't it at all, but her ideas, her contacts with children are changed just the moment she becomes a grandmother and not a parent. No grandparent is ever the same with a grandchild as with her own child. She will admit that herself. Nor should she be. There is a place for both in a child's life, but one cannot substitute for the other.

DOES MOTHER HARM

Now, dear grandmother, do you see my viewpoint? Likewise it was a mistake for you to assume that I am childless or that I have no respect for my mother. I have three children, nearly grown, and you can't expect me to admit that my mother made any mistakes with me! But neither of these things in any way effects the question. However, successful my own mother was, or any grandmother, young mothers still should have the right and privilege, and above all, opportunity, for solving their own problems. No one can possibly grow in understanding of children, or in knowledge or skill without practice.

The grandmother who takes her place at the helm of the household just naturally must shove the mother away, even if the mother prefers it that way. However, you look at it she does the mother harm, by bearing her burdens for her, and by making her so weak and inefficient that she is unable to bear them. Grandmothers grow too touchy the moment their ideas are contradicted or their opinions questioned. They should be satisfied to rest on their laurels and let their children work for and earn their own.

WHEN THE SANDMAN COMES

THE LOST IS FOUND

You'll find if you are there to see,
The fiercest folk may tender be.
—Sammy Jay.

Sammy Jay knew just where that lost baby Owl was. You see, Sammy had seen that baby pushed from the nest by the other baby. He had seen the unfortunate little Owl fall from branch to branch of the tree and finally land on the ground. Then instinctively that baby had crawled under a little hemlock tree, the branches of which grew very close to the ground. You might have passed right close to that little tree and not see that baby Owl. So Sammy knew where it was and once or twice he was almost tempted to tell Mrs. Hooty. To be quite truthful, he didn't dare make his presence known. So he kept his tongue still and watched Mrs. Hooty and Hooty worry and hunt.

"There's one thing I don't understand," thought Sammy, "and that is why that baby doesn't cry and let his father and mother know where he is. It seems queer to me that he keeps so still. I wonder if perhaps he was badly hurt?"

Now the little Owl wasn't hurt, but it had had the breath knocked out of it and it didn't feel any too good. It had lost its appetite. All the little fellow wanted to do just then was to keep quiet and sleep, so he paid no attention to what was going on up above. That is why neither Hooty nor Mrs. Hooty discovered him. Sammy hung around for some time, but apparently Hooty and Mrs. Hooty had given up looking for the lost baby and were giving all their attention to the one in the nest. Finally, being hungry himself, Sammy flew away to get something to eat.

It was just after Sammy left—and you may be sure that he took care to leave in such a way that he wouldn't be seen by the Owls—that Mrs. Hooty returned with more food for that baby in the nest. As usual, the greedy little rascal began to make a great fuss as soon as he saw his mother bringing him something to eat. Mrs. Hooty alighted close by the nest. She was just reaching to give the greedy baby what she had brought when she heard a sound that caused her to turn her head and sit perfectly still. You know she has very wonderful ears. They can hear little sounds that you and I would not hear at all.

The baby in the nest continued to demand its food. Mrs. Hooty paid no attention to those demands. Instead, she spread her wings and silently sailed down to the ground. She called in a low tone. There was an answer. A second later Mrs. Hooty peered under a little hemlock tree and there was the lost baby! Such a fuss as Mrs. Hooty made! She pushed that baby out where she could look him over. No hen ever fussed more over her chicken any more than Mrs. Hooty fussed over that baby. She tore to pieces the food she had brought and fed the little Owl, paying no attention to the indignant cries of the baby up in the nest.

So he kept his tongue still and watched Mrs. Hooty and Hooty worry and hunt

Just about the time that the baby had swallowed the last of the food she had brought, Hooty himself arrived at the nest. Before he had a chance to feed the baby there, Mrs. Hooty called to him. Down sailed Hooty and you can imagine his surprise when he discovered that lost baby. Mrs. Hooty took the food he had brought and began to feed the baby. Meanwhile, the one up in the nest was making a great fuss and feeling very much abused.

Health and Diet ADVICE

by DR. FRANK McCOY

Author of "The Fast Way to Health"

THE TREATMENT OF INFANTILE PARALYSIS

At least half of all the crippled children would be well today if it were not for infantile paralysis. Of all the diseases which menace children, this is probably the most dreaded by parents, as the child may be maimed or crippled for life. With this disease, as with many others, prevention is much easier than cure.

The trouble most often occurs with young children, although occasionally with adults, and is due to an inflammation of the spinal cord. It usually comes on quite suddenly, with fever and the tendency to muscular paralysis, often ending in contraction and permanent deformity.

There are a few cases where no symptom of paralysis develops, and in some cases a temporary paralysis does occur during the height of the inflammation, but in many cases there is a complete return to normal and a recovery of the use of the muscles. Even where paralysis does definitely occur and seems to be a permanent condition, there have been many remarkable cures and a complete recovery through persistent and gradual retraining of the muscles through the right kind of massage and exercise.

It seems as though even when certain nerve centers in the spinal cord have been destroyed, it is possible for other nerve centers to be trained to take over the functions of the destroyed centers. This cannot be quickly done, however, and requires much patience and preseverance, but will prove effective even in many apparently hopeless cases.

Probably no other disease has yielded so conspicuously to the newer methods of healing as that of infantile paralysis. The use of a good fasting regime, combined with massage, hydrotherapy, either chiropratic or osteopathic treatments, very persistent, passive exercise, later followed by active exercises on the part of the patient and sometimes galvanic and sistusoidal electrical treatments, have been responsible for curing many cases of infantile paralysis which would formerly have been given up as hopeless.

It is my belief that a child would never contract this disease if it was not previously weakened by wrong habits of eating, faulty hygiene, etc., which produce a chronic toxidity in the child and prepare the soil for the inflammatory process in the spinal cord. As the child is day after day fed upon improper combinations and acid-forming foods, his body is literally poisoned with toxic substances, and when the paralysis develops, it is only a more serious form of the disease than if the poison had located in the tonsils, bronchial tubes, or in some other portion of the body.

At the first indications of the disease, an orange-juice fast should be used. Sometimes a remarkable change for the better is noticed from this one measure alone. The patient should also be encouraged to drink plenty of water and should be given one or two enemas daily. Cold packs over the spin and abdomen are also helpful, not ice packs, just towels wrung out of cold water and covered with some dry flannel.

The first applications to the limbs should be of heat, massage and passive movement. This produces a better circulation of the muscles and helps to stimulate the draining action of the veins and lymphatics. The limbs should be protected against cold at all times.

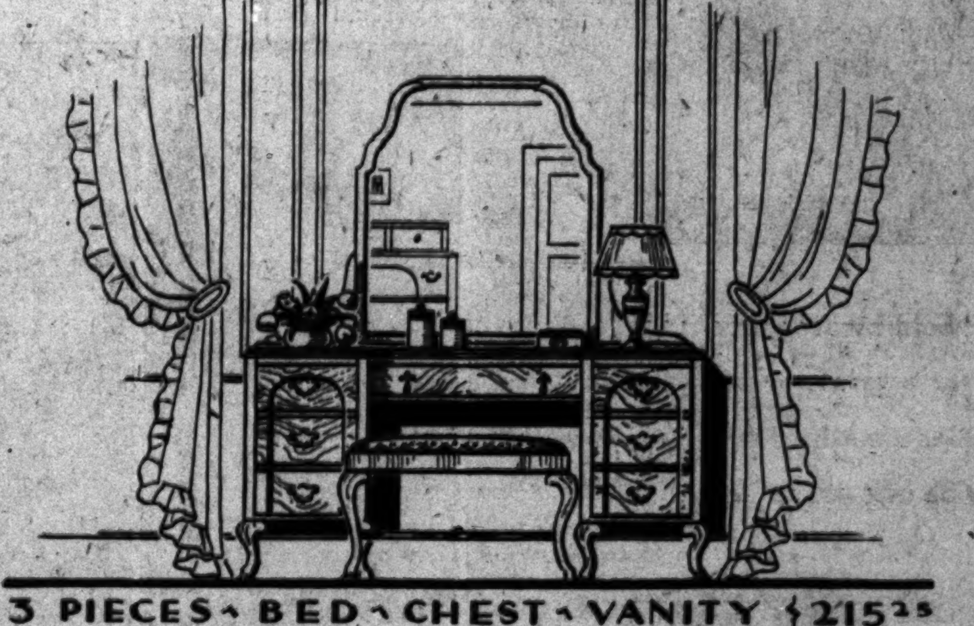
HAVE YOU LEARNED WHERE TO ECONOMIZE?

Economy—always a virtue, sometimes a necessity, ever a practice of the intelligent. Sensible people economize, but never at the sacrifice of quality. That is why so many sensible people come to Bullock's for Furniture, Rugs and Draperies. They know where they can obtain dependable quality, correct styling and fine craftsmanship at prices out of the ordinary. They have discovered to their great advantage how economical it is to buy Home Furnishings at Bullock's, where constant effort is made to find ways and means of giving greater value and of lowering prices.



3 PIECES - BED - CHEST - VANITY $215.25

A merchandising policy which allows low prices on Furniture as fine and perfect in detail as this new Walnut Bedroom Group makes economy possible without loss of quality (note Vanity sketched above). In it the modern blends well with the more refined lines of past periods. Aside from Bed, Chest and Vanity, priced $215.25, there is a Vanity Bench, $18.75 (sketched)—Dresser, $93.50, Nightstand, $29 and Chair, $18.75.

…IVIDUAL FREEDOM MOST DOMINANT NOTE IN MODE

BY OLIVE GRAY

larger or small. Lace hats have come into being with the gown or dress of lace, many lovely pastel tones being embodied in both.

Lace with straw includes such revivals as cire lace and starched and ironed lace, combined with straw or used to form the entire shape. Many fine and dainty weaves in lace straw vie with actual lace in millinery; while felt and straw still continue in happy partnership. A novelty is the use of linen in fashioning sports hats, a plain weave and a printed linen often being found in conjunction.

The beret, ubiquitous as ever, finds many ways of being worn, and is developed in many materials, including linen—the latter, however, used in a very knowing way, by most exclusive shops.

SHOES CONSIDERED

Next to the hat and the dress to be considered with the first burgeoning of spring come the shoes, and that these are more than ever enticing goes without saying, since ingenuity has been brought to bear to invent new lasts, new combining of leathers and other material. Reptilians, with new touches and other leathers are modish as ever. Higher heels are predicted in many of the newest numbers—a natural result of the longer skirts, or of the wish of the less stately women to seem capable of wearing the longer skirts, attaining thus gracefully to the modish silhouette.

More than ever is the ensemble idea carried out in shoes and handbags. For each and every differing costume will the woman in the know be tempted to select an ensemble in these accessories. Gloves, long striving to gain favor, now have become an integral part of formal evening costumes—many long and wrinkled gloves in either suede or glace accompanying such gowns.

FOR EXAMPLE

A striking example accompanying an evening gown of flowered taffeta was gloves in black with pumps to match. Pumps, by the way, have come into their own for general wear, having at last been made so they do not slip at the heel by a newly devised last.

For street wear gloves present many novel features—outflaring cuffs, cuffs embroidered, inlaid with leather or kid cut work, gauntlets fashioned from stripes in kid of several harmonizing colors. Slip-ons, either in kid or fabric, still will be chosen by the woman who insists upon comfort during the shopping hours or while driving.

The blouse, growingly insistent, has crept into general couture, many of the newest frocks and gowns being given the bloused effect, as more pleasing in results for certain figures who repudiate the tight basque-like bodice.

BLOUSE WORN

Separate blouses to accompany suits are worn either inside or outside the skirt; in the former case either self-belts or fancy ones being chosen.

Coats for separate use are usually in straight-line silhouette and may be lavishly furred or without any touch of peltry. Fur coats are more than ever alluring and the wide range in quality brings these within the reach of purses both long and restricted.

With the more fluffy trend in accessories, the so-termed "feminine" feeling has brought to bear a greater stress upon neckwear than for several seasons, lace being prime choice in these addenda, with organdy and other filmy materials following. Pique also finds favor for crisp offsetment of tailored suits.

JEWELRY AS EVER

Costume jewelry, ever new and ever alluring, is as much as ever an important part of daytime dress. But for evening and formal wear nothing can equal genuine stones, whether in the gem class or semi-precious, so set as to render them real works of art. In fact, it is doubtful if since the days of the great historic craftsmen have genuine art creations in jewels been so highly prized as now.

Lingerie, amounting as it does to a true "confectionery" in dress, may be divided into two realms, that of the tailored—plainly finished—and that which is embellished with lace, embroidery and handmade flowers. Under both classes boudoir array may be found and the lounging garments, whether pajamas or robes negligee, emphasize the feminine in its most salient aspects.

CORSET'S ALIAS

Contour garments—spurning the name corsets as bravely as are the pestiferous "stays" of our forebears despised, are quite as alluring as are any of the lovely lingerie numbers, fraught as they are with silk elastic, lace, flowers and silken brocades and crepes in charming colors.

Yardage, offering itself for the compounding of every garment, both formal and intime, has developed new weaves extending through all realms of couture, from the cottons for home and porch dresses to the sumptuous brocades, taffetas, crepes and numberless silken weaves for both formal and informal wear. Woolens in lightweights are favored for suits, silks, plain and prints, crepe, chiffon, mousselaine de soir and marquisette come in so great a variety of weaves and designs as to form an embarrassment of riches.

CHIFFONS FOR EVENING

Chiffon, plain or printed, is used in formal evening dress and also for the informal dinner or bridge for late afternoon. Multiflowered chiffon forms some of the most sumptuous of these gowns.

Small floral designs on crepes of different weaves are popular for daytime wear, whether the garment is a frock or an ensemble with a jacket to match or with a jacket of lightweight wool in a similar tone. The latter sometimes is lined with the same crepe which forms the frock.

Among evening accessories one finds many novelties, none more notable than the widespread fan shown in the picture heading this article. Overlaid petals of starched organdy are attached to sticks from which sprout ostrich flues—all in crystal-clear white.

HANDBAG VARIETY

Handbags matching each costume or conforming therewith are shown, the variety greater than ever. Leathers in all colors and in many differing qualities are usually used in bags for street or travel, while tapestries, fabrics of many varieties, including those heavily embroidered in worsteds, vie with the finer petit point—the latter used for evening and formal afternoon dress. Linens also are shown in conformity with the linen hats.

A novel blouse and one certain to gain a firm hold upon feminine affections by reason of comfort is one attached to shorts, the latter constituting the entire underwear beneath the skirt of wool in the tailored suit.

SHORTS FOR BEACH WEAR

Shorts, by the way, are used in the new sun-tan suits, for desert or beach, semilong cape companioning these brief garments.

Summing up the revelations of the season's modes: Skirts, from three to six inches below the kneecap, for streets or sports, or spectator sports—according, also to the figure of the wearer; for dinner and for formal evening, clearing the floor, or allowed to trail, according to the whim of the wearer. New expressions in afternoon skirts: Ankle or instep length.

Capes, as accents to the dress, for evening or formal dinners; capes also for suits of wool, ensemble, or separate for sports.

Fabrics, cotton, silk, wool. In between cotton and silk come the rayons—silks, satins and a new and very pleasing pique, with the attributes of both silk and cotton. Pique in cotton is used also for smart blouse or vestees, as well as for collar and cuff sets.

Doris Arbuckle Not to Marry

Doris Deane Arbuckle, whose divorce from Roscoe Arbuckle, former screen comedian, becomes final in October, doubts if she will ever marry again. This was the manner in which she yesterday answered reports she and Al K. Hall, comedian, are engaged and will wed at the expiration of the legal interval.

"We are very good friends and he is a charming person, but, really, we are not planning on marriage," Mrs. Arbuckle stated. "In fact, I don't think I'll ever get married again."

Three Arrested on Still Charge

Three men were arrested yesterday in a raid on a ranch near Saugus by Federal dry agents, who reported that they found the men in charge of two 100-gallon stills as well as 130 gallons of alcohol and liquor. The three, John Dipinto, Steve Bowsca and Vic Sauridni, were placed in the County Jail in lieu of $5000 bail.

Fashion's Trend Revealed in First Spring Showing

Orpha Klinker '30

B—Foretelling the moderate length in skirts for street wear, the softly tailored suit, presents itself in wool or silk, the latter often simulating its heavier sisters—the tweeds—in surface effect and in coloring. The jacket, either of finger length, or longer, often seeks companionship with the skirt of modest length.

C—Dinner or informal evening frock, embodying many of the season's features, adopts floating panels upon occasion, but seldom chooses the greatly lengthened skirt.

A—Sports ensembles as a rule grant freedom of movement, never yielding to the longer skirt, but maintaining the principle so dear to active American women—that of ease and gracefulness. It is predicted that this style in suits or ensembles will be more than ever favored.

D—Exemplifying the extremity in evening modes, the pictured gown of embroidered chiffon, and lace in jade green, barely clears the floor. The shoulder cape, following the outline of the low decolletege at the back, is a feature favored in Spring collections, the hint of the bolero, at the waist-front, also is a vogueish note.

LAND SHOW INAUGURATED

Four Hundred Realty Men and Civic Leaders Take Part in Ground-Breaking Ceremonies

Four hundred or more realty men and civic leaders yesterday noon formally inaugurated the Los Angeles Realty Board's effort to bring before city dwellers and Southland visitors the possibilities of farm-land property. The occasion was the ground-breaking ceremonies for the California Land Show at Washington and Hill streets, March 8 to 23, inclusive, when exhibits will be opened and educational addresses made stressing the possibilities of farm-land development.

Civic leaders and prominent real estate men presided at the luncheon. Harold G. Ferguson, president of the Los Angeles Realty Board was toastmaster. He introduced Mayor Porter, John C. Austin, president of the Chamber of Commerce; Edwin G. Hart, chairman of the land show committee, and Joseph Scott, all of whom told of the purpose of the movement.

PLOW GUIDED

In keeping with the farm theme, Iris Adrian of the agricultural department of the Union Pacific Railroad guided a plow while sponsors of the event pulled it to break the ground.

Mayor Porter declared the coming affair would be of great benefit to Los Angeles in that any aid given to the farmer or assistance in the sale of farm lands was a benefit to metropolitan centers.

President Austin of the chamber spoke of the hearty support that organization is giving the land show. He declared that the affair is timely; that Los Angeles and California are facing a future of greater prosperity than the country has experienced for some time and that the realty men are on the right track in seeking to further the interests of agricultural localities.

TENT TO BE LIKE FOREST

Plans for the event include the decoration of the interior of the tent, in which it will be held, to represent a redwood forest. The tent measures 670 by 130 feet. A replica of a giant redwood tree with a passage cut through the center will form the main entrance. Tent poles will be decorated as redwood trees and the tent top dotted with poinsettias. Two other tents will provide space for convention sessions held in conjunction with the show and for illustrated lectures on farm products and subjects.

Approximately forty counties will have exhibits. More than 150 tons of redwood bark is already available for decorative work. This decorative work will proceed at once, so as to be ready for the installation of booth displays Monday.

The cost of the land show has been underwritten by the Chamber of Commerce, Realty Board and by individuals. The affair is not planned as a money-making effort and an admission for adults of but 25 cents and children 10 cents will be charged.

CODY GROUP PLANS PICNIC

The Cody (Wyo.) Society will hold its annual picnic next Sunday at Bixby Park, Long Beach. H. H. Schwoob, secretary, announced yesterday. In event of rain the affair will be in the Municipal Pier Auditorium.

Funeral Service of J. L. Adams to Be Tomorrow

Funeral services for J. L. Adams, former general commercial agent of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company, southern division, will be conducted at Pierce Brothers tomorrow at 11 a.m. Interment will be in Forest Lawn Memorial Park. Mr. Adams died Monday night at his home in La Crescenta, following a protracted illness.

J.L. ADAMS

Identified with the telephone business in Southern California for twenty years, Mr. Adams had held many important positions.

Born in Odessa, Mo., on November 27, 1885, Mr. Adams came to Los Angeles in 1908.

He leaves his widow, Jessie Warner Adams; a daughter, Virginia, a student at the Los Angeles Junior College; his mother, Mrs. Sue S. Adams of Los Angeles; a sister, Mrs. G. R. McCully, and a brother, Armour E. Adams. He was a member of the First Presbyterian Church, and Dr. Hugh K. Walker, pastor of that church, will have charge of the services. Active pallbearers will be E. H. Barmore, Jr., C. J. O'Hara, P. N. Pattison, W. J. Hawkins, L. C. Miller, and A. L. Carlson.

Novelties Will Mark Lecture

Masterpieces of novelty and classic will feature the Kingsley concert-lecture at Bullock's, Saturday morning.

Beginning with Joseph Hadyn's Symphony No. 13, there follows later the new "Psalmus Hungaricus" composed by the Hungarian, Kodaly. Then, one after the other, come the prelude to "Haensel and Gretel," as well as the Entrance of the Gods Into Valhalla and the Magic Fire music from Wagner's "Ring of the Nibelung" and Siegfried's Journey Down the Rhine and funeral march. After these will come the rhapsodical whirl of rhythm, the "Bacchanale" from "Samson and Delila," by Saint-Saens.

STAGE SET FOR SPRING STYLE SHOW

Three-Day Fashions Event Opens With Unveiling of Windows This Evening

Active work of installing exhibits began last night in hundreds of downtown store windows in preparation for the dramatic simultaneous unveiling this evening at 7 o'clock—the opening event in the three-day fashion showing known as "The Modes of Spring, 1930."

For more than a month window designers have been making ready for this united showing, and the exhibits promise to be a spectacle of radiant beauty. Spring-time atmosphere in backgrounds, color combinations and lighting effects have been worked out with all the artistry of elaborate stage settings.

"Perhaps no season in the past has ever offered such rare opportunities for interesting displays," said E. C. Mitchell, secretary, Retail Dry Good Merchants' Association, yesterday. "The apparel and home furnishings for spring are artistic in design, the colors are soft and pleasing, and a happy combination of beauty and utility is predominant in the modes. From inquiries received at our office, the interest is widespread and a record crowd is expected downtown to see the opening ceremonies."

The ceremonies will open when Kay Francis, actress, as official hostess, gives a signal for the blowing of bugles, promptly at 7 p.m. tonight. Boy Scouts, selected from among various troops, will sound the unveiling time from the principal corners. Civic and business leaders will be on hand.

Tomorrow individual stores will give style reviews, and many lectures on fashion subjects are scheduled.

Sketch Traces Life of De Neve

A biographical sketch of Don Felipe de Neve, Spanish Governor of California and founder of Los Angeles, was placed in circulation yesterday at the Central Public Library and all its branches.

ORRA E. MONNETTE

The brochure is the work of Orra E. Monnette, chairman of the Board of Library Commissioners. It recounts in detail Don Felipe's establishment of Spanish civilization in the Californias through his plan of pueblos, presidios and missions.

SPRING STYLE UNVEILING HELD COMMUNITY EVENT

Mayor Issues Proclamation Calling on City to Take Part in Annual Ceremonies

Characterizing the unveiling of the new spring styles as a community event, Mayor Porter yesterday joined with downtown Los Angeles merchants in inviting all Southern California to view the ceremonies planned for this evening, when the "Modes of Spring, 1930" will be shown in hundreds of downtown shop windows.

The Mayor indicated his interest in the new styles by issuing a proclamation and appearing in a 1930 spring hat of the popular new silver-pearl shade with a snap brim, a black band with the bow on the side.

PROCLAMATION ISSUED

After viewing some of the new fashions and hearing of the plans for the unveiling ceremonies Mayor Porter issued the following proclamation:

"The leadership of Los Angeles in the realms of style and business will once again be noted this Wednesday evening when the dramatic unveiling of the new spring styles takes place in the downtown district.

"In the spirit of spring, which, since time immemorial has marked the rebirth and renewing of nature, citizenry and merchants of Los Angeles will join in this pageant of fashion.

"The people of this city may well be proud of its reputation for leadership in this field. They may well be proud of the energy and foresight which make their merchants world-renowned for alert and modern viewpoints.

LIKE FAMILY PARTY

"The annual unveiling of spring styles has become something of a community event, in which everyone participates. It is through this co-operative spirit between public and merchants that we are reaffirming the right of Los Angeles to style leadership.

"Because this spring-style exhibit is made possible through the co-operative enthusiasm of our community as a whole, and the vision of downtown merchants in particular, the unveiling ceremonies take on the atmosphere of a great family party, at which downtown stores are hosts.

"I urge our citizens to attend this great spring unveiling and to join in this event during the three days in which it is carried on."

Experts Solve Problem of Placing Modern Pieces Into Older Settings

While there is no question such that of long skirts or short, in the realm of furniture, still there is a question, and one which at times has puzzled many a home-maker, especially the one seeking to introduce into the house something of modernism without discarding that already installed.

Guidance in this respect is provided by the leading houses and experts in this line are adepts in showing how one may place a single modern piece in a living room without detracting from other articles, or introduce into a home a modern room, or many rooms.

Many new modes in furniture have originated in our city. Modes not only so excellent as to be truly epoch-marking, but modes redolent of the romance of the Southland.

During the exhibition of the Modes of Spring, 1930, furniture houses and those offering all household wares will present many happy solutions of these ever-present problems.

Gas Station Man Fined for Liquor

C. A. Adcock, service station man at Osdick, near Victorville, yesterday in United States District Judge McCormick's court pleaded guilty to sale and possession of liquor. He was fined $200 and sentenced to six months in jail, but the jail term was suspended.

WIDOW ACCUSES SPOUSE'S NURSE

Woman Asked to Pay $40,000 in Alienation Suit

Affections of 66-Year-Old Man Assertedly Stolen

Marriage of Three Decades Has Unhappy Ending

Mrs. Della H. Goodwillie valued the love and affection of her dead husband, Willis L. Goodwillie, 66 years of age, at $40,000, according to her suit against Mrs. Julia A. Marshall, who she asserts enticed him away from her. Trial of the action was begun yesterday before a jury in the court of Superior Judge Archbald.

One of the assertions of the widow, who charges alienation of affections, is that Goodwillie gave Mrs. Marshall, then Mrs. San Cartier, $3500.

In her answer, Mrs. Marshall, who recently married Dr. Paul Marshall, denies the accusations. She says she cared for Goodwillie as a nurse during his illness and that he owed her money for her services when he died on March 4, 1928.

In her testimony yesterday Mrs. Marshall declared:

"Shortly before Mr. Goodwillie's death I telephoned Mrs. Goodwillie and told her he was not expected to live. She replied, 'I'm not interested. Please don't bother me.' Then she slammed the receiver."

The witness began sobbing and then resumed:

"If I am lying I want God to strike me dead in this chair."

Mrs. Goodwillie asserts that she and her husband, a traveling salesman, had been married twenty-nine years when he left her for Mrs. Marshall.

The hearing will continue today.

Builder Will Make Survey in This Vicinity

Col. W. A. Starrett, president of the Starrett Corporation and vice-president of Starrett Brothers, Inc., New York, one of the largest and best-known firms of builders in the country, will arrive here today for a week's study of building conditions in this vicinity.

COL. W.A. STARRETT

In a statement issued recently, Col. Starrett predicted that new construction for 1930 will be 5 to 10 per cent better than in 1929 and will amount to more than $8,000,000. He pointed out that funds at a reasonable rate of interest, which have formerly been diverted to stock speculations, are now being released.

Fox Plane Crash Victim's Ex-Wife Will Wed Soon

Gypsy Wells, former screen actress and dancer, and former wife of Conrad Wells, one of ten victims of a recent airplane accident, shortly will reveal plans for her marriage to E. De Wolfe, president of the California Etchers' Association, she announced yesterday.

According to Mrs. Wells, who gave up her professional career some months ago, they had planned on being married in June, but now intend to fix the wedding for an earlier date, which has not as yet been set.

Wells and Mrs. Wells were divorced nearly a year ago, she said. Her engagement to De Wolfe was announced formally at a party given in her honor in Hollywood last December. Wells was a cameraman for the Fox Film Corporation and lost his life with nine other men when two planes crashed over the sea off Point Vicente.

Police Board Chagrined Over Uniform Order

Holding that the secretary of the Police Commission misconstrued the order of the latter directing all members of the police department of uniform rank except the chief to appear in full uniform when on duty, President Thorpe yesterday publicly expressed his chagrin thereat.

He said that the order as communicated by the secretary directed "all members of the department except the detective bureau and the chief to wear uniforms when on duty." George Jeffers, the secretary, is home ill and was not present to explain.

Doughnut Holes Issue in Divorce

Mrs. Bertha Puckett, mother of five, told Superior Judge Fleming in divorce court yesterday that her husband used to make her work in his doughnut factory, and scolded her for eating doughnuts. "He told me the only part of the doughnut I could have was the hole," she said.

The husband denied he was so parsimonious as all that, and asked a decree on grounds of desertion. Judge Fleming will decide the case today.

Angelenos Flock to Beaches So They Can Cool Off

Typical Scene Along Seashore Yesterday

DRIVEN by a maximum temperature of 80 deg., several thousand persons thronged the Southern California beaches yesterday, many of them cooling off not only by lolling on the sands in bathing suits but braving a plunge in the surf, as well. All resorts reported an unprecedented midwinter weekday crowd.

The high thermometer reading was reached at 1 p.m. and was a drop of 9 deg. from the record of 89 established Monday. According to the United States Weather Bureau, the summer weather will continue for several more days, observers announcing they can find no indication of approaching rain. The forecast for today is fair and moderately warm, with gentle, variable winds.

High humidity, registering 23 per cent at noon, probably served to lessen the fire hazard that accompanied Monday's warmth, the bureau stated.

Beta Kappa to Install Local Chapter Soon

Beta Kappa, national social fraternity, will install Rho Alpha Sigma, local fraternity on the University of Southern California campus, as a chapter during the next month, it was announced yesterday.

Maddux Rites Set for Today

Funeral services for James A. Maddux, father of Jack L. Maddux, aviation executive, who died unexpectedly Sunday night at his home, 831 North Eucalyptus avenue, Inglewood, will be conducted at 2:30 p.m. today at the Beaver & Matson mortuary, Inglewood. Interment will be in Inglewood Cemetery.

Mr. Maddux, who retired from active business several years ago, was 71 years of age. Besides the air-transport executive, he leaves a widow, Mrs. Mary Maddux; three other sons, Edward M., Joseph C., and Frederick Maddux, all of Los Angeles; four daughters, Mrs. R. L. Russell of Modesto, Mrs. Charles Stewart of Santa Cruz, and Mrs. Arnold Stoffers and Mrs. Elmer Paul of Watsonville, and several grandchildren.

PENNILESS WRITER ATTEMPTS SUICIDE

Despondent because of "one bad break after another," Harry B. Vincent, 38 years of age, a writer, lately arrived from New York, yesterday attempted suicide, according to a police report, by swallowing poison tablets in the home of Volney James at 5870 Franklin avenue. He was found unconscious by James, for whom he has been working on part time. Revived at Georgia-street Receiving Hospital after first-aid at Dickey & Cass Hospital, Vincent told surgeons he is friendless, jobless and penniless. His condition is reported as serious.

AIRPORT PREPARES TO OBSERVE ANNIVERSARY

Ten thousand persons are expected at Grand Central Air Terminal over the week-end during the celebration of the port's first anniversary. A formal dinner-dance Friday night will open festivities that include an aircraft exhibit of forty planes and open house in the giant hangars and new $150,000 dining salon. Many local aviation leaders are expected to attend Friday night's formal opening. The ships will be on exhibition and the hangars open Saturday and Sunday.

STATE ROAD AID PLEDGED

Director Meek Declares County Highways Will Be Added to Secondary System

Southern California will be assured of the addition of major county roads to the State secondary highway system, it was revealed yesterday in an interview between Director of Public Works Meek and Chairman Woodworth of the Southern California Highway Committee of the State Chamber of Commerce.

Meek stated that his engineers have been at work in the survey and reclassification of Southern California highways and at present are more than sixty days ahead of expected schedule.

REPORT READY JULY

"The Department of Public Works and the State Highway Commission will have their joint report ready to submit to Gov. Young probably before July 1 and will include recommendations to the Legislature to include major Southern California county highways in the secondary highway system," said Director Meek.

For the past twenty years the chief differences of the north and south have hinged on a more equitable distribution of tax money in the construction and maintenance of State highways. Southern California has been paying approximately half the road tax, which comes from the gas tax money, and has been neglected in the ratio of State highway mileage as compared with that in the north.

MANY LEND AID

The problem has been discussed and worked on by many groups in Southern California and was finally undertaken by the Highway Committee of the California State Chamber of Commerce, a group composed of supervisors from every county in the south, together with various highway interests and representatives of every Chamber of Commerce and community of the southern counties.

In Los Angeles county, Wallace S. Woodworth, Pasadena; Ray Baldwin, Long Beach; R. V. Bashore, Bellflower; Ernest E. East, Los Angeles; H. M. Gorham, Santa Monica; Road Commissioner Jones, Los Angeles; Supervisor Wright, Los Angeles; J. S. McGroarty, Tujunga; Roy McNeill, Los Angeles; Watt Moreland, Burbank, and Carl B. Wirsching, Los Angeles, have played a large part in shaping the program and bringing about the road mileage equalization.

TALKIES TO SPEAK FOR BUSINESS

Production of Commercial Films to be Started on Large Scale Here

Production of commercial talking films on a large scale will be launched shortly in Hollywood as the result of a contract, announced yesterday, between Metropolitan Sound Studios and the Western Electric Company. By terms of the contract the studios, under management of the Christie brothers, are licensed by Electrical Research Products, Inc., a Western Electric subsidiary to product nontheatrical films with the latter organization's portable recording equipment.

CHARLES H. CHRISTIE

Operation of the studios in the making of business subjects, it is announced, will be carried on with the same recording staff that has produced pictures for the theatrical field. According to William S. Holman, general manager, the expansion means an addition of approximately $1,000,000 to the general production budget for this year. Deals already are pending, Holman said, whereby many manufacturers will order films depicting their products in process of manufacture. Accompanied by sales talks, these pictures will be exhibited regularly at division branches throughout the country.

The filming of industrial pictures, it is predicted by Holman, will stimulate expansion of business abroad as well as in this country, it now being possible for the star salesman, on film, to carry his factory and products visually around the world and address the people in any language.

The new sound-film facilities also will be made available to civic, educational and trade associations for the recording and distribution of messages apropos of their activities.

TEMPLE CHURCH SEIZED

Mrs. McPherson's Aides Take Over Pasadena Edifice in Cross Fight Directed at Seceders

Followers of Aimee Semple McPherson and her Church of the Four Square Gospel of Pasadena yesterday struck back at seceding Pasadena members through an action of claim and delivery filed here in the Municipal Court, which tied up church property and paraphernalia of the seceding element.

Deputy sheriffs, refused admission to the church at Marengo and Green streets, Pasadena, called a locksmith and took possession. Among other things seized were twelve white angel robes, twelve collection plates, a saxophone, four pulpits, a base drum and a base viol. Bank accounts, four pianos, two organs, hundreds of chairs, full church and Sunday-school equipment and sacramental sets also were tied up. A watchman was placed on guard.

The action was filed by the Four Square Gospel Lighthouse of Pasadena, a corporation, Carl Lindahl, a member of the official board verifying the complaint, which was filed by Attorney Gaines Hon. The Trinity Gull Gospel and a John Doe gospel church. H. E. Alford, Roxie Alford, Sam Black, E. J. Pollock, Merle Bladis, Lee J. Boyle, W. G. Durham and George Ashley were made defendants.

The complaint states that on October 14, 1929, the defendants seceded from the Four Square Gospel corporation and seized goods and equipment valued at $1400, all of which, it was asserted, belonged to the defendant corporation. It is charged that the seizure was without recourse to law and is illegal.

The strife developed last fall as the result of the withdrawal from the Angelus Temple organization of Rev. John Goben, assistant temple pastor. Rev. and Mrs. Alford were supporters of Goben.

JUDGE LINDSEY DECISION NEAR

State Bar to Get Report on Status in This State

Meeting Friday Also Will Take Up Other Issues

Disciplinary Cases Listed to Come Up for Action

Findings of the disciplinary committee in the matter of former Judge Ben Lindsey's status as a practicing lawyer in this State will be submitted here Friday at a meeting of the board of governors of the State Bar of California, it was announced yesterday. The report will deal with the question whether the former Denver jurist's representations, made in his original application, warrant proceedings for the setting aside of his certificate, in view of the Colorado Supreme Court's decision to disbar him.

The board also will have before it a disciplinary calendar of thirty-three cases, twenty-three of which are recommendations for dismissal submitted by the local administrative committee.

OTHER CASES

Three disbarment matters, three suspensions and three reprimands will be considered, as well as one case in which the accused attorney has been directed to show cause why he should not be disbarred.

A number of other matters are listed for discussion, notably the creation of a committee on practime in the Federal courts for establishment of comity between the State bar and Federal courts in disbarment problems. The board also will receive reports from the committees on unlawful practice, ambulance chasing and activities of adjusters.

MEETING PLANS

Representation at the Incorporated Bar Conference at Washington May 7 to 10, next, and details for the Pasadena convention of the State bar, to be held September 18, 19 and 20, next, are other matters on the program.

President Charles A. Beardsley will preside. In addition to the latter, the board members are Lawrence F. Puter, Eureka; Jess W. Carter, Redding; J. W. S. Butler, Sacramento; Francis V. Keesling, Max C. Sloss and Joe G. Sweet, San Francisco; William H. Donahue Oakland; J. W. Hawkins, Modesto; David M. Burnett, San Jose; Alfred L. Bartlett, Henry G. Bodkin, Thomas C. Ridgway and Leonard B. Slosson, Los Angeles, and Eugene Daney, San Diego.

MOTHER OF J. B. MILLER SUCCUMBS

Edison Company Official's Parent Dies in Bungalow at Hotel Huntington

Mrs. Sarah Amelia Barnes Miller, mother of John B. Miller, chairman of the board of directors of the Southern California Edison Company, died at 9:30 a.m. yesterday at her bungalow at the Hotel Huntington in Pasadena. She was 80 years of age. Private funeral services will be conducted at 4 p.m. today at the John B. Miller home, Hillside, at Columbia street and Hillside Road, Pasadena.

Mrs. Miller was the widow of John Edgar Miller, an officer of the Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Company of California for many years. Besides John B. Miller she leaves a daughter, Clara Adelle Miller, and another son, Frank Edgar Miller, right-of-way agent for the Southern California Edison Company.

Mr. and Mrs. Miller came to California in 1909 from Mr. Miller's native State of Michigan, where he was prominent in the commercial and banking business. He died in September, 1925.

NEWS OF THE CAFES

One of the smartest eating places in Southern California, where the hostess may entertain with a luncheon, bridge tea or dinner, feeling assured of an environment that spells success is the La Ramada Inn, Huntington Drive at San Gabriel Boulevard. The old adobe and its patios that house the inn are more than 200 years old. A luncheon or tea in the patio under low-sweeping live oak trees and gay umbrellas is a never-to-be-forgotten pleasure.

INN ON HILLTOP

Those who are always seeking something different in the way of a place to dine and at the same time attractive and with homelike atmosphere, will find a place to their liking in the new Hill Top Inn surmounting a sightly eminence above the city of Montrose. Through great windows in the dining-room guests are thrilled by an unobstructed panoramic view of the valley before with Catalina Island in the distant. The new inn is rapidly gaining a wide reputation for its chicken, steak and squab dinners.

ILLINOISANS DINE

Seventy-five former residents of Mantoon, Ill., held a get-together banquet last Wednesday noon in the Polly's Patio Tea Shop, West Seventh street just East of Vermont avenue, on which occasion the Matooners elected new officers for this year. The officers elected were Allen Dibble, president; Heary Polle, treasurer; Sam Bower, secretary, and Leon Schlesinger, chairman. By an unanimous vote a midsummer picnic was voted upon to be held in Long Beach, Bixby Park, August 30.

CONDUCTOR HONORED

Johnny Hamp, popular Cocoanut Grove orchestra conductor at the Ambassador, has just been appointed a full-fledged colonel by Gov. Sampson of Kentucky, as a mark of appreciation for the musical fame which Hamp has brought the Blue Grass State with his Kentucky Serenaders, it is reported.

There are sixteen singers and musicians in Hamp's aggregation.

ATLANTA, Feb. 18. (AP)—Bobby Jones, national open champion, left here tonight for Savannah, Ga., where, Thursday he will sound the first gun in his extensive 1930 campaign, in the three-day seventy-two-hole open tournament. The open king will be playing in his first tournament since the national amateur championship in California last September, when he was eliminated by Johnny Goodman, a little known golfer from Omaha. Jones has mapped out a strenuous campaign for this year. His tentative plans include the Walker Cup matches as captain of the American team, the British open and amateur tournaments and the national open and amateur events.

GEBERT SIGNED TO ASSIST LIEB

Quarterback of Shock Troops Selected by Loyola

Carideo's Understudy Rounds Out Strong Staff

Irish Mentor Leaves Today for Spring Practice

There will be no halfway business about putting the Notre Dame system into effect at Loyola next fall. Carl Gebert, understudy to Frank Carideo, Notre Dame's all-American quarterback last year, will be Tom Lieb's chief assistant.

CARL GEBERT.

The appointment was announced yesterday by Victor Lawler, graduate manager of the local institution.

Lieb leaves South Bend, Ind., today for the Coast, and plans to start the Lions off on spring football practice early next month.

Lieb was recently signed as head coach at Loyola for a term of five years. He was Knute Rockne's chief assistant at Notre Dame last fall, and practically led the Irish to a national championship single-handed while Rockne was bedridden.

Gebert's contract is for two years. His salary was not announced.

He was quarterback in the "shock-troop" backfield, which was composed of himself, Schwartz, O'Connor and Savoldi last year.

This was the quartet that started the game against the University of Southern California at Chicago, but was relieved after the Trojans scored the opening touchdown on a pass from Duffield to Apsit.

Gebert has always been a good, dependable player, lacking only the spectacular all-around qualities of Carideo.

Gebert graduates in June, and will not report to Loyola until fall.

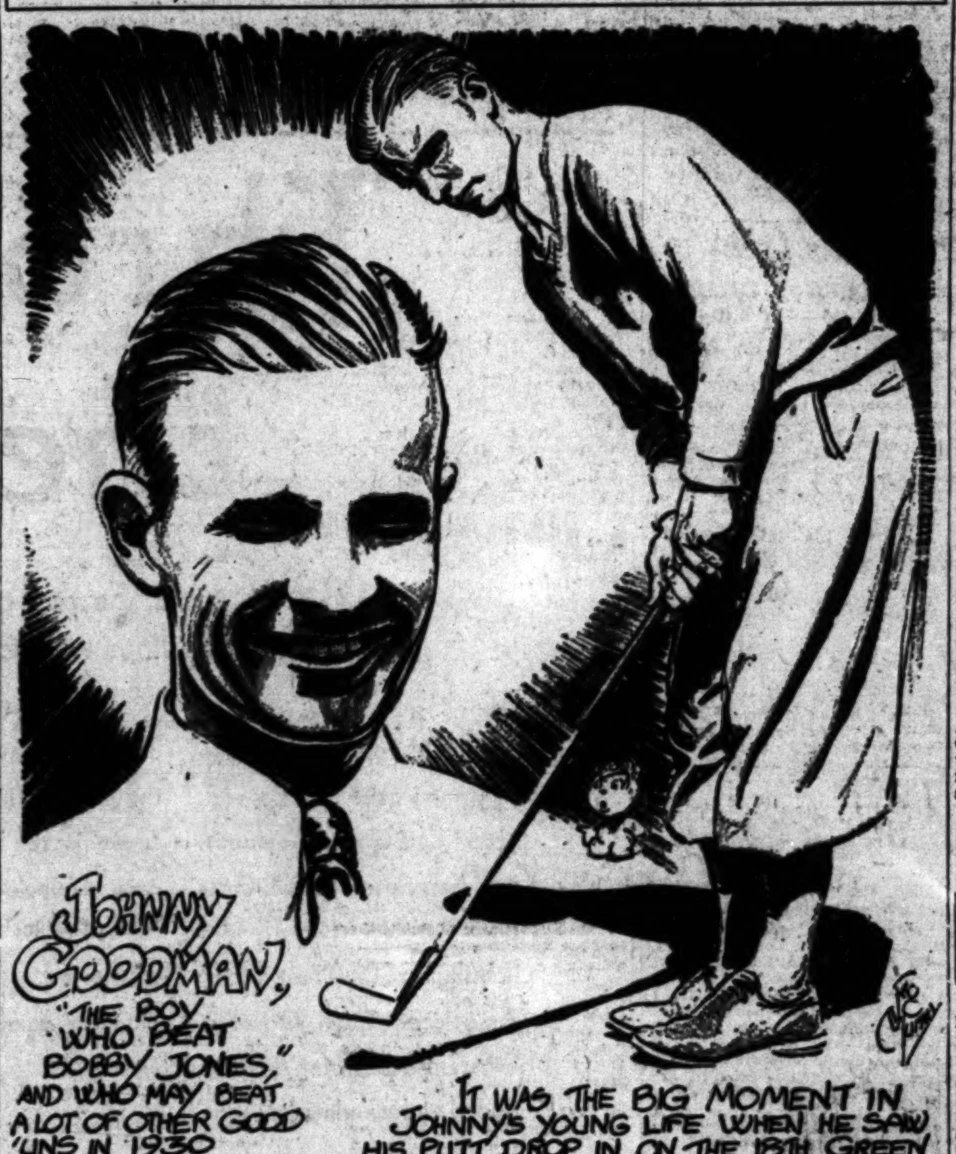
JOHNNY, THE GIANT-KILLER - By Feg Murray



JOHNNY GOODMAN, "THE BOY WHO BEAT BOBBY JONES," AND WHO MAY BEAT A LOT OF OTHER GOOD 'UNS IN 1930
FEG MURRAY
IT WAS THE BIG MOMENT IN JOHNNY'S YOUNG LIFE WHEN HE SAW HIS PUTT DROP IN ON THE 18TH GREEN AND KNEW THAT HE HAD ELIMINATED THE CHAMP!

Metropolitan Newspaper Service

LAST September, at Pebble Beach, Cal., occurred one of the upsets of the year in sports. The one and only Bobby Jones was beaten in a first-round match of the United States amateur golf championship, where, in the five previous years, he had only been beaten once in such a tournament, and then by George Von Elm, in the finals in 1926. The chap who upset the king of golf was a wiry 20-year-old student at Omaha University whose previous claim to fame was that he had been trans-Mississippi champion in 1927 when he was 17, and who had panhandled his way to the United States open at Winged Foot, New York, by working his way on a cattle train! He played through the open, too, turning in rounds of 75, 80, 78 and 85 for a 318.

It is not beyond the realms of possibility that Goodman will go on with his giant-killing act in 1930. Watch for his name in the entries for the United States open for the United States amateur, and maybe one or two of the British tournaments. He is a happy-go-lucky nomad, a picturesque kid who can feel equally at home with the elite of golf (than which there is no "eliter," unless it is the elite of polo,) and the cowpunchers of Nebraska.

I saw that Jones-Goodman match at Pebble Beach, and it was a thriller. Not the best golf ever played, but one of history's most exciting matches. Johnny started off calmly enough by winning the first three holes, then Bobby finally evened the match at the twelfth, but could never take the lead.

You may say that Mr. Johnny Goodman punched his iron shots straight and true, "steered" them right at the pin and, no bull about it, he was not at all "cowed" by the reputation of his famous rival.

Rumler Proved Gameness in Playoff for Flag

BY BOB RAY

Walloping Will Rumler, who proved the old saying that "they never come back," was just so much hooey last season with Oscar Vitt's pennant-winning Stars, has signed his 1930 contract, which was received at the Hollywood office yesterday.

BILL RUMLER.

Walloping Will, out of organized baseball for eight years, showed the fans a real comeback with Hollywood last season when he banged the horsehide for a .366 average, finishing third in the Coast League batting race, and wound up as the circuit's leading fielder, as far as the league's averages were concerned.

Rumler sent his contract in from the wilds of Milford, Nebr., which is also known as the land

BY IRVING VAUGHAN

KANSAS CITY (Mo.) Feb. 18. (Exclusive)—For the first week at least, training life isn't going to be much more than a matter of ease for the Cub batterymen. They'll be called on only once a day to show their wares in a limited workout and the rest of the time they can bask under a balmy California sun, golf, fish or loaf as they see fit.

JOE McCARTHY

This was the program Manager Joe McCarthy outlined this afternoon shortly after he had led eight members of his early squad out of Chicago in quest of the soothing breezes and refreshing sunshine of Catalina Island.

The life of ease and luxury won't be a permanent matter, however. In this go-as-you-please fashion the hurlers will be permitted to get themselves into working order, but after the main squad arrives March 1, the program for everybody

PIPAL SELECTS BENGALS' TWO-MILE RELAY TEAM

Coach Joe (Timberwolf) Pipal held tryouts yesterday afternoon on Patterson Field for the four-man two-mile relay team, which he is entering in the A.A.U. relays to be held next Saturday at Polytechnic High School in Long Beach. He sent twelve men to the marks in a two-lap heat, which was won by Crawford after a spectacular finish, in which he barely nosed out Bailey and McKee, who finished within a yard of the star Tiger distance man. Johnny Walker was a good fourth.

The gray-haired Oxy mentor also sent in entry lists last night for the four-man mile and half-mile relays, Southern Conference class. He announced that he may scratch his mile quartet for he does not care to tip his hand as to just what he has in this event unless the quarter-milers round into better shape than they are at present.

Wendall Smith, the Bengal all-around man, will be entered in the open high hurdle race. Against the L.A.A.C., Smith was beaten by Pomeroy in 15s. flat, but he defeated Bob Maxwell and other famous Mercury hurdlers. Ernie Jensen, who has cleared over 13ft. already this season, is also entered with a team-mate, Joe Roselle, in the pole vault. Hall will compete in the open high jump.

Pipal has also entered two frosh relay teams in the Southern Conference division, in the half-mile and medley baton passing events.

FIELDS TOILS FOR CORBETT BOUT

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 18. (AP)—While his prospective opponent took a day off Jackie Fields, welterweight champion, chalked up eight hard rounds today for his ten-round nontitle bout here Saturday with Young Corbett, Fresno southpaw.

JACKIE FIELDS.

The lay-off for Corbett was necessitated because he is already down to final physical trim and further steady training might cause him to go stale.

Fields buffeted four partners, all left-handers, around the ring and demonstrated he was in fine fettle for the bout which was expected to settle all arguments as to the respective abilities of the two rivals. For the last year and a half Corbett has camped on Fields's trail, hurling challenges at the title-holder. A flat guarantee of $25,000 by Promoter Ancil Hoffman induced Fields to sign on the dotted line.

Ticket sales continued to mount today with indications that the gate will reach more than $65,000, a new record for a bout in Northern California. It will be held in the afternoon at the San Francisco baseball park.

Promoter Hoffman and the boxers' managers engaged in a squabble with Boxing Commissioner Charles F. Traung today over the latter's delay in announcing the name of the referee. Hoffman and his associates contend that announcement of the referee's name well in advance will help the gate receipts. It is understood that Traung has Jim Griffin and Toby Irwin, San Franciscans, in mind for the duties.

BECKER TO SCOUT FOR BROOKLYNITES

NEW YORK, Feb. 18. (AP)—Another scout has been added to the Brooklyn Dodgers' staff in the person of Joe Becker, International League umpire last year and a Pacific Coast League umpire for six preceding years. Becker has been assigned to do his scouting in the far West. Another scout is to be appointed within the next few days to cover the midwest territory. The two present Brooklyn scouts, Nap Rucker and Larry Sutton, are to confine their activities in the future to the south and east, respectively.

MERCURY POLOISTS WIN

The Los Angeles Athletic Club water polo team will face Venice tonight in the local pool for the championship of Southern California. The Mercuries advanced to the final round last night when they scored a 5-to-4 upset victory over the strong Hollywood Athletic Club team.

Hollywood, with a 9-to-1 win over the University of Southern California team on Monday, was a favorite.

Ginger Austin with three goals, and Dave Barclay with two, were the scoring aces for the Mercury swimmers. Wes Kimball, Hollywood's leading paddler, scored three goals for the losers, while Fletcher accounted for the other digit.

Gwyn Wilson Receives Acceptance of Islanders for Football Game at Coliseum

Gwyn Wilson, graduate manager of the University of Southern California, last night received official acceptance of a game with the University of Hawaii. The game is scheduled to be played in the Coliseum, November 15, and completes Southern California's 1930 football program.

Coach Otto Klum of the Hawaiian school wired confirmation of the date after consulting with faculty heads.

GWYNN WILSON

Klum, who has exchanged games with Pacific Coast elevens for a number of years, was reported to have been favorable toward a date with the Trojans for some time, but was unable to accept the game until the Hawaii faculty had given its sanction.

Hawaii, always a colorful team and well grounded in football fundamentals, made its last visit to Los Angeles in 1927, when the islanders defeated Occidental College. Hawaii has also played home-and-home games with Pomona.

TROJAN NINE PLAYS FIRST CLASH TODAY

Trojan baseball players, preparing for their league debut March 10, will play their first practice game of the season this afternoon, meeting the Crowley All-Stars on Bovard Field. Acting Coaches Larry Dihel and Dick Schulz have selected a tentative line-up that includes five regulars from last year, two of last season's subs, and one sophomore. Capt. Joe Ward is slated to do the receiving, with an infield composed of Holzhausen, Purcell, Mohler and Wilcox. Mohler played with the frosh last season, while Purcell and Wilcox were subs.

JOHN LESTER JOHNSON ORDERED OFF RING BILL

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 18. (AP)—An official wallop landed on a hypothetical chin today with the result that John Lester Johnson, ancient negro heavyweight, was removed from the fight program proposed for here next Friday night. Johnson was billed to meet Frankie Campbell, hard-hitting San Franciscan, in ten rounds. Today, Boxing Commissioner Charles F. Traung called in Frand Schuler, Observatory Club matchmaker, and told the latter he had heard that everything "was not so good." Futhermore, Traung cautioned that if the bout went on, he (Traung) would personally stop the bout if "things looked shady."

The upshot was that Johnson is off the card and Matchmaker Schuler says he will try to line up a suitable opponent, if possible. Printed programs had stated that Jack Dempsey would referee the contest, but the former heavyweight champion notified those in charge that he would not be available for the job.

ANNUAL EVENT BEGINS MONDAY

Many Countries Represented in Tournament

Weakley Defends Crown Won Last Year With 162

Interclub Team Match Play Scheduled Today

BY EDWARD LAWRENCE

Midwick's annual senior championship of Southern California, which will be played over the Monterey Park course on Monday and Tuesday, has attracted one of the most notable fields in the history of the championship, according to Fred Morrison, Midwick professional.

A.K. BOURNE

The tournament, now sponsored by the Southern California Golf Association, has not only drawn a record field from this section, but entries have also been received from players representing Canada, the Philippines, Hawaii and Alaska.

Midwick officials announced yesterday that the course will be open to entrants tomorrow and Sunday for a practice round.

In order to be eligible for the tournament, a golfer must have reached the age of 50. Play will be in four divisions, Class A for gentlemen between the ages of 50 and 55; Class B for gentlemen between 55 and 60; Class C for gentlemen between 60 and 65, and Class D for gentlemen of 65 and over.

The Everett S. Hunter trophy, which goes to the club of the winning golfer, will be presented to the player in any of the four divisions who has the low-gross score for thirty-six holes. One round of eighteen holes is scheduled each day.

At the present time the trophy is held by the Fox Hills Country Club. E. V. Weakley won the title last year with rounds of 80 and 82, respectively, for a total of 162.

Numerous prizes will be awarded in each division additionally. The J. G. Cox trophy is to be awarded the player over 70 with the best match play against par cards, without handicap, for thirty-six holes.

Among the favored entrants will be A. K. Bourne of Annandale and Midwick. A number of new faces will be seen this year, as a number of fine golfers have just turned the half-century mark.

RANCHO GOLF TEAM FACES CALIFORNIA

Golfers of the California Country Club are mustering their forces to repulse the powerful Rancho Golf Club team when they clash in an interclub team match over the Culver City links today.

California received a 7-to-2 setback in the first match of the season played over the Rancho course late last month, but hopes to recoup this afternoon. Fay Coleman, California's leading golfer, recently shot a 64 over the Cheviot Hills course, and hopes to repeat today as he will in all probability play against George (Jix) Von Elm, if the latter has fully recuperated from having his tonsils removed.

The California-Rancho contest will feature the day's matches in the same group. Hollywood plays at Brentwood in a battle for last place.

In Group 2, where Midwick and Lakeside are staging a nip-and-tuck battle for first place, Midwick travels to Bel-Air and Lakeside meets San Gabriel on the latter's links. At the present time Midwick has 18 points and Lakeside 17 toward the group championship.

In the seventh group, Los Angeles plays at Annandale, while Flintridge travels to Wilshire. Flintridge is leading Los Angeles by a point with twenty-five digits against twenty-four.

POTRERO INCREASES LEAD IN WOMEN'S TEAM PLAY

Potrero has apparently cinched the women's interclub team match championship of the eastern division with a lead of 9 points over Fox Hills, its nearest rival.

Mrs. Stanley Clarke, chairman of the eastern division, reports that Potrero defeated Long Beach, 11½ to ½ in a match played Monday at Fox Hills. At the same time, Fox Hills defeated Palos Verdes, 11½ to ½; Virginia won from Rio Hondo, 9½ to 2½.

Standings are as follows: Potrero, 74; Fox Hills, 65; Virginia, 63½; Rio Hondo, 41; Long Beach, 25½, and Palos Verdes, 19.

LOS ANGELES JAYSEE FIVE TRIMS COMPTON

The Los Angeles Junior College basketball squad eked out a 42-to-24 victory over the Compton Jaysee in the Cubs' gym last night. Although the Tartars were rather soundly trounced, they put up a better battle than they were expected to. Coach Campbell's first team was not very effective and gave way to the second squad in the last half. The subs gave as good or better an exhibition than the regulars did.

Golden Prince to Be Sold at Agua Caliente

SAN DIEGO, Feb. 18. (AP)—With the Agua Caliente Handicap, with $100,000 added, only about a month away, it was announced today that Golden Prince, cofavorite with Victorian for honors in the big racing event, would be sold Sunday at public auction. This announcement caused much speculation today among horsemen at the Agua Caliente track.

Golden Prince, winner of last year's Coffroth Handicap, now supplanted by the Agua Caliente Handicap, is owned by Abe Bartelstein of Chicago and Harry Unna, trainer for the stable. Unna brought the great runner from comparative obscurity to the climax that came with the winning of the 1929 Coffroth. Golden Prince started off this season in nice shape, winning the $10,000 speed handicap of six furlongs February 2. Golden Prince is a 6-year-old gelding by Golden Guinea and Round the World.

With Golden Prince in the sale will be included Sidney Grant, a young chestnut colt of much promise, and several other runners.

Unna, according to reports from Agua Caliente, declined to discuss the reason for the sale. It was reported that he was considering retirement from racing and training.

JACKSON WINS KENNEDY BOUT

the big fellow throwing caution to the winds and slugging wildly.

After piling up a big lead in the early rounds Jackson tired badly, and from the sixth round on he went to his corner at the end of each session and flopped in his stool.

Kennedy kept boring in in a persistent, patient manner, and had he been able to land a good solid punch in any of the late rounds would have floored the black boy.

He won a slight edge on the number of rounds, but Jackson's early margin, plus his last round flurry, when he landed the cleaner punches, gained him the nod.

Jackson weighed 200 pounds and Kennedy 189¼.

The house was poor, and some of the cash customers left before the boys put on their steam-heated finish.

In all there were thirty-six rounds of fighting on the card, and with not a knockout during the evening the fans were kept until well after 11 o'clock.

Benny Miller and Bert Samson staged the best fight of the evening in the six-round special, and Miller won.

He knocked Samson half-way across the ring with a right-hander in the third round, and although Samson was the aggressor Benny landed the best wallops.

Miller improves with each fight and earned Referee Bob White's decision despite the fact it was booed loudly by some of the gallery critics.

Jimmy Hannan continued the good work he started last week in beating Eddie Burnbrook, and won from Bob Edwards in six rounds. It was the semifinal bout. Hanna had Edwards on the floor for a two count in the fourth round.

The other bouts resulted as follows:

Reggie Gilmore, who has blossomed from a Pasadena timekeeper, refereed the first three fights in his most immaculate style.

Lamont Joins Husky Coaches

CHICAGO, Feb. 18. (Exclusive)—Daniel Lamont today resigned as athletic director and head coach at Loyola University to become line coach at the University of Washington. He was recommended for the Coast position by Jimmy Phelan, who left Purdue to take charge of football at the Seattle school.

Lamont's resignation came as a surprise to Loyola officials. Under his direction athletics at the North Side school have made rapid strides. The present basketball schedule is the most representative in the university's history. Loyola's 1930 football card includes home games with Georgetown and Boston College.

U.P. BOWLERS TO HEAD FOR WYOMING

Headed for Rock Springs, Wyo., and hopes for further laurels, men and women of the Union Pacific System bowling teams from the Los Angeles division will leave here tonight for the annual winter sports tournament to be held in Rock Springs next week. The two teams from Los Angeles are winners in the unit meet held here several weeks ago and won their tickets to the Rock Springs meeting with high scores. Lucille Willey, champion woman bowler of the system for 1929, will head the local delegation.

At Caliente, Nev., this delegation will be joined by the basketball team from that division, which won the honors in the recent unit meet in Los Angeles.

MAIN-STREET CARDS MEXICAN FAVORITES

Two more Mexican ring favorites have been signed for headline bouts next Saturday night at the Main-street Athletic Club to support the Leo Hernandez-Jack Slager welterweight clash. In the six-round semi-wind-up Jimmy Alvarado will tackle Clark Anderson, negro featherweight, while Jack Charvez and Joe Parra, middleweights, are slated for the six-round special event. Three other battles will be added to the list.

Pick Trojans to Compete in A.A.U. Relays

Still anxiously awaiting word anent the eligibility of his star athletes, Coach Dean Cromwell sent a flock of half-milers through a try-out race on Bovard Field yesterday afternoon, and definitely decided upon some of his relay teams for the A.A.U. meet at Long Beach Saturday.

Cromwell has decided to put Milton Maurer, Red Guyer, Weldon Draper and Frank Wykoff in the four-man 440, running in that order. The four-man 880 team has not yet been definitely decided upon.

As expected, Art Woessner, Vic Williams, Gerald Pearson and J. Wakefield Burke will perform in the mile relay, in that order. In yesterday's half-mile trials Cliff Halstead ran away from the field to win in 2m 2-10s., but Cromwell has decided to run him in the four-man four-mile only. Ellsworth Patterson, one-time miler, finished second in 2m. 3s., nosing out Jess Cook, and this pair will team with Lee Hansen and Bill McGeagh in the relay.

Halstead, Vic Fitzmaurice, George Cuthbert and Chesley Unruh will ramble in the four-man four-mile.

Discus—Hall, Kline, Stewart, Bill Bradbury, Dick Van Fleet.
Javelin—"Slick" Stocks, Blanchard Beatty, Howard Joslin.
Broad jump—Dick Barber, Howard Paul.
High jump—Stewart, Bo Van Osdel.

Hudkins Due Here Tonight

Ace Hudkins and his manager, Tom Kennedy, will arrive here tonight by Western Air Express, according to a wire received yesterday by the local offices of the company from an eastern agent.

The local fighter, former challenger for Mickey Walker's middleweight crown, is scheduled to leave Kansas City at 8 o'clock this morning, arriving here twelve hours later.

It was his second fight since resumption of ring activities following failure to lift Walker's crown in a championship fight at Wrigley Field last October.

He had previously disposed of Arthur Flynn in a Boston ring.

Hudkins has no known ring dates in this city, but has always been a popular card here and may be signed for a local engagement in the near future.

OXY NINE PREPS FOR OPENING OF SEASON

With the first game scheduled for one week from today, the Occidental College diamond hopefuls are undergoing tough workouts this week, according to Bill Anderson, the new Tiger baseball mentor. It is probable that the varsity nine will tangle the last of the week with the frosh when a tentative first squad will be chosen. The California Bank nine will meet the Tigers on Patterson Field in the first game next Wednesday afternoon.

Glenn Rozelle, recently appointed to coach freshmen baseball at Oxy, will hold his first practice this afternoon. He expects approximately twenty Peagreeners to vie for positions, and an advance survey demonstrates that there are several real ball players among the yearling class.

WHITTIER DEFEATS PASADENA QUINTET

Coach Don Douglas's Whittier High School basketball team won handily from Pasadena, 38 to 27, in a practice game at Whittier yesterday afternoon. Garman, with 15 points, was high man for the winners, while Peltrop, with 13, featured for the losers. In a preliminary game Whittier Class B defeated Excelsior, 42 to 16. The Class A line-ups:

Whittier (38)		Pasadena (27)
Arambide (10)	F.	Peltrop (13)
Chisler (10)	C.	Schultz (8)

Imboden	G.	Cabot

Substitutes: Cline (2,) Rusk (1.) Referee—Finch.

SHORTY CANTLON TO TEST MOUNT SUNDAY

"Shorty" Cantlon, speed king who formerly claimed Detroit for his home, but who is now an adopted citizen of Los Angeles, is the first driver entered in the 500-mile grind at Indianapolis this year, according to reports from the East. Cantlon next Sunday afternoon will give the fans a peek at the machine which will be entered in that annual classic when he goes to the post with fourteen others in the 100-lap Goebel sweepstakes auto race at the American Legion Speedway here.

Although the Miller special which Cantlon handles is now a one-seater, it will be remodeled for the Indianapolis classic. However, the motor of the high-powered gas burner will not be changed when Bill White, owner of the car, takes it east, it is announced.

U.C.L.A. BASEBALLERS PLAY PRACTICE GAME

Coach A. J. Sturzenegger's Bruin baseball team will open its 1930 practice game schedule this afternoon on the University of California at Los Angeles campus against the National Baseball School nine from Santa Monica. The game will not be a regular affair, since the visitors will supply pitchers for both teams, Coach Sturzenegger not caring to risk his hurlers' arms in a game this early in the season.

The Bruin diamond mentor has promoted Bill Brubaker, freshman sensation of last year, to the first string, where he will either replace Fitzgerald at second base or Ted Dennis at the third bag. Dennis will be moved to first base, in case Brubaker is placed in charge of the hot corner.

Preps Play in Title Tourney

With plans rapidly materializing, tentative arrangements have been made for holding the Southern California high school basketball play-off for the championship, Seth Van Patten, director of athletics for C.I.F., announced yesterday. The thirteen championship teams in the prep leagues of Southern California will be narrowed down to eight teams, who will compete in a tournament, according to present plans.

One team will be eliminated from preliminary consideration Friday night, when Harvard Military Academy, winners in the Prep League, clash with Covina High School, San Gabriel League champions, at 8 p.m. in the Colts' gymnasium. Other games in the eliminations will be scheduled in the near future.

The tournament is tentatively scheduled for March 7 and 8 and March 14 and 15, a double-header to be played each night except the 15th. Class A and Class B teams will both compete in the tournament. Although no location has been assigned for the tourney as yet, the games will probably be played in the Huntington Park, or Glendale High gymnasiums, or some other centrally located gymnasium.

IOWA RE-ESTABLISHES ACTIVE BIG TEN RELATIONS TODAY

CHICAGO, Feb. 18. (AP)—The University of Iowa will actively re-establish athletic relations with the Big Ten tomorrow night, meeting the University of Chicago in a dual gymnastic meet.

Buffalo Gets Slattery Bout

NEW YORK, Feb. 18. (Exclusive) By formally approving the so-called world's light-heavyweight title fight between Maxie Rosenbloom of New York and Jimmy Slattery of Buffalo for April 7 at Buffalo the State Athletic Commission today disposed of a prolonged controversy that promised to establish a new record for free and fancy windjamming.

Frank Bachman, Maxie's manager, argued for a shift of battleground to New York, but Slattery stood pat for his home town.

The only break Rosenbloom got from the commission was its refusal to order the fight to take place on St. Patrick's Day, which would be a tough occasion for a Hebrew to go gunning for the scalp of an Irishman in his home town.

SUNFREZE SIX FIGHTS TO STAY IN PLAYOFF

Facing elimination from the playoffs, the Sunfreze Bears ice hockey team will take the ice tonight at the Winter Garden Ice Palace to meet the league-leading Gilmore Lions. A loss for the Bears this evening will just about count them out of the race. They have just three games left on their schedule, and Sunfreze must win two of them to overtake the Union Oilers, who are in second place.

Team—	W.	T.	L.	Pts.
Gilmore Lions	11	1	8	23
Union Oil Pirates	9	2	9	20
Sunfreze Bears	8	1	11	17

IGNATIUS BEATS ST. MARY'S

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 18. (AP)—The St. Ignatius College basketball quintet of San Francisco recovered its early season form here tonight to hand the St. Mary's College quintet a 34-to-21 trouncing.

Tiger Cagers Trim Caltech Squad, 50-38

Occidental defeated Caltech, 50 to 38, in a Southern California Conference basketball game played last night in the McKinley Junior High School gymnasium at Pasadena.

The line-ups:

Occidental (50)		Caltech (38)
Olsen	F.	Bernhard (8)
Noble (8)	F.	Pratt (16)
Gostavich (2)	C.	McLaughlin (6)
Rice	G.	Lani (4)
Hiatt	G.	Cagen (4)

SCORE BY HALVES

Occidental	20	30—50

Substitutions — Occidental: Eliot (8,) Glover (21,) Dimter (17,) McAllister (2,) Murray. Caltech: Oaks, Dickerman (2.)

TERRIS BEATS CHARLES

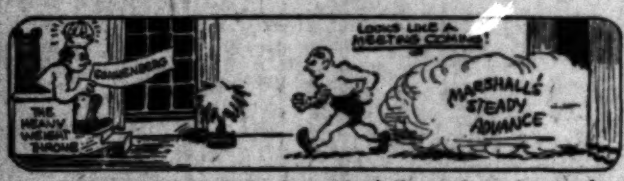
RABBIT PUNCHES
BY PAUL LOWRY

NEW MAT KING FORESEEN

THERE is some indication of a new heavyweight champion in wrestling circles before the year is out. And it is more than likely that the new champion will be named Everett Marshall.



It is evident that the interest of the cash customers in young Mr. Marshall, plus his tremendous strength and native skill, make him the outstanding candidate in the field today.

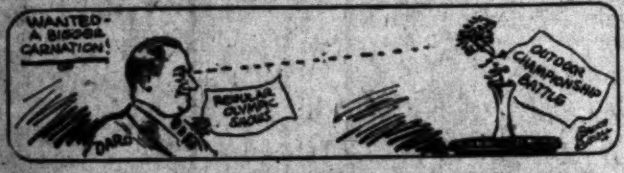
Of course, there are other candidates who undoubtedly feel they are entitled to the honor and will put up a stiff battle before the nominations close.

But Mr. Marshall has cut loose just enough in Los Angeles, which after all has come to be the wrestling seat of the country, to indicate he is the potential king of the roost.

"Dynamite" Gus Sonnenberg, the present king, is only in his second year of office, but those close to the seat of things report that Mr. Marshall has it on Mr. Sonnenberg seven ways from the jack.

It is, therefore, just a mere matter of time before we will see one of those threatened outdoor shots of Promoter Lou Daro's for the championship.

Glendale's portly citizen long has nourished the idea of staging the biggest championship battle of all time. For the past two years he has hinted outdoor matches which failed to materialize.



But you can see one coming now in the stack of the cards. Marshall meets Howard Cantonwine at the Olympic tonight. Nick Lutze tangles with Gene LaDoux in the other half of the double main event. Lutze once held the popular esteem which is now Marshall's. Lutze and Marshall will win tonight if the form charts don't go astray, and meet later in a perfect "natural."

THE AL MORRO CASE

E. R. HURST, secretary of the California Country Club, will be a ringsider when young Al Morro fights Tony Stabineau at the Hollywood Legion Stadium Friday night.

Ordinarily, Mr. Hurst confines his attention to golf, but this happens to be no ordinary situation for Mr. Hurst.

"I don't know about his ring science, or his footwork, or his ability to take 'em, but if strength has anything to do with it Al Morro will lick anybody in the ring."

Mr. Hurst says young Morro doesn't have to fight, but that Jim Jeffries got him interested in the game and has been priming him for months and months.

It seems that about ten years ago the Morros bought a block of acres in Burbank for something like $2800, the value of which has now grown into $350,000.

But under the tutelage of Jeffries, the old heavyweight king, who also has a neighboring ranch, the kid still wants to take a whirl at the ring sport.

He may make good—and he may not. It doesn't seem to make much difference as far as money is concerned.

THE STANFORD AX

ONE MORE college coach on the block.

This time it is Husky Hunt, the little fellow, who has been coaching basketball teams at Stanford since 1925.

There is one thing demanded at both California and Stanford—victory over the arch-rival.

Other games can go by the boards—but not this one. It must be won occasionally.

That's why California's football season was a bloomer last fall. The Golden Bears kept their slate clean in all other games, but were tramped on by Stanford, 21 to 7.

If the same thing happens next fall the alumni will be howling for Nibs Price's scalp again.

Husky Hunt coached at Berkeley High before going to Stanford. Berkeley is the feeding ground for California, but Husky took some good athletes to Stanford with him, and was well thought of in undergraduate circles.

But the worm appears to have turned now, and Husky has no more athletes to appease the angry maw.

Pasadena High in Class Meet

Surprisingly good early season performances were registered yesterday afternoon by Pasadena High track athletes in an interclass meet held on the Bulldogs' field. The meet was won by the sophomores, who ran up a total of 50½ points. But 1-6 of a point separated second and third-place classes, the seniors getting second position with 29 1-6 points and the juniors ringing up 29 digits. The freshman athletes scored 24 1-3 points.

100-yard dash—Won by Fitch (Fr.;) Stephens (Soph.,) second; Flint (Srs.,) third. Time, 10 2-5s.

220-yard dash—Won by Fitch (Fr.;) Sands (Soph.,) second; Gregory (Srs.,) third. Time, 23 2-5s.

440-yard dash—Won by Record (Soph.;) Jewel (Jrs.,) second; Slomacker (Srs.,) third. Time, 52 3-5s.

880-yard run—Won by Jewel (Jrs.;) Kramer (Soph.,) second; Mallory (Fr.,) third. Time, 2m. 10 2-5s.

Mile run—Won by Averseld (Srs.;) Pillman (Soph.,) second; Mallory (Fr.,) third. Time, 4m. 54 3-5s.

120-yard high hurdles—Won by Brock (Jrs.;) Sinnette (Soph.,) second; Sands (Soph.,) third. Time, 16 2-5s.

220-yard low hurdles—Won by Strutt (Srs.;) Brock (Jrs.,) second; Sinnette (Soph.,) third. Time, 27 4-5s.

Pole vault—Strutt (Srs.;) Stringfield (Srs.,) and Craig (Fr.,) all tied for first place. Height, 9ft. 9in.

NIEMIC TO JOIN A.A. LOOP

BELLAIRE (O.) Feb. 18. (AP)—John "Butch" Niemic, former Notre Dame halfback, plans to play baseball in the American Association next season, he indicated. Niemic would not say what team he hopes to join.

La Belotte is Border Victor

AGUA CALIENTE (Mex.) Feb. 18.—Helped by the light weight of ninety-five pounds, La Belotte, 3-year-old filly from the stable of Fred Almy, Arizona sportsman, won the purse in the Pomona, an allowance affair for fillies and mares at five and one-half furlongs here this afternoon. The event was the feature of the ladies' day race program.

La Belotte was outrun the first part by Ppoy Field and others, but came very fast when the stretch was reached and mowed down her opposition to win going away. Poppy Field set the pace after Kentie retired, but wide on the stretch turn. He saved the place and Lady Marie got the show. Time for the five and one-half furlong was 1m. 6 2-5s. Results:

First race, five and one-half furlongs—Yucca (Mulroony,) won; Wood Face (Moran,) second; Busy Beth (Redding,) third. Time, 1:07 2-5.

Second race, one and one-sixteenth miles—Enthusiastic (Corbett,) won; Trinket (Romano,) second; Coalescence (Trivett,) third. Time, 1:48.

Third race, three furlongs—My Alice (Luther,) won; Roosevelt (Morrison,) second; Rose Cariaris (Cooper,) third. Time, :35 3-5.

Fourth race, six furlongs—Gee Whiz (Cleverley,) won; Windjammer (Mulroony,) second; Gertrude West (Warren,) third. Time, 1:12 4-5.

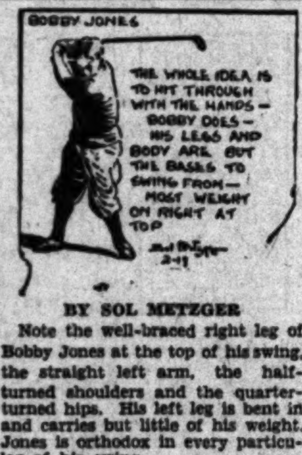
Fifth race, five and one-half furlongs—La Bellotte (Depeso,) won; Poppy Field (O'Brien,) second; Lady Marie (Cannon,) third. Time, 1:06 2-5.

Sixth race, seven furlongs—Subway Tube (Moran,) won; Conciliation (McHugh,) second; Raymond Dale (Greco,) third. Time, 1:26 3-5.

Seventh race, one and one-sixteenth miles—Polly Timber (Greco,) won; Croissantanis (Cleverley,) second; Supervisor (C. Owen,) third. Time, 1:48 1-5.

Eighth race, one and one-sixteenth miles—Will Bank (Redding,) won; Coat O' Mail (Mulrooney,) second; Cudseller (Cannon,) third. Time, 1:48 2-5.

Jones's Golf Swing Perfect



BOBBY JONES
THE WHOLE IDEA IS TO HIT THROUGH WITH THE HANDS—BOBBY DOES—HIS LEGS AND BODY ARE BUT THE BASES TO SWING FROM—MOST WEIGHT ON RIGHT AT TOP
Sol Metzger 2-11

BY SOL METZGER

Note the well-braced right leg of Bobby Jones at the top of his swing, the straight left arm, the half-turned shoulders and the quarter-turned hips. His left leg is bent in and carries but little of his weight. Jones is orthodox in every particular of his swing.

His hands control the club and will do the hitting through from this point, the straight left arm acting as the guide as the club is swung down. Jones arrives at this position in a perfectly natural way. As the left hand pulls the club back the left side is pulled around. Hence the right leg is braced to insure balance. The right hip is also locked. Thus the left side is pulled around while the right leg and hip brace and balance him. No swaying of body.

Concentrate on letting the hands control the swing and the right leg and hip brace to maintain balance for your body. That's the secret of sound golf.

Sol Metzger has prepared a complete analysis of the Pivot with illustrations which will aid any golfer. He will gladly send it to any reader requesting it. Inclose a stamped, addressed envelope.

RUMLER SIGNS 1930 CONTRACT

of the pheasants, with a few appended remarks in which he said that he was confident he would have an even better season for the Sheiks this year. Mr. Rumler not only believes in comebacks but he believes in extending them.

Skipper Oscar Vitt is counting on Rumler to hold down right field for the Sheiks this year and simultaneously make things miserable for opposing Coast League pitchers.

Rumler was dogged by a lot of tough luck in 1929, but he made good in spite of a lot of injuries. The jinx began working on the Milford Mauler as early as the spring training season when he wrenched one of his ankles. Walloping Will was having a tough enough time getting his ancient pins in shape without the handicap of an injured ankle, but he stuck to his guns and was ready for action when the race got under way.

The jinx got in another solid poke on Rumler early in the race when, while the Stars were playing in Seattle, he fell and injured his right shoulder. The injury was a mean one and when Rumler finally got back into the line-up his throwing arm was weaker than the average New Year's resolution. But Walloping Will labored on, his big bat banging in enough runs to more than nullify his poor throwing from the outfield.

Just when Bill thought the jinx had given up in disgust, old man hard luck showed up once more. This occurred during the play-off between the Missions and Hollywood for the Coast League pennant. It was in the fifth game of play-off that Rumler was "beaned" by one of Herb McQuaid's fast ones. Walloping Will was out colder than an Eskimo flapper's no and taken to a hospital.

SHOWED GAMENESS

But did Walloping Will quit? Nell, ho! In fact Rumler left the hospital the next morning and showed up in the Hollywood dugout for the sixth game of the series. The score was tied along about the seventh inning when the Stars rallied and filled the bases. Who did Oscar Vitt summon to the plate to pinch hit but old Will Rumler. And right here old Will proved his gameness by clouting a single to center that gave some 15,000 fans a real thrill and Hollywood the Coast League pennant.

Rumler reports that he has had his throwing arm treated all winter and that he believes the old flipper will be in shape to heave 'em in from the outfield as of yore. Walloping Will figures that he's got the jinx down and out and here's hoping he's right.

Rumler will report for spring training at the Stars' camp in San Diego March 3.

Fairfax Bows to Hollywood

In a meet that produced several very good early season times and distances, Coach Bill Paiges's Hollywood High track-and-field team beat Keith Lloyd's Fairfax Colonials, 65-39, yesterday afternoon on the Foothiller's oval.

Individual honors went to Jack McCarthy, Colonial sprinter, who won both dash events in good time, the hundred in 10 1-5s. and the 220 in 22 3-5s. Joe Danniger, Hollywood sprinter, pressed McCarthy in both races.

SUMMARY

100-yard dash—Won by McCarthy (F.;) Danniger (H.,) second; Levenberg (F.,) third. Time, 10 1-5s.

220-yard dash—Won by McCarthy (F.;) Danniger (H.,) second; Williams (F.,) and Loath (F.,) tied for third. Time, 22 3-5s.

440-yard dash—Won by Oswald (H.;) Chaney (H.,) Coverly (F.,) third. Time, 53 1-5s.

880-yard run—Won by Priester (H.;) Rogan (H.,) second; Iferson (F.,) third. Time, 2m. 2 4-5s.

Mile run—Won by Smith (H.;) Cutler (F.,) second; Whited (F.,) third. Time, 4m. 45s.

120-yard high hurdles—Won by Taylor (F.;) Jones (H.,) second; Mata (F.,) third. Time, 17 4-5s.

220 low hurdles—Won by Green (H.;) Vaccariello (H.,) second; Taylor (F.,) third. Time, 27s.

Relay—Won by Fairfax. Time, 2m. 32 3-5s.

High jump—Tie for first between Pike (H.,) Jones (H.,) and Cooper (H.) Height, 5ft. 8in.

Broad jump—Won by Smith (F.) 21ft.; Phillips (H.) 19ft. 11½in., second; Zabriskey (H.) 19ft. 2in., third.

Shot—Won by Lerner (H.;) Hollinsworth (H.,) second; Johnson (H.,) third. Distance, 37ft. 4in.

BRUINS RESUME CAGE PRACTICE

Westwood Five Takes First Workout in Week

U.C.L.A. Team Meets Trojans Again Saturday

Works Hopes Wilds Can Find Basket "Eye"

BY BRAVEN DYER

After a complete lay-off since the game last week, Caddy Works's U.C.L.A. basketball team will go back to work this evening in preparation for Saturday's final game of the season with the University of Southern California quintet. The contest is scheduled for the Olympic Auditorium.

The Bruins, being less powerfully physically than any of the other three teams in the southern division of the Coast Conference, need plenty of rest, particularly late in the season, and that's why Caddy gave them two days off this week. Workouts tonight and tomorrow will be only very light.

Works is hopeful that Capt. Larry Wilds will close his career by returning to the form he displayed early in the season. Larry has been in a bad slump, getting only one field goal in three games, and U.C.L.A. naturally misses his points.

"Wilds plays a good game in all departments but basket shooting," declared Caddy last night, "but he just can't seem to locate the old bucket. I am hoping that he will be his old self again Saturday night."

Frank Lubin, giant guard, who has been playing great ball for the Bruins, has an alluring hoof which has handicapped him of late. His right pedal extremity has a large lump thereon, where one of his foes inadvertently kicked him.

In the meantime Sam Barry, coach of the title-bound Trojans, has been drilling his players on defensive work. Seems that Sam was somewhat perturbed about the Bruins, has an ailing hoof which team.

"That's enough to win most basketball games," was his comment, "and I don't want it to happen again."

Of course, what happened was this: The Trojans started the game by playing their usual close-guarding game. Right off the bat Johnny Lehners had two personal fouls called on him and two other Trojans were set down. This served to make the players more cautious about their guarding and gave the Bruins more chances to shoot.

But explanations seldom satisfy coaches. Mr. Barry does not want 30 points scored by the Bruins this time and is working with this thought uppermost.

The Bruins would count the season practically a success could they pull the unexpected and slap the Trojans down Saturday night. Should this happen and California beat Stanford again, a play-off game between the Trojans and Bears would be necessary to determine which of the teams is to play Washington for the Coast crown.

Caltech Noses Out Jaysees

Indications that the Los Angeles Junior College will be represented by a very formidable track and field team were given this afternoon when the Caltech varsity athletes were only able to down the fighting Cubs by the slim margin of 74 to 57. The meet was held on the Engineers' oval.

Although the Cubs showed a decided weakness in several events, they also displayed unexpected strength in a number of others.

The most outstanding performances of the day were turned in by Dukes of L.A.J.C., and Skoog of the Engineers. Dukes won the high jump at 5ft. 10½in., and immediately afterward cleared 6ft 1in. without apparently extending himself. Skoog won both the mile and two-mile in fairly good early season times.

The summary:

220-yard dash—Won by Freeman (T.;) Broth (T.,) second; Bevelaqua (L.A.,) third. Time, 22.9s.

880-yard run—Won by Van Beveran (L.A.;) Downs (T.,) second; Klambach (T.,) third. Time, 2m. 5.5s.

Mile run—Won by Skoog (T.;) Ashcraft (L.A.,) second; Clambill (T.,) third. Time, 4m. 48s.

Two-mile run—Won by Skoog (T.;) Smith (T.,) second; Pickerin (T.,) third. Time, 11m. 4s.

Pole vault—Tie for first between Bicke and Jones (T.;) tie for third between Bodin (L.A.) and Crenshaw (T.) Height, 9ft.

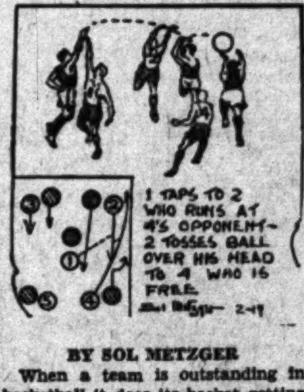
MILLIONAIRES FACE TIGERS TOMORROW

Fulfilling predictions that they would prove as tough late in the season as they were easy during their losing streak, the braced Hollywood Millionaires, led by "Smokey" Harris, take another shot at a common foe in their attempt to get into the California Hockey League play-off when they battle the strong San Francisco Tigers at the Winter Garden Ice Palace tomorrow night. The current campaign is anything but a "lost cause" for the Millionaires, who are imbued with the winning spirit of their veteran manager, Harris, who is visioning a cut of the east-west proceeds. Floyd Carleton, one of the owners of the Garden, is negotiating with eastern teams seeking the east-west shot here and believes that there is a good chance of showing either the Chicago Black Hawks or Boston Bruins, or both, here.

Cagers Speedy to Get Basket



1 TAPS TO 2 WHO RUNS AT 4'S OPPONENT—2 TOSSES BALL OVER HIS HEAD TO 4 WHO IS FREE.
Sol Metzger 2-19

BY SOL METZGER

When a team is outstanding in basketball it does its basket getting in a hurry. That's the idea of this Montana State College five. In many games this season it has pulled this one for a basket almost before you could catch your breath.

As No. 1 jumped to tap the ball to his right, Nos. 2 and 4 ran madly almost at each other, No. 4 swerving to the outside. No. 2 took the tap high and with the dexterity of a palmist tossed the ball backward over his head in the high lob that No. 4 caught on the dead run. No. 4 dribbled to the basket and sank the ball.

It's another legal block affair, as the moves of Nos. 2 and 4 tend to keep No. 4's guard from closely pursuing him.

CUBS, PIRATES ON WAY WEST

will be one of those 10 a.m.-to-4 p.m. affairs with only about an hour out for lunch. Such labor as this will automatically eliminate all diversions except eating and it might be a good thing if a scheme could be devised to also eliminate the latter for those of the fellows who carry on as though each meal was to be their last.

The getaway from Chicago was accomplished without difficulty, but it at least served to prove that the loss of the world series didn't cost the Cubs any of their popularity. Even an hour before the Santa Fe's Navajo pulled out with its cargo, there were about a thousand bugs and bugettes in the depot, all anxious to get one more close-up of the men they have seen innumerable times before. Gabby Hartnett appears to be carrying more meat than an old-fashioned alderman. Gabby, however, has an explanation. He really is down to fighting weight and shakes a loose vest to prove it, but one is impressed by his jowls, which are too heavy by about three pounds.

As for the throwing arm, Gabby says it is better than ever. He isn't going to try to prove it the first day of practice, however. He intends to work up to a regulation throw by easy stages so his real condition will be solved about next Wednesday.

PITTSBURGH ADVANCE GUARD OFF FOR CALIFORNIA

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 18. (AP)—Manager Jewel Ens and the advance guard of the Pittsburgh Pirates left tonight for their training camp in Paso Robles, Cal. The party included Catchers Charley Hargreaves, Ralston Hemsley and Johnny O'Connell; Pitcher Leon Chagnon and Infielder Floyd Young. Others will join the group at points along the way. Max Carey, one-time Pirate outfielder and recently of the Brooklyn Dodgers, joined the Pirates today as a coach.

Mercuries in Clash Friday

The Los Angeles A.C. and Pacific Coast Club basketball quintets will hook up on the former's court Friday evening in a Southern California A.A. game. This contest was first scheduled for Saturday but the date was changed yesterday to give local fans an opportunity to witness both the club battle and the U.S.C.-U.C.L.A. game at the Olympic Auditorium Saturday.

Friday's game at the Mercury gymnasium promises to be one of the features of the A.A.U. season. A victory for the Mercuries will give them eight straight wins in loop competition, thus assuring them the championship for another season.

BRUINS TO COME WEST

VANCOUVER (B. C.) Feb. 18. (AP) The Boston Bruins will play post-season hockey games in Vancouver and California if tentative plans are followed through, Art Ross, manager of the National Hockey League team, announced here today.

Morro Works Out at Ranch

Al Morro went through his usual workout at the Jeffries ranch in Burbank yesterday afternoon and Jeff was the foreman in charge. Morro fights Tony Stabineau Friday night at the Hollywood American Legion stadium and while Jeff thinks Morro should win it will be Stabineau who should enter the ring a favorite. Jeff has picked nothing soft for Morro's first start in fast company. "I'll never be able to tell how good he can fight until I have seen him under fire," said Jeff and that's why Morro gets a tough opponent for his Hollywood bout.

When he was fighting Jeff never got anything soft and he isn't seeking any touches for his fighter. Morro worked with Carmen Tuzzalino yesterday afternoon. Jeff usually boxes with Morro but he didn't don the mitts yesterday.

There probably will be a packed house Friday night. The advance sale indicates as much. The fact that Jeff will be seconding his fighter and that there will be six fights on the card has stimulated interest in the show.

In the semi-wind-up Erwin Bige may be a slight favorite to cop the decision from Dave Jackson. Joe Piminthal, a veteran who has a wallop, will be at least on even terms with Martin Zuniga, young featherweight handled by George Blake. They fight the special.

SOUTH PASADENA WINS

South Pasadena High's varsity basketball team walloped the Muir Tech Terriors, 31-19, yesterday afternoon in the Terriors' gym in a practice game. Mathews of South Pasadena took high-scoring honors with 11 points. Hornbuckle led the Terriors with 6 digits.

BLACKBURNE TO ACT AS BROWNS' COACH

PALMYRA (N. J.) Feb. 18. (AP)—Russell (Lena) Blackburne, former manager of the Chicago White Sox, today made known he had signed a contract to become coach of the St. Louis Browns. He replaces Bill Killefer, who was elevated to the managership.

ZELMA O'NEAL

Schwab, of the producing concern of Schwab and Mandel, is to personally direct "Follow Thru," the sound version of the stage musical which made such a hit in New York, and which closed recently at the Mason here. He arrived yesterday in Hollywood.

Schwab and Mandel, as will be remembered, are now under contract to Paramount, with the agreement that all the many successful productions they have put on the stage are at the disposal of the picture company. Schwab has directed many stage productions.

So far the only members of the cast announced are Nancy Carroll, Zelma O'Neal and Buddy Rogers.

WARNERS PUT NOTED COMPOSER ON STAFF

Amid the flurry among producers to sign up noted composers, Warner Brothers seem to be carrying off the record.

Now, following its capture of Oscar Straus, that enterprising producing company has signed no less famous a writer of musical shows than Jerome Kern, who is coming west just as soon as he can wind up his New York affairs, to write originals for Warners.

Kern, as you doubtless remember, wrote among other things "Sally," "Oh, Boy," "Good Morning, Dearie" and "Show Boat."

Mildred Van Dorn Cast

Tiffany yesterday added another well-known stage and screen name to its roster of players in signing Mildred Van Dorn for the leading feminine role in "The Medicine Man." Jack Benny, who used to hang his hat at M.-G.-M., is playing the featured male part. Scott Pembroke is the director.

Miss Van Dorn is best known on the stage and has taken some fine roles thereon. She has been in Hollywood about six weeks.

Mary Lewis With Pathe

The talents of that very charming and accomplished prima donna, Mary Lewis, are not to be permitted to lie buried, but are to be exploited, as well they should be, in talking pictures.

MARY LEWIS

Miss Lewis has undergone a screen and voice test at Pathe studios, and we understand that it is so good that the very minute a proper story is found for her, she is to be signed by that organization.

The singer, you may recollect, was formerly a Follies girl; but through sheer ambition and talent and hard work she won a place at the Metropolitan Operahouse, where she sang many star operatic roles.

What isn't always remembered is that, before said operatic days, Miss Lewis once came west to star in a couple of Mack Sennett comedies.

Lowell Sherman Busy

If only the idle are wicked, then Lowell Sherman should be the most virtuous of mankind, for he certainly is a busy individual. And his jobs are as diverse as any actor could wish.

Not only is he to play the heavy, as you remember, in R.-K.-O.'s "Hawk Island," but yesterday he signed with Warner Brothers to play the featured comedy role in the musical production, "See Naples and Die," which is to feature Irene Delroy.

Ray Hatton, Too!

The actor of featured roles has just signed for two important roles. Not only will he play an important part in First National's production of "Under Western Skies," but he also has signed for one of the four big roles in R.-K.-O.'s "Hawk Island."

RAYMOND HATTON

The other principal roles in "Hawk Island" will be played by Betty Compson, Hugh Trevor and Lowell Sherman. He will be remembered for his excellent portrayal in "Hell's Heroes."

Isabel Randolph Among Us

Miss Randolph followed Margaret Anglin in a recent revival of "The Woman in Bronze" presented in Milwaukee and other big eastern and midwestern cities. One of her latest triumphs was as the Governor's wife in "The Noose," in the New York production.

Writer With R.-K.-O.

Hugh Herbert, playwright and dramatist, has just been signed by R.-K.-O. to write for that organization. But this isn't all the news. Herbert not only will write, but he also will direct and supervise.

So far no assignment has been dealt to Herbert, but R.-K.-O. expects to have an announcement to make within a week or two.

Joe Cawthorn in "Dixiana"

Now we know it's going to be a success! I mean R.-K.-O.'s "Dixiana." That very clever comedian, Joseph Cawthorn, veteran star of many a stage musical comedy, has been signed to appear in several numbers of the current R.-K.-O. revue.

Luther Reed is directing and there are a number of notable stars in the cast.

Former Mrs. Maude Returns

That charming young actress and musician, Esther Rhodes, who was formerly Mrs. Arthur Maude, but who was recently divorced from that actor-producer while the pair were in England, is back in Hollywood working in pictures.

ESTHER RHODES

Miss Rhodes has just completed a musical short subject at Metropolitan studios, under direction of Robert Bruce, called "Chords of Memory," and to be released by Paramount. In it she plays several harp solos as well as appearing in the leading feminine role.

Two in "Marseillaise"

Universal promises that "La Marseillaise," starring Laura La Plante, which has undergone so many vicissitudes, is in fair way to be finished soon.

In the meantime a number of colorful episodes have been added to the picture, the latest being one for which Stuart Holmes and Evelyn Hall have been engaged, Holmes to play Louis XVI and Miss Hall the role of Marie Antoinette.

MODERNITY EXPRESSED IN DANCE

Kreutzberg, Georgi Offer Splendid Interpretation at Philharmonic

BY ISABEL MORSE JONES

Kreutzberg and Georgi present the essence, the absolute requisites of the dance. Their recital at the Philharmonic Auditorium last night was a revelation of the moving life of today. The Germans have sent us, in these two, the epitome of the youth movement. Kreutzberg and Georgi have ceased being patient with the superficies. Their strides are long and they advance with a glorious certainty.

Unlike other dancers they do not use music as an accompaniment. It is an integral part of their performance. A young composer of 26 presided at the piano and most of the music had been written by him in collaboration with the dancers. It was good music, expressive, dissonant where need be and at all times interesting in itself. The composer's name is Wilckens.

Neither is this dancing pantomime, as the word is used in usual parlance. Gestures were not used to express ideas—these actions were ideas in themselves—not translatable into any other medium. The Kreutzberg and Georgi art has been perfected to this essence of incredible labor. The body is completely subjugated, and when I use the word completely, I mean that the technique lacks nothing. It has been wrought out with German thoroughness and the last line of a finger joint is important to the whole. They move in wide steps, free as wind.

Harald Kreutzberg and Yvonne Georgi are artists from the modernist school of Mary Wigman. Kreutzberg is 25 years of age, and his feminine partner 23. He practiced the art of design before he turned to dancing and he met Georgi in the opera of Hanover where she was premier ballerina. He designs the costumes and they originate their choreography together.

The dances stand out in relief, each with an individuality unique in dance concerts. Milhaud's "In the Twilight" was a movement of fin-like hands which seemed to spread out the light. "Revolte" became a whirling spirit of labor flinging himself against oppression with thrilling abandon. The variations of Mozart were a duo delicately wrought . . . . aristocratic gaiety . . . the ethereal, indescribable beauty of Mozart which only a Kreisler could limn in sound.

"Kassandra" was dark with the great brooding eyes of Georgi, and in the romantic dance scenes of Debussy, I saw the line of this linear Frenchman visualized for the first time. A word should be written about color here for the blending of an ocean green with the subtle browns of earth made the costumes of this Debussy number unforgettable.

When the two danced together, there was perfect synchronization. A Japanese could not have been offended by the faint suggestion of an amour. There were none of the usual embraces of the sentimental ballet but the idea of masculine and feminine interdependence became a modern and inspirational working out of the eternal Hindu symbol, the swastika.

"Three Mad Figures" as danced in three episodes by Kreutzberg was a moving treatise on the psychology of insanity—horrible, realistic and profoundly analytical. The dancer became imprisoned in the terror of a disordered mind. Georgi's detour into this realm was labelled "Spirit of Evil" and it exemplified the indrawing power of wickedness.

A "Persian Song" in expressive colors of plum, chartreuse and rose was perfectly timed in its design. Modern design moves, you know—or if you don't know, watch Kreutzberg and Georgi. The arrogance of Kreutzberg's "Angel of Last Judgment" was melded into fearful accusation and the contrast of Georgi's beautiful blue waltz came in relief. The concert closed with a Russian Dance that precipitated an avalanche of applause. The house was sold out. Another recital is announced for Saturday night.

Noted Actress Will Offer 'To What Red Hell'

"To What Red Hell," a stirring dramatic English play by Percy Robinson, will have its American premiere at a special matinee Friday at the Vine-street Theater. Lucille La Verne is directing and starring in the production.

Miss La Verne has been interested in "To What Red Hell" ever since she saw it at the Wyndom Theater in London, where it has just finished a two-year run, it is said. The role she portrays is the exact antithesis to the one she has been playing in "Sun-Up" for the past seven years.

So that the English drama will in no way interfere with the regular evening performances of "The Nut Farm," the comedy which is playing at the Vine-street, "To What Red Hell" will be presented for one performance only.

"JULIUS CAESAR" TONIGHT

The Boys' Shakespearean Theater of Riis High School will present its second production of "Julius Caesar" tonight. The establishment of a Shakespearean theater by the boys of Riis High School has attracted a good deal of favorable comment from the educators and Shakespearean scholars throughout the State, it is said.

ACTRESS SCORES HIT

Although Josephine Houston, leading lady of "The New Moon," now at the Majestic Theater, had played "bits" in pictures for several months, she was apparently ignored by film producers until her overnight hit in the current Macloon-Albertson musical play suddenly placed her in the ranks of the most eagerly sought stage players.

RITZ BILL CHANGES

Mary Eaton, Rudy Vallee, Eddie Cantor, Irving Berlin and Florence Ziegfeld are the reason for the popularity of Paramount's lavish production, "Glorifying the American Girl," which will be shown on the Ritz Theater screen for two days beginning tonight.

Theater Entertainment Promised

Barbara Kent and Rhea Del Ruth

Enact leading roles, respectively, in "Night Ride," a film coming to the Million Dollar Theater today, and "The Latest Murder," a footlight comedy-drama, starting at the Figueroa Playhouse Friday.

VIOLET HEMING SIGNED

Violet Heming, one of the most noted as well as most beautiful of the younger stars of the stage, is the latest celebrity to sign a contract with the Henry Duffy Players. Miss Heming will be seen as a guest star with the Duffy forces in Rachel Crothers's comedy, "Let Us Be Gay," which will be given its first performance at El Capitan March 2.

Miss Heming is now on her way from New York, where she has been starring this season in "Soldiers and Women." Among the other plays in which she has starred are "This Thing Called Love," "Spring Cleaning," "Sonya" and "Three Faces East." She was Lady Clarissa in the stage production of "Disraeli," with George Arliss, and she has starred in numerous pictures, among them the screen version of "Everywoman."

Rehearsals of "Let Us Be Gay" will start at once under the direction of Edwin H. Curtis. Miss Heming will play Kitty Brown, the young woman who divorces her husband and then finds herself in the position of trying to captivate him again. "Ladies of the Jury" is in the final fortnight of its engagement at El Capitan.

Carthay Circle Preparing for Gala Premiere

The seat sale for the gala premiere of "Happy Days" in Grandeur Film at the Carthay Circle Theater on the 28th inst., starts today. Both studio folk and the general public are showing an increasing preference for balcony seats. In this connection, a Western Electric expert, who is also a theater man, remarks that the modern tendency, since the arrival of sound and wide film, will be to instal balconies in theaters for the gain in acoustical effect.

"I make a prediction on your premiere of Grandeur with 'Happy Days' at the Carthay Circle Theater," declares this official. "You will find that your audience in the balcony will be almost entirely in evening clothes. Grandeur film will be as impressive in its immensity and clarity from the balcony as from the orchestra.

"There will be no more objections from patrons with respect to going up to the balcony and, in fact, many patrons whose vision varies from the normal will find the farthest and highest seats the best in the theater."

Tibetan Dialect May Be Correct in Arliss Film

Even if the dialects of the wild tribes heard in the Vitaphone version of "The Green Goddess," starring George Arliss and opening at Warner Brothers Theater in Hollywood Friday, are incorrect, no one will know the difference, it is said. The language of that strange country, like the people and country itself, is little known and understood in the outside world. And as yet American-made pictures are not exhibited in Tibet.

Lal Chand Mehra, native of India and familiar with many native dialects and languages, admits that all he could teach the extras in the picture is a dialect similar to that supposedly used in Northern India among the lost tribes of the high Himalayas.

Warner Brothers supplied a featured cast to support Mr. Arliss in "The Green Goddess," including H. B. Warner, Alice Joyce, Ralph Forbes, Ivan Simpson, Nigel De Brulier and Betty Boyd. Al Green directed.

Notable Array of Talent on Midnight Bill

An outstanding bill of stars will be presented at Saturday's Hollywood midnight frolic at Grauman's Chinese Theater.

CATHERINE DALE OWEN

Catherine Dale Owen, blond beauty who plays the lead in support of Lawrence Tibbett in "The Rogue Song," will appear on the stage. The Dodge sisters, internationally noted singers, will attempt to capture the audience with their harmonies. Also from the field of picture stars comes Olive Borden, who will offer a dramatic novelty.

Preceding the late show Abe Lyman's Band will play for the dance in the forecourt of the theater.

Gegna Arranges Varied Program

Misha Gegna, Russian 'cellist, who appears tomorrow evening in his own concert-recital at the Philharmonic Auditorium, has arranged the following program:

Sonata	A. Rubenstein
Suite in C Major (For 'cello alone.)	Johann Sebastian Bach
Concerto, Opus 104	A. Dvorak
(a) Prayer (from Jewish Life)	Ernest Bloch
(b) Habanera (for the first time)	Josef Pasternack
(c) Dance of the Elves	D. Popper

Popular Player Has Star Role in Radio Film

Richard Dix will make his bow to Los Angeles audiences as a star for Radio Pictures today when his first picture for that organization, "Seven Keys to Baldpate," starts at the Orpheum Theater.

Long considered among the most popular male stars of the screen, Dix's affiliation with Radio Pictures a short time ago was hailed with pleasure by many, especially when it was announced that his first venture under the new banner would be "Seven Keys to Baldpate," for many years one of the most successful comedies of the stage.

Supporting Dix is an excellent cast of stage and screen players, including Miriam Seegar, Nella Walker, Margaret Livingston, Crauford Kent, Alan Roscoe, Lucien Littlefield, DeWitt Jennings, Joseph Allen, Carleton Macy and Edith Yorke.

"Journey's End" in Fifth Week of Local Run

"Journey's End," R. C. Sherriff's drama of the war, is being enthusiastically received at the Belasco Theater, where it is now in its fifth week. "Journey's End" was written by Mr. Sherriff from old letters that he had sent home while he was serving as a lieutenant in the Surrey Regiment during the war. These letters related actual happenings of the front lines, and sketched the characters of the men who were Mr. Sherriff's companions.

The cast presenting the play here has been recruited from the best of London stage players. To make definitely sure of the cast's ability, Gilbert Miller, the producer, took it to Cardiff, Wales, where it played a successful three weeks' engagement before being brought to the United States.

FILM DRAMA BOOKED AT PARAMOUNT

"Street of Chance" Stars William Powell in Role of Notorious Gambler

"Street of Chance," screen drama, opens at the Paramount Theater tomorrow morning. "Street of Chance" stars the popular actor, William Powell. He is seen as a notorious gambler who fears neither life nor death and lives by a hard, cold law that death must be dealt all those who don't play square.

This production was adapted from an original story by Oliver H. P. Garrett. The plot borders along the mysterious death of Rothstein, notorious New York gambler. Kay Francis, Jean Arthur and Regis Toomey have prominent roles.

Another feature of the new program will be a vocal-organ concert by Milton Charles on "Vagabond King Melodies."

Stars to Take Stage Bows at Loew's State

With the conclusion of his week's engagement at Loew's State tonight, Paul Whiteman will introduce two stars of the music and screen world who will appear on the stage in his honor. They are Johnny Hamp, popular orchestra leader from the Cocoanut Grove, who will appear at only the early show, and Jeanette Loff, appearing with Whiteman in Universal's "The King of Jazz."

As the feature of the new show opening tomorrow, Loew's presents "The Bishop Murder Case," adapted from the mystery novel by S. S. Van Dine. Basil Rathbone and Leila Hyams have the leading roles in the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture, which was directed by Nick Grinde.

Lynn Cowan, master of ceremonies and composer, will preside over the Saturday midnight show. Many other surprise offerings are being prepared.

Screen Marines Continue Fun at Fox Boulevard

"The Cockeyed World," rowdy comedy with the two noted motion-picture marines, Victor McLaglen and Edmund Lowe, continues its popular run at the Boulevard Theater Thursday for one week.

This lively story of the marines ten years after the armistice, is almost a world tour. It opens in Siberia, jumps to New York and then continues on to the tropics, and in each clime the boys have their troubles with the feminine sex. Leila Karnelly is the coy Russian sweetheart, Jean Barry the girl of Coney Island, and Lily Damita the source of heart trouble in the tropics.

"Navy Blues" to Play at Palace

"Navy Blues," M.-G.-M. screen comedy, directed by Clarence Brown, opens a week's run tomorrow at the Fox Palace Theater. Starring William Haines in the role of a sailor who falls in love with a girl he meets at a social. "Navy Blues" depicts the amusing angle of life aboard one of Uncle Sam's men-o'-war.

A LETTER FROM MR. ARLISS

My latest Warner Brothers all-talking Vitaphone production opens an engagement at Warner Brothers Theater in Hollywood next Friday. It is "THE GREEN GODDESS," in which I starred on the stage for a number of seasons in this country and later in London.

In "THE GREEN GODDESS" I plot for a beautiful woman. I portray the role of an Indian Rajah who decides to square the triangle—in this case composed of a young woman, her husband and her lover. I make it a foursome. It becomes a cheery little game involving the death of the other chaps, with an English beauty as the stake.

Many of you were good enough to say you liked me in "DISRAELI" and I really believe you will be just as keen for this picture.

Your humble servant

George Arliss

MINIMUM CHARGE 2 LINES

To estimate the cost of want ads count 5 average words per line. Words containing more than 6 letters should be counted as two words.

Advertisers should retain receipts given by The Times for payment of Want Ads, as no mistakes will be rectified without them.

Cancellation of advertisements before appearance cannot be guaranteed to take effect until after the advertisements have appeared once. Countermands must be received by 2:30 p.m. for daily issue and 6 p.m. Friday for Sunday Times. Cancellation of advertising running cannot be accepted after 4:30 p.m. except as noted above.

Rates for display advertising will be furnished on request.

The Times will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion of any advertisement ordered for more than one time.

The inadvertent omission or incorrect publishing of advertising will be rectified only by cancellation of the charge made for the service rendered.

Friday, 8 p.m., is closing hour for all ads for the early issue of the Sunday Times. Closing hour for the final and complete Sunday Real Estate Ad Section is Saturday, 12 noon. Cancellation of any advertisement running in the Real Estate Section cannot be accepted after this hour.

For Sale —68

FOR SALE—
One of the most productive ranches and located in California's choice citrus section; this ranch is highly improved — comprises nearly five hundred acres, of which 285 are in oranges, about 150 acres grapes (Red Emperors), also 15 acres pomegranates, 7 acres figs, 6 acres walnuts, balance miscellaneous farming land. OWNER'S RESIDENCE is a large ten-room modern two-story house located on a highly improved four-acre plot; also ten modern four and five-room houses for employees; also six houses for rental purposes. Ranch has its own PACKING PLANT fully equipped, LOCATED ON ELECTRIC CARLINE; also office building. New 20-ton public weigh scales, machine shop, air compressors, gas tanks, etc. Ranch is fully equipped with latest farming machinery, property has more than a mile frontage on MAIN PAVED HIGHWAY. WATER CONDITION is the best. There are ten pumping plants and about 70 inches of ditch water which only costs 14 cents an inch and no assessments. Soil tests and GOVERNMENT RECORDS show this property to be well adapted to citrus. This property has always grossed from $60,000 to $70,000 per year, with a LARGE INCREASE due on account of NEW ORANGE PRODUCTION. The entire property is in the very best condition and has a conservative value of $450,000. The property is CLEAR, has no mortgage or other encumbrances. Reason for selling: Other matters are demanding owner's entire time and he has authorized me to offer for sale at the attractive PRICE OF $350,000, on terms to be arranged with responsible party. Property is located near Visalia in Tulare county.

VERBOSE ANGEL SHOWN BY TRIAL

Mrs. Blackburn Testifies to Voluminous Transcript

Celestial Author's Narrative Eight-Year Job, She Says

Malcontent Disciple's Cash Held Gift Without String

May Otis Blackburn, leader of the "Divine Order of the Royal Arms of the Great Eleven," religious sect, yesterday took the witness stand in her own defense in the closing phase of her trial before Superior Judge Fricke and began an explanation of the beliefs of her organization.

Confirming statements of her daughter, Ruth Angeline Wieland, Mrs. Blackburn stated that she received the call to the work from an angel who came to her and her daughter at 355 South Grand avenue, Los Angeles.

From that time on, Mrs. Blackburn said, the angel visited her home at frequent intervals and began dictation of the "Lamb's Book of Life," also sometimes called "The Great Sixth Seal," which still is incomplete.

This dictation continued, according to Mrs. Blackburn, until the manuscript reached such volume that it would require sixteen stenographers six months to transcribe it. Judge Fricke ordered this answer stricken from the record as a conclusion of the witness.

Mrs. Blackburn is charged with grand theft by Clifford Dabney, who accuses her of misappropriating more than $40,000 which he contributed to the organization. Mrs. Blackburn and her followers contend that Dabney gave the money as a free-will offering.

ROBIN HOOD RIDES AGAIN

Outlaw of Open Road Pays for Gas When Hold-up Discloses Penury

Two modern Robin Hoods yesterday afternoon held up Mrs. Emily Enriquez in her gas station at 2347 Brooklyn avenue. They took on three gallons of gasoline and proffered a $20 bill. When she said she hadn't the change the bandits drew revolvers and forced her to open the register.

When only $2.50 was revealed and the woman said it was all she had, the men gruffly announced that they weren't taking chicken feed. From a big roll they paid for their three gallons and drove off.

MRS. GLAB HERE, READY FOR QUIZ

Widow Visitor at Hotel But Police Uninterested in Her Story

Mrs. Hazel Glab, widow of John R. Glab, retired wealthy druggist who was murdered in front of his Ventura Boulevard home in June, 1928, volunteered yesterday to subject herself to police questioning in the investigation now being made. The offer was made to Capt. Cato of the homicide detail by her attorney.

Mrs. Glab, who is in Los Angeles, visited friends at the Alexandria Monday night, but did not register. Her attorney, S. S. Hahn, did not disclose where she is living, but asserted that she was willing to retell her story to either the police or the District Attorney. The willingness of Mrs. Glab to be questioned, however, did not prevent the police from continuing their investigation.

In declining to question the widow, Cato asserted he believed it would be a waste of time at this point of the investigation.

"She would tell the same story she did on the night of the murder," he said. "We are after witnesses who will either refute what Mrs. Glab said, or affirm it. We have sufficient police evidence to ask for a murder complaint in this case and we have asked for one. The District Attorney's office will settle that matter just as soon as we have checked up on some of our evidence and have found one missing witness."

The identity of the "missing witness" was not disclosed, but it was asserted that he has been away from his home for four days.

MUCH MUSIC LISTED FOR AUTO SHOW

U.S.C. Band and Two Glee Clubs Among Features to Be Presented

The seventeenth automobile show which opens Saturday afternoon has developed certainty that it will be the peer of all its predecessors, judging from events which were arranged yesterday by executives of the Los Angeles Motor Car Dealers Association.

Not satisfied with the personal appearances of some of the greatest stars of the screen, the University of Southern California concert band of fifty musicians, the University's Women's Glee Club of forty voices, the Men's Glee Club of equal proportions, the Women's Trojan Trio, the well-known Varsity Four and other delegations of similar importance were contracted to add to the interest of the mechanical stars of motordom. Harold Roberts and his concert band will appear every day at 2 and 8 p.m.

Mary Pickford is busy arranging the schedule for the appearances of the several stars who are assisting her. It is now reasonably certain that John Barrymore will deliver an address Monday and Al Jolson sing a couple of his song successes Tuesday. Other stars also will answer the call issued by Miss Pickford.

Receivership for Farnum

Superior Judge Crawford yesterday appointed a receiver for the holdings of William Farnum, screen actor, to insure payment of $100 a week to Mrs. Olive Ann Farnum, suing for separate maintenance.

Farnum has failed to pay his alimony because, he says, he is out of work.

Mrs. Farnum's petition asserts misconduct of her husband. She asks $2500 a month.
